Fisetin

Fisetin, a flavanol that comes from plants or plant-based food, is an example of a flavanol. Some foods that may contain it are onions, grapes berries tomatoes and lettuce. These flavanols contain antioxidants that can reduce the amount of free radicals in the body.

Fisetin has multiple therapeutic and medical benefits. It reduces inflammation which is beneficial to consumers who are undergoing chemotherapy. Fisetin helps to inhibit angiogenesis and can reduce the risk for malignancies in consumers.

Luteolin

Luteolin, which is a flavonoid found in celery, broccoli, pepper and thyme is an antioxidant. It has been shown to have neuroprotective properties when taken as a supplement, but it can also reduce the severity and risk of multiple sclerosis. It has been shown to reduce cancer risk, but it can also affect progesterone levels.

This ingredient is being studied for its potential benefits.

Monolaurin

Monolaurin helps consumers prevent the common cold and flu. Monolaurin helps consumers to boost their immune system and treat chronic fatigue syndrome.

Monolaurin is a combination of lauric and glycerol. You can find it in pharmacies as a daily supplement.

Oregano Leaf Extract

Oregano leaf extract provides many antioxidants that help to eliminate unwanted free radicals. It reduces the risk of sickness by fighting against bacteria accumulation. This supplement is so powerful and potent that it reduces the risk of developing cancer. This ingredient will not only reduce the likelihood of viral infections, but also inflammation.

Oregano is used in many recipes to add flavor. But it also helps the body heal wounds and parasitic infection. Oregano's benefits need to be validated by more scientific research.

Grape Seed Extract

Grape seed extract can help lower blood pressure and improve blood circulation. It can be used to improve the amount of collagen in the body, and reduce oxidative damages. It's also important for bone strength, and it can support the brain when it grows and ages.

Grape seed extract can help consumers control their kidney function. This extract contains compounds that inhibit the growth of bacteria. The effect can be so powerful that regular consumption may reduce cancer risk.

Saw Palmetto Fruit Extract Powder

Saw Palmetto Fruit Powder is included in many remedies to reduce hair loss. However, it has numerous other benefits. Saw palmetto may improve urinary tract health and prostate health for older men. The Serenoa Repens tree is the source of this ingredient. It takes around six weeks for it to have a significant effect.

Saw palmetto has few side effects, mainly because it is easy on the human body. Saw palmetto may cause high blood pressure, nausea and decreased sexual drive.

ViNitrox

ViNitrox, a patented substance, is used primarily to aid in athletic training. It helps to maintain the physical abilities of the body, so that users don't get tired while doing different physical exercises. It promotes better endurance and vascularity, and can boost both mental and physical energy. It's a health booster and stimulates hormone production. The hormones produced by the product help consumers maintain their sexual drive and vascularity.

ViNitrox can be used by consumers to reduce their risk of blood clots and reduce the effects of oxidative damage throughout the body.

Muira Puama Extract

The extract of Muira Puama is used to treat sexual disorders. It helps healthy individuals revive their libido. It is used to treat menstrual problems and as a natural aphrodisiac. It can be used by consumers to soothe their upset stomachs, as well as to deal with anxiety and stress.

Consumers often use this extract to treat different types of fatigue, based on the findings from preliminary research. Although more human trials are underway, it is a product that has been used for centuries in the Amazon because of its medicinal properties. It is sometimes used to improve memory, calm the nervous system and improve joint health.

Tricalcium Phosphate

Tricalcium Phosphate, which contains no calcium, is used to treat calcium deficiency. It is used to improve the calcium content of processed foods. It also helps with bone and mineral regrowth.

Tricalcium Phosphate can be used to treat low blood calcium naturally when consumed. It is also useful for parathyroid disorders, osteoporosis and other bone problems. It is used in dental and maxillofacial surgery because it has a positive effect on the teeth. This ingredient is a concentrated form of calcium. Consumers should not use more than recommended to avoid hypercalcemia.

Peppermint Leaf Extract Powder

Peppermint leaf powder is calming for the mind and body. It reduces skin irritation and relieves nausea. It improves digestion and reduces the likelihood of cramps, diarrhea and menstrual pain. It is also used to relieve anxiety and depression because of its effect on the brain. It often promotes higher energy levels, while reducing mental and physical fatigue. It improves blood circulation and eases pain.

Peppermint's soothing effects are sometimes used to numb the pain. It is used to treat colds and is therefore often found in chest rubs.

Sucralose

FlowForce Max contains no calories. The body will not release insulin, so the blood sugar level of the user won't be affected. This remedy can be used to stabilize any food or drink, but it is easier with this ingredient. The FDA has approved this ingredient, which makes it completely safe for diabetics.

Magnesium Stearate powder

Magnesium Stearate powder helps to improve the consistency and quality of the medicine. It slows down the absorption of ingredients, giving them lasting effects. The remedy is made up of magnesium and stearic acids. This powder is safe and does not cause any side effects.

Silk Protein Powder

Silk Protein Powder can be found in many topical skincare products. It improves the look of the skin and eliminates excess oil. It reduces the size of pores without clogging them. This formula, however, is not meant to be applied directly to the skin. Oral consumption of silk powder gives consumers more protein for strong muscles and fullness.

Silk protein is vegan only, and that is why it has become so popular. It is a good source of calcium, several vitamins, and it promotes hair growth. The silkworm cocoon is the source of this product, which enhances the hydration levels in the skin as well as the rest the body.

Perilla Leaf Extract

Perilla Leaf Extract has been part of Chinese traditional medicine for centuries and is used to treat many ailments. You can add it to your food as a garnish. Some research has shown that it is effective in preventing food poisoning. It is rich in antioxidants, which reduce the risk of allergic reaction, inflammation, depression and more. It promotes the health of your gastrointestinal system and ensures proper digestion. The right concentration can improve skin health and reduce the risk of cancerous sores, among other conditions.

Perilla oil, according to the National Institutes of Health reduces asthmatic symptoms and prevents blood clotting. Perilla oil also helps improve heart health, reduces bloating and flatulence and many other symptoms. It is also a great source of omega-3 fats.
