

How to make an accomplishment box

Step 1

Get a square tissue box and cover it in construction paper using scissors and tape or glue.

Step 2

Decorate the box using the kit's inspirational cutouts and any other art supplies your child likes.

Step 3

Help your child fill out the "My Accomplishments" sheet, which focuses on four areas: school, activities, social skills, and home. Ask questions to help your child brainstorm:

- What are you proud of?
- What have you improved at the most?
- What shows how hard you've worked?

Step 4

Cut out each accomplishment and put the paper strips in the box. Take time regularly to fill out new strips and reflect on all that your child has accomplished.

My accomplishments

School

Example:

I asked the teacher for help in math.

Activities

Example:

I kept score at the game.

My accomplishments

Social skills

Example:

I helped a classmate figure out the science assignment.

Home

Example:

I set the table without being asked.
