Event Information

TRS-ABOM Scientific Meeting:

Thursday, November 7, 2024

---

Global Science Summit:

Friday, November 8 - Saturday, November 9, 2024

Gala: Saturday, November 9, 2024

LOCATION

Renaissance Orlando at SeaWorld | Orlando, FL

This annual event is an opportunity for the Angelman syndrome community to connect face-to-face, learn about the astonishing science and pharmaceutical advancements, and raise a significant amount of money to fund research that will move promising therapeutics for Angelman syndrome forward.

The Global Science Summit gathers scientists from around the world to share updates with the Angelman community on the latest research and updates on clinical trials. The Gala provides an opportunity for the community to celebrate the year's accomplishments, together. It is a beautiful event that fills the room with inspiration, hope, and energy to keep working towards a cure for individuals with Angelman syndrome. In addition to the in-person event, the Global Science Summit will be broadcasted live and will be translated into several languages, allowing participation from anywhere around the world.

TRS-ABOM Sponsorship Opportunities

Please note: there will not be a separate sponsorship solicitation for TRS-ABOM this year.

The FAST Translational Research Symposium (TRS) and Angelman Syndrome Biomarker and Outcome Measure (ABOM) Consortium Scientific Meeting will be held on Thursday, November 7, the day prior to the Global Science Summit. This meeting is designed for scientists, academic and industry partners, as well as regulatory and medical professionals, with a goal of fostering collaboration and promoting scientific/clinical advancements, in a confidential and supportive setting.
