INVIGORISE SUPPLEMENT: OFFICIAL WEBSITE

Men of all ages can supposedly optimize their libido and support healthy testosterone levels by taking two InvigoRise capsules daily.

In our InvigoRise review, we will tell you everything that you need to understand about the formula and how it works.

What is InvigoRise?

InvigoRise, a nutritional product, is a combination of herbs, plant extracts, vitamins, minerals and nutrients that promote male performance.

This supplement is marketed primarily to men who wish to recapture their youthful vitality. As men get older, testosterone levels drop. As testosterone is the main male sex hormonal, declining testosterone levels can lead to unwanted effects, such as low sex desire, increased body fat and ED.

Men can supposedly boost testosterone by taking InvigoRise twice daily. The formula claims to also target nitric oxygen (for blood flow), and dopamine for mood and focus, as well as other areas of male wellness.

InvigoRise can only be purchased through TryInvigoRise.com. It is priced at $59 a bottle, and comes with a 60-day guarantee.

InvigoRise Benefits

According to its official website, InvigoRise offers a number of benefits, including:

- Support testosterone as the main male hormone
- Optimize libido

- All-in one male vitality solution
- Blend of natural ingredients including plant and herbal extracts
- Transparent ingredients, dosages and no proprietary formulas
- Guaranteed 100% satisfaction for 180 days

What is InvigoRise?

InvigoRise is a combination of L-arginine and L-arginine with maca, horny goat weed, saw Palmetto.

InvigoRise contains ingredients that are specifically designed to increase libido. Some ingredients help to increase testosterone, while others improve blood flow.

InvigoRise's primary objective is to increase the levels of three natural chemicals in male bodies, namely:

- Support testosterone as the primary hormone of male sexuality.
- Support Nitric Oxide the vasodilator molecules linked to increased blood flow and stronger erections.
- Support Dopamine - a neurotransmitter that is linked to motivation, mood and focus.

InvigoRise's natural ingredients are quickly absorbed by the body when taken in two capsules daily. Plant extracts such as horny goat weed and Tribulus terrestris can increase libido. Saw palmetto and Tribulus Terrestris are also linked to testosterone. Ginseng is used in East Asian traditional medicine to boost energy and mood. Other ingredients help with dopamine, emotional balance and other issues.

InvigoRise's makers claim that they have also "gone one step beyond to carefully balance" all the ingredients, helping maximize active effects and minimize any side effects.

InvigoRise Ingredients

InvigoRise is a plant-based blend that contains amino acids, plant and herb extracts as well as other ingredients.

According to the manufacturer, here are the active ingredients of InvigoRise.

Maca (125mg):

InvigoRise's main ingredient is Maca, an extract of the root from South America. Maca is a root extract that has been used by indigenous groups in South America for centuries as a natural libido and energy booster. It is still popular today in the supplement market for its purported effects of fertility, male vitality and testosterone.

Horny Goatweed (50mg).

Horny Goat Weed is a well-known libido enhancer in the supplement market. It can boost sex desire, improve ED and increase overall vitality, according to studies. Horny goat-weed is found in libido boost supplements for men and women. The natural molecules in horny goat-weed (including the icariin) can promote libido. InvigoRise's makers claim that horny goat weed can "boost sexual function" and increase libido.

Eurycoma Longifolia (50mg):

Eurycoma Longifolia is also known as Tongkat Ali, and it has aphrodisiac properties. It has been used for centuries to boost sexual performance, increase muscle growth and support testosterone. Tongkat ali can be found in many testosterone boosters, and men often take it every day to boost testosterone.

Saw Palmetto (50mg):

Saw Palmetto, like Tongkat Ali is known for being a natural booster of testosterone. This berry extract is linked to prostate health and male hormone balance. It also helps with urinary control and sexual function. Some studies indicate that palmetto increases testosterone significantly in men compared to a placebo, although other studies are less conclusive. Many men still take saw palmetto every day for its purported testosterone-boosting effects.

Tribulus Terrestris (15mg):

Tribulus Terrestris has become one of the most popular herbs used in natural supplements. Some men use it daily to improve their sexual health, testosterone levels, and male vitality. The makers of InvigoRise added it to the formula "for its testosterone-boosting properties," claiming the ingredient can also target muscle strength, athletic performance, and libido, among other areas.

L-Arginine (10mg):

L-arginine, is an amino-acid. Arginine, like other amino acids is a protein building block and plays many roles in the body. In InvigoRise arginine is said to "stimulate the production of Nitric Oxide," a molecule associated with blood flow. The body produces nitric dioxide (NO) in order to widen the blood vessels and improve blood flow. L-arginine is taken by some as a preworkout to increase vascularity. Some take L-arginine to get stronger, longer lasting erections.

Muira Puama (10mg):

Since centuries, Muira Puama is used in South American traditional medicine. It is sometimes referred to as "Amazonian Viagra", due to its effect on ED. The plant's name is "potency wood," which translates as "wood of potency." Multiple studies have shown that the plant can impact sexual function.

Polypodium Vulgare 10mg

InvigoRise contains many of the same ingredients as other male vitality and sexual health formulas. Polypodium villosum, is a unique option. This evergreen plant is native to Africa, Europe and Asia. InvigoRise's makers added the fern because "it was traditionally used to support hormone balance and enhance sexual functions."

Panax Ginseng 10mg:

Ginseng has been used for centuries in traditional Chinese medicine and Korean medicine. It is an adaptogen which helps the body to respond to stressors. Stressors are constantly bombarding your body, which can affect hormone balance, lower sexual drive, and worsen cognitive and physical health. You can target stress, mental clarity and energy by taking ginseng every day.

