

The Lion & the Mouse | Worksheet

Story sequencing: Number the scenes in order from first to last.

The little mouse freed the grateful lion from the net. _____
The little mouse climbs up what he thinks is a soft mountain, looking for water. _____
The lion is caught in a net! _____
The little mouse begs not to be eaten by the lion and promises to repay his kindness someday. _____

Scan to watch episode:

The Lion & the Mouse | Answer Key

The little mouse freed the grateful lion from the net. 4	 An illustration of a grey mouse with pink ears and a yellow lion with a large red mane standing together in a grassy field. The mouse is on the left, looking towards the lion on the right. The background is a light blue sky with some green grass at the bottom.
The little mouse climbs up what he thinks is a soft mountain, looking for water. 1	 An illustration of a grey mouse climbing a steep, yellow, textured hill. The mouse is on the left side of the hill, facing right. The background is a light blue sky.
The lion is caught in a net! 3	 An illustration of a yellow lion with a red mane trapped inside a brown, spherical net. The lion is looking towards the viewer. The background is a solid red color.
The little mouse begs not to be eaten by the lion and promises to repay his kindness someday. 2	 An illustration of a grey mouse sitting on a small green mound, looking up at the large, yellow, open mouth of a lion. The lion's face is on the right side of the frame, and the mouse is on the left. The background is a light blue sky.