TRIP NOTE: She took in plenty of open air while stalking on the outside down the backstretch, moved forward to engage the leader while being joined by another rival to her outside, which placed her in-between rivals and dueling, and when the leader fought back and the runner to her outside overtook her, she was relegated to chase the rest of the way. A good trip early that eroded through the far turn, we'll call it neutral overall. A top rider takes the call for her new conditioner.

TRIP NOTE: There are several things to note for this runner: 1) She was off ~1+L slow at the start. 2) She was doing OK to recover into the quick pace when she was shuffled and lost her spot in-between rivals on the backstretch, which cost her ground and positions. 3) In the far turn it was more of the same and she was stuck in-between and overtaken, which landed her near the back of the pack leading into the stretch. 4) Although her race was basically over at that point, she actually finished willingly near the inside through the lane! There was nothing wrong with this performance after a bad trip throughout!

TRIP NOTE: There are two things worth noting that we believe excuse this running line: 1) We are not sure why, but this one's rider was "off" and then "re-mounted" just before the start - very likely something was amiss before the race even started. 2) A tardy and outward break cost her ~2L and every potential position, which given her running style, meant everything. She lagged at the back, raced 3W through the far turn, and was never involved, but it seems safe to ignore this race and handicap using other information!

RACE NOTE: The pace was HONEST.

TRIP NOTE: She was tightened up shortly after the start and forced to idle and lost her spot, which in hindsight MEANT a ton! She was guided inward and began to inch forward at the inside down the backstretch, but when approaching to main pack, she clearly shows signs of discomfort from the kickback (and rail spot), and she held her head high in spots because eventually climbing and losing ground (~2L)! She raced 2-3-4-5W while gaining as the far turn progressed, and finished willingly to earn a 'measured place position,' but there is no doubt she would have run faster with a better trip early which could have allowed for open air in this race! Upgrade this running line!

TRIP NOTE: The comment "Outrun inside" deserves a fine and suspension. She lost her path shortly after the start and 'lost all of her speed,' which landed her far back and detached from the field down the backstretch. She raced wide before dropping to the rail for her trip through the far turn, put in a big run to gain ground while gaining nicely leading into the stretch, and although she flattened a bit, she still finished up just fine, it's just that the running line is deceiving because the winner left the pack far behind, which makes all other runner running lines appear weak in the late stages. Upgrade this performance!

TRIP NOTE: She held a brief lead before a rail runner scooted forward to take a clear advantage on the backstretch, appeared to be traveling well while stalking a pacesetter that carved out DAWLDING splits into the far turn, but after moving for the lead and rather easily moving past to claim the top spot with 5/16 to go, the original leader battled back to take control, and she was unable to stay attached as that one drew away in the lane. A good trip considering the clean trip and slow pace, she returns from long layoff and draws the outside post.

A trip that looks rather vanilla, it's hard to ignore that inside runners benefited on this day, and we'll give him a slight nudge forward as a result.

TRIP NOTE: He raced with the outer flow and targeting an honest pace from the back of the leading group on the backstretch, was urged to play catch up while journeying 3-4W as the far turn progressed to the stretch, and finished willingly down the stretch to close the gap a bit, barely missing place money. This was a neutral trip overall (off the layoff).

TRIP NOTE: He prompted the pacesetter while rating well and in hand down the backstretch, appeared to be continuing VERY WELL in the far turn as this jockey remained quiet and took a long look between his legs to get a view of the competition behind him, and after finally being asked to kick at the top of the stretch, he drew away nicely and then displayed strong body language on the gallop out through the clubhouse turn. A convincing win after a neutral journey, the information AFTER the race was meaningful, and give a small upgrade as a result.

