VISION INSURANCE BENEFITS:

WHY NOW IS THE PERFECT TIME TO USE THEM

If you have opted into your employer-sponsored vision plan, you've already paid for your vision insurance benefit. Most employers start their vision plan benefits on a calendar year cycle.

That means unused benefits expire at year end.

Schedule an appointment for an eye exam now, and don't let yours go to waste! If you already have a valid prescription, treat yourself to a new pair of glasses or restock on contact lenses.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF YOUR EMPLOYER'S VISION INSURANCE PLAN

While plans vary based on insurance carrier and employer, most offer a variety of benefits to keep your eyes healthy, including:

Annual eye exam

to screen for changes in prescription as well as detection/prevention of other eye conditions.

Annual update to corrective lenses to be used towards the purchase of eyeglasses OR contact lenses.*

Update to eyeglass frames offered annually OR once every two-year benefit period, depending on your plan*

* Frame allowance, contact lens allowance, and eyeglass lens coverage varies by plan. Most vision insurance plans cover up to $130 on contact lens supplies OR eyeglass frames. Standard eyeglass lenses are covered at 100%, but there may be additional out of pocket expenses for certain lens options or specialty lenses. Some of the larger insurance carriers have negotiated discounted rates with providers for these types of options.
