

I understand the difference between organic and non-organic farming.

I know the difference between fertilisers and pesticides.

Only fresh fruit and vegetables
can be organic.

Organic food tastes nicer than non-organic food.

Organic food is too expensive and we should buy the cheaper food.

Organic food is better for you and more healthy.

Spraying chemicals onto crops may be harmful to animals and plants that live nearby.

We should use non-organic food because it stays fresher for longer.

What I choose to eat can have an effect on the lives of farmers and people in other countries.

Spraying chemicals on to non-organic crops is fine if it means we get better products.

Food that has travelled a long distance to reach my plate may be more harmful to the environment.

It is impossible to buy organic food in the supermarket.
