12.2 If any previously provided information becomes inaccurate or misleading, you must update us promptly.

12.3 All information you provide must be complete, accurate, and not misleading. Failure to comply may result in rejection or suspension of your Account.

12.4 We may use third-party services to verify the information you provide.

13. Account Security

13.1 You must keep your Account credentials, including passwords, secure and confidential.

13.2 Giving third-party access to your Account is at your own risk, and you remain responsible for their actions.

13.3 If you are an Entity, you may authorise individuals to access the Account, but you remain liable for their actions. You must notify us of their identity and any changes.

13.4 We may assume all activity on your Account is authorised unless we believe blocking access is necessary for security or legal reasons.

14. Suspension of Your Account

If we suspect you or others connected to your Account have engaged in behaviour we deem harmful, including market abuse or unlawful activity, we may suspend your Account immediately. This may include freezing funds, restricting access, or limiting activity during our investigation.

15. Execution-Only Services

We provide execution-only services and act as agent or matched principal solely for executing your Orders. We do not manage your portfolio or offer discretionary services.

16. No Investment Advice or Personal Recommendations

16.1 We do not provide:

- (a) Advice on the merits of a specific transaction;
- (b) Personal investment recommendations;
- (c) Legal, regulatory, tax, or accounting advice.

16.2 By placing an Order, you confirm you have independently evaluated the associated risks and will not treat our publications or communications as investment advice.

16.3 We may, at our discretion, share:

- (a) Procedural or risk-related information on transactions;
- (b) Market views or product information.

16.4 Where such information is shared, you agree:

- (a) It does not constitute advice;
- (b) We offer no guarantee of its accuracy, completeness, or suitability;
- (c) You will not distribute restricted content to unauthorised parties;
- (d) We may act on such information before sharing it and do not guarantee simultaneous distribution to all clients.

17. No Management Services

We do not provide portfolio management or discretionary management services under any circumstances.

18. No Fiduciary Duty

Unless otherwise explicitly agreed in writing, the provision of Services by us does not create any fiduciary or equitable duty on our part, or on the part of our Affiliates or employees. You agree that these Terms do not establish any fiduciary, trustee, agency, joint venture, or partnership relationship between you and us, our Affiliates, or our employees.

19. Introducing Party

19.1 If a third party (an "Introducing Party") has introduced you to us, you acknowledge and agree that:

- (a) Our responsibilities are limited strictly to the provision of execution-only Services;
- (b) We are not responsible for, and make no representation, warranty, or endorsement regarding, the conduct, advice, recommendations, or statements of the Introducing Party, whether relied upon at the time of entering into or during the life cycle of a Position;
- (c) Subject to Applicable Regulations, we are not obligated to verify the legal or regulatory status of any Introducing Party; and

- (iii) The Introducing Party is not authorised to make representations about us, our Affiliates, or our Services, except to the extent necessary to facilitate your introduction to us.

SECTION 4 – QUOTES AND PRICING

20. Quotes and Orders

You may open or close a Position by placing a 'buy' or 'sell' Order at the price quoted to you.

21. Quotes Are Not Offers

A quote provided by us is indicative and does not constitute an offer to enter into a Position at the quoted price. A Position is only opened once we accept your Order at the quoted price.

22. Price Quotation

Pricing methods vary by Product and are detailed in the relevant Product Schedule and our Order Execution Policy.

23. Market Movements and Slippage

23.1 Market conditions may change between the time a quote is given and the time an Order is executed, potentially affecting execution in your favour or against you. Execution will occur at the prevailing market price based on available liquidity.

23.2 Prices quoted by third parties or market makers do not apply to transactions with us.

23.3 Quotes are only valid at the time of display and are subject to change. Spreads and transaction costs may vary based on market conditions.

23.4 Submit Orders only if you understand and accept the risks of market volatility and slippage.

24. Manifest Error and Latency Trading

24.1 If we reasonably determine that a quote or price contains an obvious error ("Manifest Error"), we reserve the right to void, amend, or reverse any Order or transaction, taking into account relevant factors including market conditions and source data quality.

24.2 If we believe you are exploiting latency or system inefficiencies, we may void, amend, or reverse trades, return only net deposited funds, and close your Account at our sole discretion.

24.3 Except in cases of our fraud or gross negligence, we are not liable for any losses resulting from actions taken under Clause 24.2 or due to a Manifest Error.

SECTION 5 – ORDERS AND INSTRUCTIONS

25. Placing of Orders

25.1 Orders and instructions must be placed through the Platform unless we specify an alternative method.

25.2 We are only obligated to act on Orders once they are received and accepted. We are not responsible for losses due to delayed or unreceived Orders.

26. Cancelling or Amending Orders

Orders can only be cancelled or amended if we have not yet acted upon them.

27. Authority to Act on an Order

27.1 We may act on any Order or communication that appears to be from you, your Authorised Individual, or someone acting on your behalf through the Platform, without verifying identity or authority.

