What You'll Need

- Video: Ca$h Cour$e: Financial Hygiene
- Worksheet: Ca$h Cour$e: Financial Hygiene (Download PDF)
- Classroom whiteboard and dry-erase markers (You may use a technology solution if available).

Lesson Plan (45 mins.)

Warm-Up: (10 mins.)

1. Share surprising statistics about how Americans waste billions on unused gym memberships, overdraft fees, and identity theft.
2. Invite students to share what they do as part of their morning routine, such as brushing their teeth, washing their face, eating breakfast, and getting dressed.
3. Ask students to think about and discuss the ramifications of skipping an essential morning task like brushing their teeth. Mention potential outcomes like cavities and tooth extractions.
4. Conclude by explaining that just like daily personal hygiene routines are essential for our health, maintaining financial hygiene is crucial for our economic well-being. Mention that today's lesson will cover important financial terms like budget, positive cash flow, and negative cash flow.

Watch and Apply: (25 mins.)

1. Watch the video, Ca$h Cour$e: Managing Your Financial Hygiene.
2. Distribute the Ca$h Cour$e: Managing Your Financial Hygiene worksheet. Allow students 10 minutes to complete the worksheet independently.
3. After the worksheet activity, go through the questions as a class. Open the floor for questions and areas where students need further clarification.

Wrap-Up: (10 mins.)

1. Invite students to share any new insights they've gained about financial hygiene. Encourage them to elaborate on how these insights could help prevent negative financial outcomes.
2. Prompt students to consider what habits they will cultivate for ongoing financial health. Record these habits on the board as students share them.
3. Ask students what they can do to practice personal financial hygiene. List these on the board and have students discuss the consequences of neglecting or maintaining each action.

Don't have time for the full lesson? Quick Activity (10-15 mins.)

- Distribute the worksheet and allow students to complete it while they follow along with the video.
- Or, have students watch the video at home and use the worksheet as a quick quiz the next day in class.
