

The shifting landscape of discrimination laws

This session will provide an overview on discrimination laws and what it means for your organisation in the context of your organisation's employment practices and ministry activities.

LEANNE LEE & REBECCA LAMBERT-SMITH MOORES

Leanne Lee is a Senior Lawyer in the Corporate Advisory Team at Moores. Passionate about the For Purpose sector and seeks to be a trusted advisor for her clients so that they can focus on achieving their purpose. Leanne is experienced in providing advice on general commercial/corporate, compliance and governance matters. Whilst it is important to get the legal requirements sorted, Leanne recognises the importance of active listening, ongoing dialogue and providing commercial solutions that are consistent with the client's overarching strategy.

Rebecca Lambert-Smith is a Practice Leader in the Corporate Advisory Team and heads up the For Purpose Team at Moores. Rebecca provides expert advice to charities, not-for-profits and social ventures on a wide range of legal and governance matters. As a trusted advisor to For Purpose clients experiencing creation, crisis and change, Rebecca enjoys helping clients navigate the challenges of the current regulatory environment. Having served on a number of Boards, Rebecca understands the competing priorities of modern governance. She regularly provides Board training and presents seminars and webinars to the For Purpose sector. Rebecca formerly practiced in commercial litigation.