TRIP NOTE: There are a few things to note for this runner: 1) Relative to the other runners in the race, he raced inward and near the slower inside for most of the race! 2) He hated the kickback through the clubhouse turn as he climbed noticeably while trying his best to avoid the dirt in his face. This had to have burned fuel even though he didn't appear to lose ground. 3) From the midway point to the finish, he was always dealing with bad spots! He gained on the backstretch but was forced to pause when dealing with traffic approaching the far turn. He was urged to gain from in-between in the far turn but stalled while slightly climbing again, and when appearing to get going into the lane, was forced to deal with a lineup of runners that prevented an advance until he was able to cut to the slower rail! There was NOTHING wrong with this try 'on dirt,' and if can avoid the kickback, he stands to improve.

TRIP NOTE: The bobble that is noted in the PPs is accurate, but it also meant NOTHING. Ignore the information. He was patiently handled and rated kindly (while inward) down the backstretch, showed a good burst early in the far turn before working past an outside rival as he slipped past at the rail, and after being driven the remainder of the journey at the inside through the turn and stretch, was decent in the lane. A pace beneficiary in defeat, a new rider takes over.

TRIP NOTE: He was urged down the backstretch to show more speed than usual, put in a nice run through the turn to get into position (after an inward trip), and after easing into the clear and leveling while through the lane, finished willingly to just miss! A trip that got a little help from the honest pace, we recommend downgrading this performance a bit.

TRIP NOTE: She showed useful speed to earn a very good tracking spot early, appeared to be traveling well within herself throughout, and after having no issues with the dirt portion of the course, she was urged to sprint for a little more than 3/16 of a mile, and did VERY WELL to reach the leader and edge past while also holding off (2) "chasers" in the final 1/16. A good trip overall, she moves from an outside post the rail today (after her race at 1000 yards on dirt).

TRIP NOTE: She traveled just off the pace while wide down the hill, but when reaching the left-handed portion of the course, there was no gap to tuck inward, and she was forced to travel 5-5+W throughout, which was obviously NOT GOOD! TRIP NOTE: She held a 2L lead vs the majority of the field as she had a clear view of a runoff leader for most of the race, but after a good trip through the early and middle stages, she was unable keep off the outer flow crossing over the dirt, and was even in the stretch. A good trip early made for a good trip overall.

TRIP NOTE: She showed big speed to EASILY clear the runners to her outside, but eventually was allowed to idle and pause to let the runner to her outside clear off late on the backstretch before easing 2+W to stalk. She stalked and gained while in hand and following through the far turn, moved alongside the leader while ridden with confidence and earning the lead without resistance by the top of the stretch, and after kicking strongly down the lane, was dead game to barely hold off a wide runner before showing off nice energy on the gallop out! A strong performance at a shorter distance deserves some extra credit.

TRIP NOTE: There are a few things to consider for this trip: 1) She raced in-between rivals and vs the 'fake fast' pace for most of the far turn. 2) She bobbed/tripped badly crossing onto the dirt portion of the course! 3) She cut to the inside leading into the stretch, but eventually had to pause to move to the outside to get around two stalling foes, and she finished well to earn show money! A solid performance after a tough trip throughout offers upside!

TRIP NOTE: She raced in a joint stalking position (with a runner to her inside) as she followed a 'hooked duel' of two duelers down the backstretch and into the far turn, gained without being asked while 2+W through the turn before easing 3W to move around the embattled duo, and after reaching the top of the stretch with a short lead, displayed a BIG BURST to shoot away from the pack! TRIP NOTE: She was outquicked early and settled at the back of the pack (nothing wrong with this spot considering the tempo) down the backstretch, was urged to gain in tandem with a runner to her outside through the far turn, and after a 2-3-4+W trip in which she was able to push her way into the clear for the stretch drive, she finished well before flattening in the late stages, which cost her show money. A pace beneficiary in defeat, she will need to make a big move forward if she's to outrun the winner of this race (who also shows up here).

TRIP NOTE: She was prompted while carving out HONEST FRACTIONS down the backstretch, was quietly ridden while continuing to be kept honest (outside pressure) through the far turn, and after repelling the runner to her outside and moving clear into the stretch, she finished STRONGLY through the lane to leave the pack and hold sway! A big effort over the synthetic surface, she draws a favorable post and gives turf racing another try.
