

PEOPLE OF N26

Thomas Grosse

Chief Banking Officer
Chief Risk Officer

Thomas joined N26 in 2019 as Chief Banking Officer, with the responsibility of overseeing N26's bank entities and bank partnerships across the globe, as well as leading the group's banking functions. In 2021, he took on the additional roles of Chief Risk Officer and Managing Director for N26 Bank and Group GmbH, responsible for strengthening N26's governance, risk and compliance functions.

Thomas has a wealth of expertise and experience in the space where banking and technology converge. Before joining N26, he was Industry Leader Banking at Google Germany, responsible for partnerships with German banks and fintechs, and closely involved in the market rollout of Google Pay.

Previously, he was a member of the Executive Board at Wüstenrot Group as well as a director at Deutsche Bank working in their private and business client division. He started his career as a consultant at McKinsey serving the banking and insurance industry.

Thomas has an MBA degree from the University of Southern California Marshall School of Business and holds a master degree in Economics from the University of Cologne.
