About This Endeavor

The Importance of Financial Literacy

More and more educators, parents, and policymakers are recognizing the importance of providing students with a strong foundation in financial literacy. Without a clear understanding of budgeting, saving, debt, and investing, young adults often struggle to make informed financial decisions and achieve long-term stability.

But financial literacy is about more than money management—it equips students with the clarity and discipline to pursue life with purpose. The ability to enjoy life, liberty, and happiness depends not just on opportunity but on the ability to steward that opportunity wisely. When students build sound financial habits and understand how resources work, they are better prepared to live independently, plan with confidence, and build a secure future—for themselves and future generations.

A Resource Built for Louisiana

In Louisiana, the state legislature has taken decisive steps to ensure students graduate with these essential life skills. Under R.S. 17:270, all students entering high school beginning in the 2024–2025 school year are required to complete a one-unit course in Financial Literacy. This law reflects a growing recognition that financial understanding is foundational to long-term stability.

To support this new graduation requirement, PragerU has curated a robust, FREE collection of short, high-quality videos aligned with Louisiana’s required financial literacy topics. These resources are designed to bring real-world relevance into the classroom, spark meaningful conversations, and give students the knowledge they need to navigate financial decisions confidently—from budgeting and taxes to credit, saving, and investing.

Whether used as a standalone enrichment, part of a full curriculum, or as a blended learning tool, PragerU’s videos make financial literacy accessible, engaging, and achievable.
