Cavities and other serious dental problems are usually treated by a dentist. How does Cavityn actually work? What is the purpose of Cavityn?

Cavityn promotes dental stem cell activity. It stimulates your dental cells to become more active when it comes to rebuilding and regeneration teeth. It is important to encourage your dental stem cells to create a dense “mineral matrix” within your teeth. This will protect your teeth from future oral health issues.

Cavityn is easy to use. Simply take one dropperful of the liquid formula every day and swish the active ingredients in your mouth. According to the official site, users have seen visible results in a week. They also noticed a significant change within a month.

Who Created Cavityn?

Cavityn is a supplement created by Dr. Dean Davis, a world-renowned stomatologist. He worked with Michael Bailey, a married father of 45 years old.

Michael had a lifetime of serious oral health issues. Dr. Davis treated them with an early vision.

After Dr. Davis' successful treatment, Michael and Dr. Davis teamed up with a US manufacturer to develop Cavityn.

Michael had a history of oral health problems before he took Cavityn

Michael Bailey, the co-creator and creator of Cavityn had a lifelong problem with his oral health before taking Dr. Davis Cavityn.

Michael is from Indiana. He describes himself as a "regular guy" who grew in a family with a history of dental problems.

Michael flossed and brushed his teeth every day as a child. He flossed and brushed for three minutes every day, hoping to avoid dental problems as his family did.

Michael suffered bullying for his dental problems in elementary school and college, despite his best efforts. He was called "snaggletooth Mike" and "trash-breath Mike".

Michael's dental problems were so severe that he had difficulty finding and keeping a job. He was rejected from an internship due to his bad breath. One interviewer also dismissed him outright because "appearance is important" in this position.

Michael's dental problems reached a peak at the seventh birthday of his daughter. Michael's daughter requested that he blow out the candle. Michael's daughter asked him to blow out the candles. It ruined the birthday of his daughter.

Michael, who had severe oral problems, decided to look for natural remedies.

Michael was scared of dentists before using Cavityn

Michael, despite suffering from bad breath and severe dental problems, avoided going to the dentist.

He says that his family did not prioritize dental visits, despite the fact that there was a history of oral problems in his family.

Michael continued to avoid the dentist as he aged, stating, "I am afraid of dentists."

Michael is not a fan of the way dentists deal with problems. Michael describes the way dentists solve problems as "primitive". He dislikes the drilling, needles and poking and prodding.

Michael's fears came true when he went to the dentist. The dentist said that he had to have "all of my teeth extracted and replaced with dental implants" and also informed him that his oral problems were so serious, he was going need laser therapy on his gums every week for the rest of his life.

Michael began researching natural remedies to treat his dental problems, despite the advice of his dentist. He met a dentist who was willing to work with Michael.

Renowned Dentist Dr. Dean Davis Helps Create Cavityn

Michael's quest for a cure led him to Dr. Dean Davis.

Dr. Davis is both a dentist, and a stomatologist. He specializes in treating advanced periodontal diseases. He won the International Dental Excellence Award. The "Davis Matrix Theory", a theory of oral health, was also named in honor of Dr. Davis.

Michael's state of oral health shocked Dr. Davis. Dr. Davis, unlike other dentists however, did not recommend that Michael have his teeth removed or undergo other invasive procedures.

Michael was told by Dr. Davis to take a blend of natural ingredients that would help him quickly resolve his dental health issues.

Cavityn is based on the Power of Limpets

Cavityn was inspired by the small and unassuming marine animals called limpets.

Limpets, which are similar to clams and cling on rocks along the coast.

Why are limpets so important? The teeth of limpets are some of the strongest materials found in nature. These teeth are stronger than spidersilk, which allows the limpets thrive and survive in harsh conditions.

Dr. Davis' wife, who is a marine scientist, discovered that the secret of limpet tooth strength was a mineral matrix composite.

The teeth of the limpet are made up of a mixture of minerals which gives them high resistance, even when they scrape against rocks.

Dr. Davis hypothesized that stem cells could be used to regrow gums and teeth using the same mineral matrix. He assembled a group consisting of "top dental specialists, microbiologists and biochemists", with the aim of isolating and incorporating the compounds found in limpet's teeth into an oral supplement.

