Key Ingredients In Clear Nails Max

Here are some of the ingredients that make Clear Nails Max so effective.

Bacillus Subtilis

Bacillus Subtilis uses a variety of mechanisms at the molecular scale to maintain nail health. The production of antimicrobial substances, like bacitracin or subtilin, is a core mechanism.

These compounds have potent antimicrobial properties, which effectively inhibit the growth of harmful bacteria that can cause nail infections. Bacillus Subtilis does this by attacking the cell membranes of pathogens. This disrupts their integrity, and eventually causes their death.

Lactobacillus Plantarum

Lactobacillus Plantarum can promote immune function by stimulating immune cell production and increasing their activity. It activates different immune components, including natural killer cells and macrophages, which are responsible to identify and eliminate harmful pathogens.

In a study that was published in the Journal of Applied Microbiology, researchers evaluated the effectiveness of Lactobacillus plantarum to prevent nail fungus.

The study showed that after three months of supplementation the rate of recurrence of harmful nail fungus decreased by 60% in the Lactobacillus Plantarum groups, while only 10% was seen in the placebo groups. These results demonstrate that Lactobacillus Plantarum is effective in preventing nail-fungus problems.

Lactobacillus Rhamnosus

Lactobacillus Rhamnosus's ability to restore a healthy balance in the gut bacteria is what makes it so effective for nails and gut health.

This bacterium creates lactic acid which creates a acidic environment within the gut, inhibiting the growth of harmful bacteria. Lactobacillus reduces the harmful bacteria in the gut, which promotes a healthy microbiome. This has been linked with various health benefits.

A study was conducted to examine the effects of Lactobacillus Rhamnosus on gut health and nail health.

Participants with nail fungal infection and gastrointestinal problems were included in this study.

The study found that nail health improved by 45% and fungal infections were reduced by 60%.

The improvement in nail infections was attributed to Lactobacillus.
