WWW.ECFS.ORG/PROGRAM/SUMMER-PROGRAMS

Fieldston Sports is an action-packed day

program offering a wide range of age-appropriate sports including, but not limited to, soccer, basketball, baseball, softball, flag football, lacrosse, and swimming. We provide campers with a nurturing environment in which they can excel and gain self confidence as they learn the benefits of sportsmanship, teamwork, and leadership through competitive sports. Campers will be grouped by grade. A typical day begins at 9:00 am, when everyone meets in the varsity gym for morning meeting and attendance. The day is arranged into multiple sessions, with an hour and a half for lunch and free play. Each session focuses on a specific sport, with several different sport stations available. The day ends with ice cream or other snacks at 3:30, and campers can be picked up at 4:00. Transportation is available to those living in Manhattan and Riverdale for an additional cost.

PROGRAM DIRECTOR Gus Ornstein

A member of the Fieldston class of 1994, Gus is the athletic director at Fieldston and has also served as the head football coach for the past 10 years. While a student at Fieldston, Gus was an all-state quarterback and all-state first baseman. He played baseball and football for Notre Dame before transferring to Michigan State. In his post-college career, he played for the St. Louis Rams, Indianapolis Colts, Miami Dolphins, Kansas City Chiefs, and the New York Jets. Prior to his time in the NFL, he was drafted by the New York Yankees for whom he played one year of minor league baseball before returning to football.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR JEFF NURENBERG

Jeff has been a physical education teacher at Fieldston since 2007. Since 2000, Jeff was at Camp Wah-Nee in Torrington Connecticut where he worked as a group leader and basketball director. Currently, Jeff is the associate director of the Pound Ridge Day Camp in Pound Ridge, New York. He is Fieldston's middle school soccer, basketball, and softball coach and is the co-director of Fieldston's Sunday Hoops program.

STAFF

Fieldston Sports is committed to providing a safe and well-supervised camp atmosphere. Each of the sports is headed by a sports director, who is a Fieldston varsity coach. Each group is supervised by a group leader, who is a teacher, an assistant teacher, or college student. Each group also has one or more counselor(s) who are high school juniors or seniors. A full-time nurse is on campus during program hours. Swim instructors and certified life guards round out the staff. Many of our staff members are teachers from the Ethical Culture Fieldston School as well as from public and independent schools throughout the metropolitan area.

Percussion

A fun, fully hands-on program designed to strengthen performance skills and master rhythmic concepts on drums and mallet percussion. Classes and small group lessons will focus on rhythmic analyses, technical development, performance skills, setting and meeting personal goals, and composition for percussion ensemble and beyond.

CO-DIRECTOR SCOTT LATZKY

Scott is a professional drummer who considers teaching to be a vital part of his career, and has been on the faculty at the Ethical Culture Fieldston School since 1992, building the program to include SIX percussion ensembles, for which he arranges and conducts. His senior group regularly performs as a drumline at Fieldston sporting events. Scott is a sought after percussionist in a wide range of genres and has been around the world both as a player and a teacher. Most recently he has been studying, performing, and teaching Indian tabla with Pandit Samir Chatterjee, and has brought tabla to Fieldston in the form of a once a week club.

CO-DIRECTOR JIM MOLA

Drummer/educator Jim Mola is on the Artist In Residence faculty at New York City's prestigious music school The Collective. He has accompanied jazz and pop stars such as Tony Bennett and recorded extensively in television, film and commercials. Jim has taught at the University of Bridgeport and travels the country as a clinician. Jim also records extensively as a vocalist and VO artist for clients such as Family Guy, VH1 and Disney/Pixar. His work is featured in the Smithsonian Museum and the Baseball Hall of Fame, and is heard regularly on radio and television.
