TRIP NOTE: She was held up and RESERVED at the inside while bidding her time at the back for the majority of the race, was finally able to target some open air at the inside and began to get her speed up as the turn progressed, but after easing 2-3-4+W leading into the stretch and kicking through a neutral path in the lane, was never involved. A ground saving journey and clean trip from the back made for a better trip than most.

TRIP NOTE: Yes, she saved ground all the way around the track and never had to leave the rail position, but this race also benefited the speed types, as evidenced by the 1-2 runners early finishing exactly 1-2. An honest try after a trip that we'll label as 'neutral overall,' she's been freshened for today's performance.

A poor turf trip vs MUCH BETTER should be taken lightly. She receives big class relief today as she returns from a 4+ month layoff.

TRIP NOTE: She was off ~1L slow from the gate before being bumped inward (evident but didn't mean much), but the real story is that she was keyed up and RANK at the inside for the majority of the race, which is not mentioned in the PPs! She was eventually urged to gain and failed to get involved when driven through the stretch, but to burn fuel with no benefit for such a long time (while vs the pace) to only be defeated by less than 5L offers some upside! New connections take over.

TRIP NOTE: She targeted open air the race stalked while racing 'with the outer' flow for the majority of the race, began to inch forward in the far turn and eased 3W to be given a chance to circle the leaders (while also holding off a deep Closer) leading into the stretch, and although she finished up just fine, she was unable to threaten a 2/5* winner that traveled uncontested throughout and a pocket rival that also benefited from the pace and strong position. This was a nice try (albeit on the synthetic)!

TRIP NOTE: He was a touch keen late in the clubhouse turn as this pace DAWDLED and the jockey held him up to maintain a covered up position, and after continuing off the pace and on the outside, was given a very good ride to remain patient (3W) in the far turn before cutting to the inside leading into the stretch. A tough trip that was 'vs the DAWDLING PACE' made for a tough trip overall, and it's not surprising that speed and inside runners performed best. He saved ground near the back through the clubhouse turn, eased off the rail to join the outer flow on the backstretch, and after inching forward and then having no choice but to launch a 3-3+W bid through the far turn, showed a nice sport early in the stretch before slightly stalling in the late stages. TRIP NOTE: He drafted behind the leaders from just off the pace down the backstretch, looked good as he made his way into the far turn before finding a seam to move outward at the 5/16, but after being driven into the clear (4W) and being asked to kick, he showed only brief interest before stalling, which resulted in this jockey allowing him to coast for nearly 3/16 of a mile, which increased the margin of defeat. A neutral trip that also appeared to be a prep anyway, he returns from a short layoff and draws a tough post in his turf debut.

RACE NOTE: The pace was NORMAL / EVEN.

TRIP NOTE: Was 5-2 ML. She lacked speed before easing off the inside as the backstretch progressed, but when the far turn arrived, she found herself uncovered and 4W, which made for a rough trip the rest of the way! She gained while widest through the field, showing some talent to keep pace while wide, and after changing leads perfectly leading into the stretch, she comfortably drove past several runners to her inside for the score. A BIG effort after a bad turf trip deserves plenty of extra credit!

TRIP NOTE: She broke great and was quick, which landed her in front for a bit before eventually ceding the lead to an outside runner. She targeted open air while following from a rail spot for the majority of the race, was eased off the inside when the pace finally slowed on the backstretch, and after chasing while 2W through the far turn, weakened in the lane. A trip that was 'VS the pace' but also saved good ground throughout, we'll call this a neutral trip overall. She makes start #2 off of the layoff.

TRIP NOTE: She saved ground for the majority of the race while targeting a FAST PACE , enjoyed a very good trip through the far turn as she saved ground before easing 2-3W for a clear shot in the lane, but despite leveling well and trying hard to reach the leader, was forced to settle for place money.

TRIP NOTE: She was outquicked early and was patiently handled at the back through the early and middle stages, began to get warmed up at the inside before being urged to level into the lane, and although she never threatened the top spots in this race, she finished nicely to make a brake split of rivals in deep stretch, which given the disadvantageous pace, deserves some love, and her gallop out was good also. She makes start #2 off of the layoff and takes on much better.

TRIP NOTE: There are three things worth noting for this runner's trip: 1) Although there is no head on view available, she did lose about 1-2L at the start, which is captured in the PPs. 2) Not only did she benefit from a FAST PACE throughout, but she also saved ground all the way around the track, which made for a very good trip overall. 3) After cutting to the rail in the stretch and then realizing a nice seam to make a split of rivals to earn the lead, she threw her ears in the air as if to communicate, "I'm happy and this was pretty easy." A mild downgrade all information considered, she makes start #2 off of the bench and takes on better.

RACE NOTE: The pace was FAST THROUGHOUT.

TRIP NOTE: She moved forward to assume the lead in the early stages, carved out FAST SPLITS throughout while unopposed, and after being ridden with a ton of confidence through the far turn, did very well to hold firm to hold sway. A solid win that was 'vs the pace' offers upside as she cuts back in distance and meets several common foes today.

TRIP NOTE: A lag and rally journey, she traveled with the outer flow while targeting a FAST PACE from the back, launched a 3-4W (widest) bid to try and circle rivals in the far turn, and although she failed to seriously threaten in this race, she did well to stay on and earn shot money in the late stages. A better trip than most (as a pace beneficiary), we recommend mildly downgrading this performance.

TRIP NOTE: She was a touch keen early, but this was more of a product of the slow pace than it was her being defiant, and she settled in nicely after her brief discomfort. She saved ground near the back throughout, inched forward in the turn and appeared to be traveling well at the inside as the turn progressed, and when the field fanned out and she realized room at the inside, she was cut loose to sprint leading into the stretch. A trip that was 'vs the pace' made for a tough trip overall, and it wasn't surprising that she flattened despite finishing with interest! A mild upgrade seems appropriate.

RACE NOTE: The pace was SLOW.
