

Dov Haselkorn

Chief Risk Officer

As Chief Risk Officer, Dov is responsible for independent assurance over LendingClub's risks and operational efficiency opportunities as well as compliance activities.

Prior to joining LendingClub, Dov served as Chief Operational Risk Officer at Capital One with primary responsibility for non-technology operational risks including data, payments, fraud, third party, business resilience, and international operations. He also led their risk and governance functions for generative AI. Prior to that, he served as Chief Model Risk Officer at Capital One, validating and governing the bank's models, and was the accountable executive for data science and chaired their data science council. Prior to Capital One, Dov held various senior management roles at Oliver Wyman, a global professional services firm, as a senior Partner in the Risk & Finance practices, launching multiple new practice areas and chairing the firm's global partnership committee. He has been a long-time author and speaker on risk management topics.

Dov holds a BA in Economics from Princeton University, as well as certificates in Finance and Engineering Management Systems.
