MAKER'S STORY

Artisan Organization: Matr Boomie

One email changed everything. In the heart of bustling Old Delhi, over 200 artisans work in family workshops to craft beautiful brass jewelry that goes back generations. However, with businesses moving online and middlemen underpaying them, the group began to lose hope of being able to continue.

Seeing her parents struggle to promote their jewelry business, Sana set up an email account and began to send messages to artisan websites. One of her emails was sent to Matr Boomie, a group part of Young Living's artisan network.

Since this connection, their entire artisan group has been revived. And because of the profits earned, Sana has become the first girl in her community to go to college!

The D. Gary Young, Young Living Foundation is committed to empowering women by investing in small business and fair-trade enterprises. The Foundation is currently working with several woman-led artisan groups across the globe. Learn more at <https://younglivingfoundation.org/developing-enterprise>.
