

Little Red Riding Hood | Worksheet

Story sequencing: Number the scenes in order from first to last.

The Wolf convinced Little Red to leave the path to collect flowers for her grandmother. <hr/>
The huntsman cut Little Red and her grandmother from the belly of the Wolf, freeing them. <hr/>
Little Red's mother asked her to take a basket of cake and bread to her grandmother in the woods, cautioning her to stay on the path. <hr/>
Satisfied with his meal of Little Red and her grandmother, the Wolf lay down to sleep. <hr/>

Scan to watch episode:

Little Red Riding Hood | Answer Key

The Wolf convinced Little Red to leave the path to collect flowers for her grandmother. 2	 An illustration showing a close-up of a grey wolf's face on the left, looking towards a vibrant field of purple and yellow flowers in a sunlit forest. A small figure of Little Red Riding Hood is visible in the distance on a path.
The huntsman cut Little Red and her grandmother from the belly of the Wolf, freeing them. 4	 An illustration of a huntsman in a green hooded cloak using a large knife to cut open the belly of a large wolf. Little Red Riding Hood and her grandmother are being pulled out of the wolf's stomach.
Little Red's mother asked her to take a basket of cake and bread to her grandmother in the woods, cautioning her to stay on the path. 1	 An illustration of Little Red Riding Hood in profile, looking towards her mother. Her mother is standing in a doorway, handing her a basket filled with bread and cakes.
Satisfied with his meal of Little Red and her grandmother, the Wolf lay down to sleep. 3	 An illustration of the wolf lying in a bed, covered with a blanket and wearing a purple nightgown. He has a satisfied expression and is appearing to be asleep.