This will help you improve your performance "in the bedroom as well as the boardroom".

InvigoRise also contains brown rice flour (as well as gelatin), microcrystalline cellulose and silicon dioxide. Gelatin, which is typically made from beef or porcine, is not vegan. All other ingredients, except for gelatin, are vegan.

What to expect after taking InvigoRise

InvigoRise targets men of any age who are looking to improve their sexual performance, boost their libido and increase sex desire.

These results are a result of boosting testosterone levels and increasing blood flow. For example, boosting testosterone can increase sexual drive while promoting blood circulation can make it easier for you to get an erection.

According to the manufacturer, here are some results that you may experience after taking InvigoRise:

Improve Testosterone: Testosterone, the main male hormone for sex, is what InvigoRise aims to do. It is sold primarily to men who are looking to increase their testosterone levels. InvigoRise is marketed to men who want to "support healthy levels of testosterone". As men age, testosterone levels drop. The decline in testosterone can lead to a lower libido and worse ED. It also leads to higher body fat levels, lower energy and lower libido. InvigoRise is a supplement that supports testosterone and boosts male energy.

Increase Blood Flow: Certain ingredients in InvigoRis target nitric dioxide, a molecule associated with blood flow. Nitric oxide makes blood vessels wider, allowing blood to flow easier throughout the body. InvigoRise is said to promote healthy blood pressure and improve erections by taking two capsules daily. Some men use NO boosters to improve cardiovascular health. Others take it to treat ED or for overall sexual health.

Increase Sex drive: According to the manufacturer, InvigoRise increases sex desire. When testosterone levels fall, libido tends to also drop. This makes it difficult to be excited about sex. InvigoRise supports healthy testosterone levels, which can increase sex desire. Since testosterone is the main male sex hormonal, increasing testosterone can have a rapid impact on sex desire.

Increase Energy and Vitality: The role of testosterone in male energy and vitality is not limited to libido. Low testosterone levels can lead to a lower level of energy and vitality. InvigoRis contains ingredients such as ginseng, which have been used for centuries in traditional medicine worldwide to boost energy.

Weight Loss Support: Low Testosterone can cause increased body fat. Men tend to lose muscle mass as they age due to testosterone loss. Your body will burn fewer calories when at rest as muscle mass decreases. Lower testosterone levels, even if you don't make any other changes to your exercise and diet routines, can cause weight gain. This is one of the reasons why men gain weight as they age. InvigoRise is said to help you achieve your weight loss goal more easily by promoting "smooth" weight loss.

Improved Memory: The InvigoRise product is said to improve memory by increasing blood flow to brain. Blood flow is closely linked to nitric oxide. Blood flow is improved when blood moves more freely throughout the body. This allows more oxygen and nutrients to reach your brain. According to the manufacturer, InvigoRise improves memory while supporting cognition, focus, and attention.

Boost Stamina for the Bedroom: As men age their stamina and endurance tend to decrease, resulting in a worsening of performance both inside and outside the bed.

Promote Healthy blood pressure: L-arginine is one of the ingredients found in InvigoRise that has been linked to healthy levels of blood pressure. These ingredients are taken by some men daily to improve cardiovascular health, blood circulation, and heart health.

InvigoRise's makers claim that many customers have noticed positive changes after a few weeks of regular use. Some ingredients are quick to work, while others take weeks to produce positive results.

InvigoRise: Scientific Evidence

InvigoRise's makers cite over 20 studies as proof that the product works as claimed. Below, we'll sum up the research about InvigoRise to examine its scientifically-backed effects.

InvigoRise's most important and largest ingredient is Maca. Multiple studies have linked Lepidium myyenii (maca), a plant that grows in the Himalayas, to libido and testosterone. It has also been shown to improve male vitality. Researchers found that maca improved sexual desire among men aged 21 to 56 in a 2002 Study published in andrologia. Maca was taken by men in much higher doses than InvigoRise (1500mg to 3000mg daily). Researchers found that men who took maca had higher sexual desire after 12 weeks than those in the placebo group. However, testosterone levels were not different between the two groups.

In a separate maca research, the root extract was found to help with testosterone production. A group of 80 men with low testosterone were given 1,000mg maca or a control for 12 weeks. Researchers found that men who took maca had higher testosterone levels and better International Index of Erectile function (IIEF), scores than those in the control group. This suggests maca can have a significant impact on testosterone production. Researchers found that Maca did not have any side effects, unlike other testosterone treatments.

Men take arginine every day for blood flow, ED and cardiovascular health. Researchers found that L-arginine, taken orally, could improve peripheral circulation for patients with heart failure. Another study also found similar results. L-arginine supplements increased the blood flow to muscles.

Horny Goat Weed is InvigoRise's second largest ingredient (tied with Tongkat Ali, and saw palmetto). Men take this ingredient for their sexual health. Researchers found that purified horny goat weed has "erectogenic effects and neurotrophic properties" due to a natural molecule known as icariin. Researchers found that rats who took horny goat weed showed significantly improved erectile functions and blood flow in penile tissue compared to men on a placebo.

InvigoRise contains ingredients that may not directly increase testosterone, but have other effects on sexual health. In one study, tongkat-ali was found to help with stress hormones such as cortisol. This led to an increase in testosterone. Stress can lower your testosterone and reduce your sexual drive. Participants in the study who took tongkat daily experienced less stress-related effects.

InvigoRise is a blend of ingredients that promotes sexual health, testosterone and male vitality. The manufacturer cites many studies to prove the effectiveness of the ingredients.
