ARMADALE - WHERE CITY MEETS COUNTRY

MAKURU 2026 // VOLUME 98

armadale.wa.gov.au

MAYOR'S Message

There's been plenty happening across our City, with a number of community milestones and local projects coming together.

The 50th anniversary of History House Museum was celebrated in April, recognising the role this space has played in preserving and sharing Armadale's story over the decades. The anniversary event brought together more than 160 people and marked not only the Museum's history, but the incredible contribution of volunteers who have supported it from the very beginning. A commemorative book was also launched to capture these stories and ensure they continue to be shared with future generations. The anniversary exhibition will be on display for six months, giving the community an opportunity to experience and reflect on Armadale's history firsthand.

Seeing the community come together to mark the occasion was a reminder of how much people value our shared history and the places that bring it to life.

We've also seen strong community interest in local arts and culture, with events like the Minnawarra Art Awards and the FOCUS Photographic Competition showcasing the creativity and talent within our region. With a total prize pool of $25,000, the Minnawarra Art Awards continue to attract high calibre artists from across Western Australia. Thank you to everyone who entered this year's competitions, and congratulations to all our winners.

At the same time, we continue to invest in the services and facilities that support everyday life in our city. The completion of the Animal Management Facility upgrade is a good example of this. The upgraded facility includes improved spaces designed to reduce stress for animals, including dedicated areas for cats and dogs, as well as enhanced operational areas for our Rangers. These improvements will support better care, safer handling and improved outcomes for animals who come into our care.

Orchard House has recently received Gold Waterwise Building endorsement, recognising the City's ongoing efforts to improve water efficiency and support more sustainable water use within our facilities.

With planting season now underway, we are continuing to invest in our urban canopy and green spaces across the City. As we look ahead, we're focused on how we care for our environment and plan for the future. From tree planting and greening initiatives through to battery recycling and Bushcare programs, there are many ways our community is contributing to a more sustainable Armadale.

This season, we expect to plant approximately 123,000 trees and plants across verges, parks, river reserves and public spaces. Programs such as Habitat Links, Request a Street Tree and our Plants for Residents initiatives also give the community an opportunity to get involved, while projects supporting ecological restoration and local schools continue to expand our urban canopy and improve biodiversity outcomes. Planting now means more shade, cooler neighbourhoods and a healthier environment into the future.

With NAIDOC Week approaching, we look forward to celebrating culture, connection and community, and recognising the importance of this year's theme, 50 Years of Deadly.

There is a lot happening across Armadale, and it's great to have our community getting involved and taking pride in where we live.

Kind regards,

Mayor
Ruth Butterfield

TRANSFORMATIONAL Projects

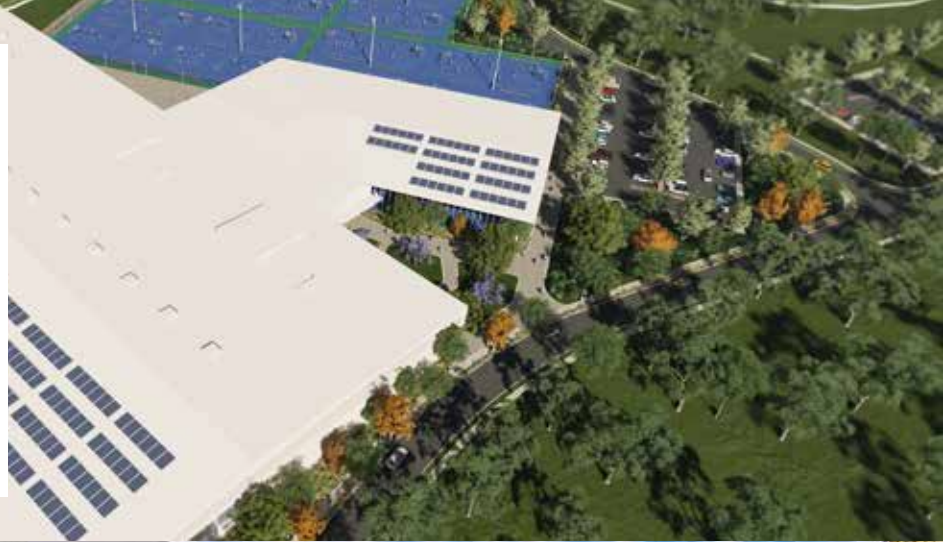

Projects and upgrades are progressing across Armadale, from major public spaces to local facilities and community programs. Together, they support recreation, education, green spaces and growing neighbourhoods. Explore current projects, updates and opportunities to have your say at Engage Armadale or find services and programs on the City of Armadale website.

