"EQUIPA WORTEN EQUIPA" OFFERS NEW FRIDGES TO REFOOD ESTRELA

Worten is going to hand over new equipment to the Refood Project (Rua de Santana à Lapa, 103) on Thursday 26 June at 10:00. The project reuses left unsold food from restaurants and distributes it to needy families. The initiative is part of Worten's environmental and social responsibility project called "Equipa Worten Equipa".

"Equipa Worten Equipa" is going to donate 10 new fridges to the institution worth roughly €2,700. This equipment is going to help them plug gaps in their day-to-day operations, such as storing perishable food items that can then be distributed to those who need it most.

Refood is a 100% voluntary project run by and for citizens on a micro-level to do away with hunger in urban neighbourhoods. They also want to do away with food wastage and reinforce local community ties.

This support by Worten is part of the "Equipa Worten Equipa" project through which we have distributed thousands of new appliances to over 2,000 charities all over the country since 2009.

Our commitment is to offer €50 in new appliances for every ton of waste electrical and electronic equipment collected by our stores, including any old equipment handed in by our customers to Worten stores.