Cavityn Ingredients

Dr. Davis' team of experts has identified several compounds that are linked to dental health, tooth and gum strength and other benefits.

These ingredients have their origins in the teeth of limpets. Other ingredients have shown to be effective in protecting teeth.

Cavityn contains the following active ingredients and their functions:

The effects of xylitol on dental cavities are found in many oral care supplements. According to research, xylitol can "merge with dental stem cell" and jumpstart the rebuilding of your teeth. This sweetener can do more than sweeten your mouth. It can protect your teeth. Dr. Davis' team calls xylitol "the bane" of cavities because it promotes remineralization in your teeth.

Lactobacillus Salivarius Dr. Davis included Lactobacillus Salivarius in his formula. You can also find probiotic bacteria in your saliva. Your saliva contains billions of probiotics that begin to digest food as soon as you swallow it. Dr. Davis calls L. salivarius the "oral protector" because it creates an "optimal dental environment". Probiotics are essential for healthy dental growth and can help your teeth and gums regenerate, strengthen and freshen your breath.

Eucalyptus Eucalyptus is a natural antimicrobial that adds a pleasant fragrance to the formula, while also having active effects. Eucalyptus is known for its antimicrobial properties, which have been used in traditional medicine since years. It contains a component known as eucalyptus, which bonds with dental stem cell and triggers remineralization. According to Dr. Davis the eucalyptus found in Cavityn is able to "make teeth as formidable and strong as the famous limpet teeth" by fighting bacteria.

Vitamin C: The antioxidant vitamin C can be found in certain fruits, vegetables and herbs. It is a vital part of a healthful diet. Dr. Davis included vitamin C in the formula because of its "collagen catalyzer" effects. He called it "a game changer" for healthy teeth and gums. Vitamin C is known to work with dental stem cell production of collagen. Collagen is essential for the health of your teeth and gums. Your dental pulp matrix contains a lot of collagen. You can make this matrix stronger by promoting collagen. This will help your teeth to shine.

White & Green Tea Extract: White and green tea extracts contain natural antioxidants that help to protect your teeth. Green tea is full of catechins, such as epigallocatechin galate (EGCG), that have been proven to encourage healthy inflammation in the body. Dr. Davis included green and white tea to his formula as they act as an "oxidative barrier" for your teeth. Green and white tea, derived from the Camellia Sinlessness Plan, contain molecules that neutralize free radicals which cause oxidation. inflammation). Applying green or white tea extract directly on your teeth and gums will protect them from oxidative stress.

Aloe Vera Juice Aloe Vera juice is used in traditional medicine to treat antibacterial problems. Many people today rinse their mouths using aloe vera to benefit from its natural antibacterial properties. When your mouth is overloaded by harmful bacteria, you are more likely to get sick and develop tooth decay. According to Dr. Davis, aloe vera also "envelopes dental stem cell in a nurturing embrace", creating the perfect environment for stem cells to flourish.

Curcuminoids: The curcuminoids in turmeric extract are natural antioxidant molecules, such as curcuminoids. This includes well-known curcuminoids such as curcumin. Dr. Davis included turmeric in the formula as it is "a sentinel for inflammation", helping your dental stem cell to remain at peak condition.

Capacities: Calcium Phosphate helps your body to convert dental stem cells into dentin and enamel, strengthening your teeth. Calcium phosphate could help your teeth to resemble the mineralized structure found in limpets' teeth.

Xanthan Gum: Xanthan gum is not an active ingredient and does not directly affect teeth or gums. It helps ensure that the formula is effective by holding together the active ingredients and helping them to reach their destination in your mouth.

Extract of Monk Fruit: The extract of monk fruit is an alternative sweetener to sugar. Cavityn is made easier to swallow by adding a sweet taste to it.

Mint The last ingredient in Cavityn, mint. The formula contains a subtle mint flavor that helps to freshen breath and adds to the pleasant taste.

Michael Bailey's Experience: What to expect after taking Cavityn

Michael Bailey was given Cavityn by Dr. Davis to test the effects.

Michael seemed to have advanced periodontal disease. He claimed to have bad breath, cavities-ridden teeth and loose gums among other serious oral problems.

Michael Bailey's first experience with Dr. Davis Cavityn:

Michael noticed subtle changes after taking Cavityn. Cavityn reduced the redness and inflammation of his gums. His gums were also less sensitive.

