Women's Global Leadership Summit

Leadership diversity is critical and organizations must mirror a marketplace where women are the majority of new business owners and increasingly the decision-makers in established businesses.

This highly informative and interactive conference is developed by the AICPA and the AICPA Women's Initiatives Executive Committee (WIEC), in collaboration with CPA Canada.

Our audience consists of women who are financial professionals and accountants from all business sectors who want to advance their leadership skills. Male colleagues interested in learning more about gender diversity and supporting the success of women also attend this powerful event.
