

Meet Mark Fox

Mark Fox is a business entrepreneur and technology expert. He is a founding partner in several national organizations wherein he focuses on innovative technological and business solutions for the organizations and their clients. His companies have received several awards over the past 15 years including “Canada’s Top 100 Best Workplaces.” Mark holds numerous technical certifications as well as a BA in applied arts and a diploma in international business.

Mark and his family have been fostering with the HSKWSP for several years and are proud parents of two “foster fails.” He is a lifelong learner and spends much of his free time exploring new areas of interest and updating his skills. Mark is also a passionate SCUBA diver instructor, and has visited over 50 countries around the world while learning about new cultures and promoting ocean, reef, and wildlife preservation.

Quote:

“I am looking forward to expanding my involvement with the KWSPHS by joining the organization’s board of directors. Having the opportunity to contribute to the Humane Society and the people within the community is a real privilege and a great learning experience that I’m looking forward to.”