Hilbert & Haynes

Armadale Regional Recreation Reserve

The Armadale Regional Recreation Reserve is a planned multistage sporting facility to deliver a regional netball and basketball facility, including indoor and outdoor courts, changerooms, storage, and multi-use spaces.

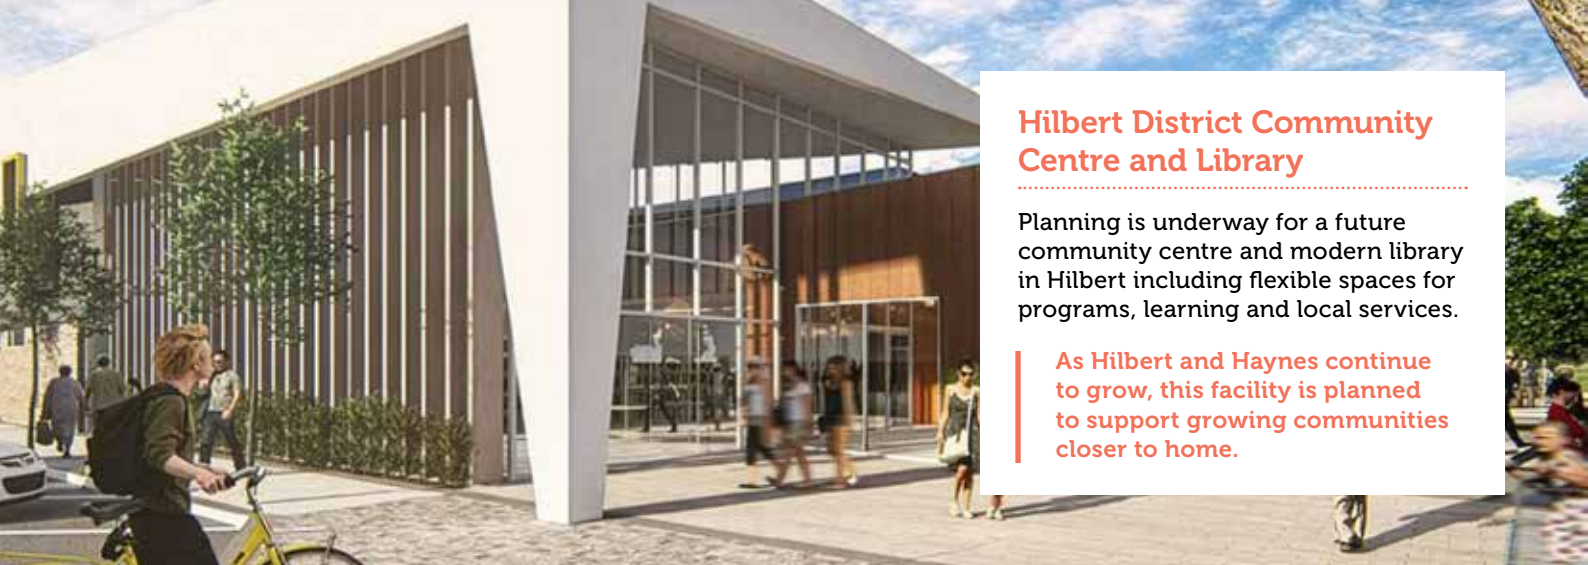

This project aims to provide a central larger-scale recreation facility for local clubs and community sport.

Hilbert District Community Centre and Library

Planning is underway for a future community centre and modern library in Hilbert including flexible spaces for programs, learning and local services.

As Hilbert and Haynes continue to grow, this facility is planned to support growing communities closer to home.

Seville Grove

Morgan Park Redevelopment

Upgrades at Morgan Park include a new junior sport pavilion, inclusive changerooms, storage, lighting and field improvements.

Morgan Park is a key local sporting reserve. These upgrades improve functionality and support inclusivity.

Armadale

Karlung Journey Place

The Central Park project is now taking shape into connected public spaces around the elevated Armadale Station, including Banksia Summit and Cockatoo Creek Parks. Together, these spaces will feature play areas, event lawns, pathways and gathering spaces.

More than just a park, this space will create a new civic heart for events, recreation and everyday community use.

Gwynne Park Redevelopment

Construction will soon commence on a new multi-use pavilion at Gwynne Park, forming part of the broader upgrade of the precinct. Planning continues for future stages of the redevelopment, with expected further upgrades to support both junior and senior sport.

The redevelopment will improve sporting and community facilities, supporting growing demand, accessibility and local clubs.

Wirra Willa Gardens

Improvement works are underway at Wirra Willa Gardens to carefully restore and enhance one of Armadale's most significant heritage garden spaces.

The project strengthens green connections through the city centre and improves community use of the space.