27.2 You are responsible for any resulting losses from such actions.

27.3 Orders submitted by alternative methods may require additional identity verification in accordance with Applicable Regulations.

27.4 If your Order is unclear or incomplete, we may act or decline to act based on our good faith interpretation without liability.

28. Right Not to Accept an Order

28.1 We are not obligated to accept any Order and may reject it at our discretion, without explanation, but will notify you in accordance with Applicable Regulations.

28.2 We are not liable for losses resulting from:

- (a) Our refusal to accept an Order;
- (b) Delay or omission in notifying you of such refusal; or
- (c) Any delay caused by resolving ambiguity in your Order.

29. Closing Out Positions After Accepting an Order

If we suspect that an accepted Order breaches Applicable Regulations, our Policies, or these Terms, we may close out the resulting Position or treat it as void.

30. Trading Limits

30.1 We, a Market, or an Underlying Market may impose limits on your Orders or Positions, including:

- (a) Margin controls;
- (b) Price constraints for Order placement;
- (c) Order verification requirements;
- (d) Restrictions on Order size or amount;
- (e) Exposure or Net Open Position (NOP) limits. If imposed, we will notify you. Non-compliance may result in forced Position closures or Trading restrictions without liability for resulting losses; and
- (f) Any other limits required by Applicable Regulations or internal Policies.

30.2 You remain responsible for all Orders placed, even if they breach imposed limits.

31. Market or Liquidity Provider Action

31.1 If a Market, Liquidity Provider, or any intermediary (acting under the direction of, or due to actions taken by, a Market) or a regulatory authority takes any action that affects a Position, we may take any steps we reasonably deem necessary to minimise any loss to you or to us resulting from such action.

31.2 You agree to be bound by any actions we take in accordance with Clause 31.1.

32. Order Execution and Handling

32.1 While we will use reasonable efforts to execute your Orders promptly, we do not guarantee execution according to your instructions or at the quoted price.

32.2 Orders will be executed only during the open hours of the relevant Market or Underlying Market. Orders received outside of these hours will be processed as soon as reasonably practicable once the Market reopens.

32.3 We will take all sufficient steps to achieve best execution in accordance with the FSRA Regulations and our Order Execution Policy, which is available on our Website. By placing an Order, you confirm that you have read and accepted the Order Execution Policy, as amended from time to time.

33. Aggregation of Orders

33.1 We may aggregate your Orders with those of other clients if we reasonably believe this will not be detrimental overall. However, aggregation may result in a more or less favourable price for you for a particular Order.

33.2 Our policies on Order aggregation, fair allocation, and treatment of partial executions are outlined in our Order Execution Policy.

34. Statements

34.1 Subject to the terms of a Position, we will issue a monthly statement outlining the Positions opened or closed during that period. Additional statements may be issued at our discretion and will be available via the Platform or another electronic channel we specify.

34.2 You must notify us if you do not receive a statement or if any details are inaccurate. In the absence of a Manifest Error, such statements will be deemed conclusive and binding unless you notify us in writing within three Business Days.

34.3 Any objection raised will be reviewed under our complaints handling procedures. Our final decision following that review will be binding.

SECTION 6 – LEVERAGE AND MARGIN Trading

35. Balance and Equity

35.1 Your Account Balance consists of the cash you have deposited and any realised profits or losses ("Balance"). Profit or loss becomes realised once a Position is closed.

35.2 Your Account Equity is the sum of your Balance and any unrealised (floating) profits or losses from open Positions ("Equity").

36. Margin and Free Margin

36.1 Margin refers to the portion of your Equity used to open and maintain one or more Positions. This Margin cannot be reused for additional Positions or withdrawn.

36.2 Some Products may be offered on a fully paid (non-leveraged) basis, requiring the full notional value upfront. Others may be leveraged, allowing you to open Positions with a notional value greater than your Margin.

36.3 Free Margin consists of funds in your Account not tied to existing Positions, plus any floating profit, but excluding Fully-Paid Positions. Free Margin may be used to open new Positions or be withdrawn, subject to Clause 51.

37. Margin Trading and Leverage Ratio

37.1 Leverage allows you to control larger Positions with a smaller amount of Equity. This Clause does not apply to Fully-Paid Positions.

37.2 Leverage is typically shown as a ratio (e.g., 2:1), allowing you to open a USD 100 Position using USD 50 in Margin.

37.3 Leverage limits are determined by us and may be updated at any time. These changes may be required to comply with FSRA Regulations. Leverage limits are published and updated on our Website.

37.4 If a Position was opened with a leverage limit that is no longer permitted, we may close your Positions or Account without further notice. We are not liable for any resulting losses.

37.5 You are responsible for monitoring leverage limit changes due to:

(a) Market or Underlying Market conditions; (b) Announcements by monetary authorities (e.g., Federal Reserve, ECB); (c) Events of Default or Potential Default; (d) Regulatory changes; (e) Risk assessments; or (f) Increased market volatility.