Davis carefully examined his oral cavity every day and sent Dr. Davis before-and after photos for review.

After two weeks of taking Cavityn, Michael's bleeding had "dramatically reduced." He no longer spit out toothpaste mixed with blood, but instead spit out saliva. His gums looked "healthy and pale pink."

Michael's teeth were "always yellowish" and covered in plaque before taking Cavityn. Cavityn brightened his teeth and made the surfaces feel smoother.

Michael's teeth "looked healthier" and "felt more powerful" after taking Cavityn three weeks .

Michael had wobbly, shaky teeth before taking Cavityn. After three weeks of taking Cavityn, Michael's teeth were "noticeably stronger" and he no longer felt nervous when eating.

Michael says that after taking Cavityn for a month his "entire smile felt rejuvenated." His mouth was "truly healthy" for the first or second time in his life.

Dr. Davis and Michael were motivated by Michael's success to launch the Cavityn supplement to the world.

Cavityns: Scientific Evidence

Cavityn's official website is full of testimonials from people who took Cavityn and were able to eliminate bad breath, fix crooked or inflamed teeth, and even correct crooked gums. Does the supplement have any scientific basis? Does Cavityn work?

Cavityn was created by Dr. Dean Davis, a dentist who has won numerous awards. Dr. Davis is a specialist in periodontal and stomatology. Dr. Davis used years of formal training and his experience treating patients to determine the best ingredients for oral care. Cavityn has more medical backing than many oral health supplements available online, many of which are created by marketing teams without formal medical training.

The most effective ingredient in Cavityn is green tea. In a 2012 Study, published in the Journal of Indian Society of Periodontology, green tea was found to promote periodontal health. Researchers discovered that green tea contains "health-promoting" flavonoids like catechins. These catechins have antioxidant effects in the body and lower inflammation. Researchers found evidence that green tea promotes periodontal wellness by reducing inflammation and preventing bone loss. It also fights bacteria associated with periodontal diseases.

Aloe Vera is linked to similar results. In a 2015 Study published by the Journal of Pharmacy & BioAllied Sciences the researchers concluded that the natural vitamins and mineral in aloe had "immunomodulatory and antiviral" effects which could have a "significant role in dentistry".

Turmeric has been shown to be beneficial for both inflammation and general health. In some studies, turmeric was shown to be beneficial for oral health. Researchers found that turmeric has anti-inflammatory, antioxidant, antimicrobial and hepatoprotective properties.

Probiotics are also important for oral health. Probiotics can also be found in saliva. As soon as you begin eating, they start working to help break down food and extract the nutritional value. In a 2010 Study, published in the European Journal of Dentistry, probiotics were found to promote oral health. This was especially true for probiotics from the Lactobacilli or Bifidobacteri family.

Cavityn contains a variety of ingredients that have been proven to improve oral health. There's no evidence that the supplement can straighten teeth or fill in cavities, but it may promote healthy inflammation and resolve minor oral issues.

Cavityn Reviews - What do customers say?

Cavityn's official website is full of testimonials from people who have experienced dramatic benefits after using the product for the first.

Cavityn has been used by others to solve serious gum and tooth problems.

On the official website, you can find some testimonials of verified buyers.

Cavityn is credited with saving a man "thousands of dollars" and giving him healthy teeth. He had thousands of dollars spent on tooth extractions, gum surgery, and root canals over the years. But his oral issues continued to return. Cavityn helped him "resolve" all of his oral issues, saving both his smile and wallet.

A second man says he had "constant tooth pain" prior to taking Cavityn. The pain was so bad that he couldn't even drink coffee or eat any ice cream. Cavityn has made him feel better than ever.

One customer described his results as "astonishing" since the supplement improved his receding gingiva. Cavityn reduced his discomfort and sensitivity, so he could eat pain-free.

Cavityn was described by another user as "like a miracle" in resolving dental issues. Cavityn has helped her stop waking up with bad breath. Cavityn also helped her to get rid of her bad breath throughout the day.

Cavityn was claimed by one man to have helped him "escape from his gum problems".

Some people were skeptical that Cavityn could work, after having been disappointed with other natural oral care solutions. Cavityn was a success for this man, who noticed that his teeth were brighter and his pockets of gums were healing.