Armada

Armada University Study Hub

A former civic building on Jull Street has transformed into a study hub with study areas, meeting rooms and technology enabled spaces.

It provides a local place to study and connect, reducing the need to travel and helping more people access education within Armadale.

City-wide projects

Champion Centre

The Champion Centre remains a key advocacy priority as an accessible and inclusive service hub, developed with the Aboriginal Development Team, local Elders and partner organisations.

An important local facility with a strong social purpose, providing culturally safe and community-led services.

Community Grants Program

Our Community Grants Program provides funding to local community groups and organisations to deliver projects, events and initiatives across the City.

These grants support practical projects that strengthen local groups, activities and neighbourhood connections (see page 3).

Three years on, the thriving street trees are transforming the neighbourhood, providing shade, greener streets, and long-term benefits for the whole community.

WASTE

HOW TO RECYCLE BATTERIES CORRECTLY

Batteries power so much of our daily lives, from household gadgets to essential tools. But when they're thrown into general waste, they can leak harmful chemicals and are increasingly causing fires in our waste trucks and landfill site. Recycling them helps protect Armadale's beautiful natural surroundings and keeps our workers and community safe.

Battery recycling plays an important role in building a circular economy, a system where materials are reused rather than discarded. Many batteries contain valuable resources like lithium and nickel, which can be recovered and used again in new products. These everyday actions may seem small, but together they create real impact!

Battery recycling drop-off locations:

- ➡ City of Armadale Administration Building
- ➡ Armadale Fitness and Aquatic Centre
- ➡ Armadale Landfill and Recycling Facility
- ➡ Armadale Library
- ➡ Seville Grove Library
- ➡ Kelmscott Library
- ➡ Piara Waters Library.

Scan the QR code to find other battery recycling drop off locations nearest to you, check out the 'Find My Nearest' at recycleright.wa.gov.au

WASTE HIERARCHY AND

circular economy

Switch Your Thinking is launching a new community education campaign designed to help you learn about waste hierarchy and the circular economy.

Funded by the Waste Authority of Western Australia through the WasteSorted Community Education Grant, the campaign focuses on reducing waste, using resources more efficiently and keeping materials in circulation for longer.

The campaign aligns with Western Australia's Waste Avoidance and Resource Recovery Strategy 2030 and aims to support long-term behaviour change through clear, realistic, and practical guidance.

Follow Switch Your Thinking on social media to learn more about the education guides, videos and free online workshops that are coming soon!

STAY SAFE AT HOME WITH LITHIUM-ION BATTERIES

- Use the correct charger for your device
- Charge on a hard, flat surface and never on beds, couches or carpet
- Don't leave devices charging overnight or unattended
- Keep batteries away from heat, including cars and heaters
- Replace batteries that are swollen, damaged or unusually hot
- Buy devices and chargers from reputable suppliers
- Install a smoke alarm in the area where you regularly charge devices
- Never put lithium ion batteries in household bins as they can ignite during waste collection. Take them to a battery recycling point.

RANGER & EMERGENCY SERVICES

THE BLUE BAYS THAT help locals every day

ACROD parking bays play an important role in supporting community members with mobility restrictions to access local shops, services and facilities safely.

We can all play a part by:

-  Only using ACROD bays if you hold a valid permit
-  Keeping shared access zones clear so people using wheelchairs or mobility aids have enough space to safely enter and exit their vehicle
-  Avoiding quick stops, drop-offs or 'just a minute' parking that blocks access for permit holders
-  Remembering that parking illegally in an ACROD bay may result in a $500 penalty.

By staying mindful of how we use these spaces, we help ensure ACROD bays remain available for the people in our City who rely on them every day.

ANIMAL MANAGEMENT FACILITY UPGRADE

improves care and safety

The significant upgrades brought our Animal Management Facility up to current industry standards while improving safety, functionality and day-to-day operations for both City Rangers and the animals being cared for within the facility.

The upgraded facility includes a new purpose-built cat housing area with improved ventilation and backup power, upgraded dog housing designed to support safer handling, new external dog runs, and improved fencing and access controls. Additional works have delivered new undercover walkways, lighting, improved ventilation, air conditioning, landscaping and upgraded concrete and floor finishes across the facility.

The project was delivered in-house, with our Program Delivery team managing works and trades to ensure the project met operational needs and was on time, all while remaining within a tight budget.

Mayor Ruth Butterfield said the improvements make a meaningful difference for both staff and animals.

"Our Rangers work closely with animals every day, often in complex circumstances. The animals can be incredibly frightened, so giving them a comfortable, hygienic, safe space to reside during their stay is very important. Providing a facility that meets community and employee expectations, by supporting safer handling and housing, better conditions and more efficient operations is a great investment."
