KNOW YOUR TILES

Materials

Ceramic and porcelain tiles are made using similar methods, but the recipe that makes up the body of the tile consists of slightly different ingredients, which gives the different materials their unique properties.

Ceramic tiles are simple to cut and install and are commonly used for wall tiles. Ceramic tiles come in either matt or gloss finishes and may be smooth or textured.

Porcelain is denser and less porous than ceramic, making it more durable and ideal for floors as well as walls. It can be matt, gloss or polished, and also comes in smooth or textured finishes.

Finishes

Matt tiles have a matt finish which gives a contemporary look. Some also have anti-slip properties, ideal if you're tiling a wet floor area. Tiles which are suitable for wetroom floors are identified on the individual product pages within this brochure.

Gloss tiles are coated with a special glaze that turns glossy when it's fired to give a classic, shiny look. This finish is often found on ceramic wall tiles.

Polished tiles are a step up from gloss tiles. After the tiles have been fired, they're buffed and polished to give a mirror-like shine which reflects light around the room.

Non-rectified tiles are pressed into shape before being fired in a kiln. During the firing process the tiles may expand or contract slightly, so non rectified tiles may vary slightly in size. That's why it's important to always use tiles from the same batch. Non-rectified tiles have subtly rounded edges.

Rectified tiles are made in the same way, but an extra process is added after firing to make sure the edges are cut perfectly straight to the exact size of the tile. This reduces size variations between batches and gives a flatter, more premium looking finish when the tiles are fixed to the wall or floor.

Laying patterns

Tiles are incredibly versatile, and many of them can be laid in all sorts of ways depending on the effect you want to create.

Brick bond - A classic pattern, suitable for tiles up to 50cm in length

Stacked - Simple but effective, all tiles can be laid in a stacked pattern, either horizontally or vertically

1/3 bond - Offset by 1/3 of a tile's width from the previous row. Suitable for most tile sizes

Herringbone - Suitable for tiles where the height to width ratio is at least 1:2 (e.g. 10x20cm or 7.5x30cm tiles)

Cleaning and maintenance

Tiles are pretty low-maintenance, but will always benefit from a bit of TLC! Glazed porcelain, ceramic or glass tiles and mosaics can be cleaned using mild household cleaners, taking care not to scratch the surface.

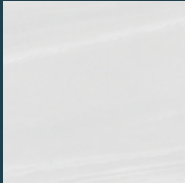

Do not use harsh chemicals, such as those designed to remove limescale, or abrasive cleaners which may damage the surface of the tile.

RIGID LUXURY VINYL FLOORING

Our stylish and versatile collection of rigid SPC flooring combines next generation technology with the latest design trends.

Manufactured using state of the art technology, SPC (Stone Polymer Composite) is the next generation of Luxury Vinyl Tiles, combining limestone and stabilisers to create a very durable core. SPC is hardwearing, waterproof and more rigid than traditional LVT, making it suitable for domestic and commercial projects.

Our flooring features an easy to install locking system without the need for messy adhesives and you don't even have to worry about purchasing separate underlay as there's a 1mm foam underlay already built in to each plank, making any room instantly warm and cosy and speeding up the installation process.

In a choice of three formats – herringbone, planks and tiles – our flooring collection offers a range of looks, from classic wood to neutral marbles, ensuring there's something for everyone.