37.6 We may change Margin requirements at any time, including due to:

(a) Market changes; (b) Adverse economic news; (c) Insolvency or Trading suspension of issuers; (d) Your Trading pattern changes; (e) Credit deterioration; (f) Market concentration of your exposure; (g) Changes by counterparties or clearing brokers; (h) Regulatory changes; or (i) Exceptional events (see Clause 73.2).

37.7 Dynamic leverage may apply, meaning leverage is adjusted automatically based on volume, Balance, and other factors. We are not responsible for losses due to dynamic leverage.

37.8 Margin Trading is high-risk and may result in losses exceeding your initial deposit. You should fully understand the risks involved and consider independent advice. See our Risk Warning Notice and Website for more.

38. Margin Call

38.1 This Clause does not apply to Fully-Paid Positions.

38.2 You must always maintain sufficient Equity to cover the required Margin. If your Equity falls below 100% of the required Margin, you must:

(a) Add more funds; (b) Close open Positions; or (c) Do both.

38.3 If your Margin falls below the required Margin Level, a margin call ("Margin Call") will apply. You must monitor your Account. We may, but are not obliged to, notify you by phone, email, or through the Platform.

39. Auto-Stop-Out

39.1 $\text{Margin Level} = \text{Equity} \div \text{Margin}$.

39.2 If your Margin Level falls below a threshold set by us (or as required by FSRA), Positions will be closed automatically by our system ("Auto-Stop-Out") to maintain sufficient Equity. No prior notice is required.

39.3 We do not manage your portfolio. The system may close multiple Positions until Equity requirements are met. All Positions may be closed.

39.4 For fully hedged Positions, we may require Margin on one side. If no Margin is required, you may not receive a Margin Call. However, Auto-Stop-Out or liquidation may still occur if Equity drops below zero.

SECTION 7 – ELECTRONIC Trading SERVICES

40. Access to and Use of Electronic Trading Services

40.1 You may be granted access to one or more Electronic Trading Services for your personal use only. You may not transfer or resell access without our written consent.

40.2 You are responsible for your access credentials and any resulting errors or failures.

40.3 You are liable for all Orders entered via the Electronic Trading Services.

41. Termination, Suspension, and Changes to Services

41.1 We may suspend or withdraw access with 10 Business Days' notice.

41.2 We may also terminate or alter the service immediately, without notice, for reasons including:

(a) Regulatory non-compliance; (b) Breach of Agreement; (c) Event of Default; (d) Security breach; (e) Maintenance or system failure; (f) Market or clearing house issues; or (g) Other good faith reasons.

41.3 Access may also terminate automatically if:

(a) These Terms are terminated; (b) A related license is revoked; (c) A Market withdraws the service; or (d) We must comply with regulations.

41.4 Upon termination, you must return or destroy all related materials and software.

42. Third-Party Electronic Trading Services

42.1 Services may be provided under third-party licenses. You agree to comply with their terms.

42.2 Use of such services is at your own risk.

42.3 You must evaluate suitability before use.

42.4 These services are provided "as is" with no warranties.

43.2 You agree to comply with any IT or security requirements we communicate.

44. Electronic Market Access

44.1 If the service allows access to a Market or Underlying Market, we may require related information.

44.2 We may monitor or revoke access at our discretion.

44.3 You must comply with all applicable Market rules and regulations in addition to these Terms.

45. Intellectual Property

45.1 All proprietary rights in our Electronic Trading Services belong to us or our licensors and are protected by law. You receive only the rights explicitly stated in these Terms.

45.2 We and our licensors retain full intellectual property rights in the software and databases.

45.3 Any IP addresses assigned to you must only be used for Electronic Trading Services and will be revoked if the service ends.

45.4 You must not infringe on our proprietary rights or those of our licensors. Report any suspected violations immediately.

SECTION 8 – CLIENT MONEY

46. Client Money Requirements

46.1 This Clause is subject to Clause 47.

46.2 Unless otherwise stated, we will handle money received from you or held on your behalf in accordance with FSRA regulations. Client funds will be maintained in appropriately designated accounts, segregated from the firm's own assets to ensure clear distinction and protection.

46.3 We may deposit client money into accounts with central banks, credit institutions, or banks, or pass it to third parties (such as brokers, clearing houses, or markets) to facilitate transactions or meet collateral obligations. These funds may be held in pooled or omnibus accounts. Where applicable, we will disclose the associated risks of pooled account structures, including potential implications for fund recovery in the event of third-party insolvency. We may deposit clients' money with the central bank, credit institutions, or licensed third parties (such as brokers, clearing houses, or exchanges) to facilitate transactions or meet margin requirements. While we take reasonable care in selecting such parties, we are not liable for their acts, omissions, or insolvency, subject always to our obligations under FSRA Regulations.

46.4 In accordance with Applicable Regulations, we may earn interest or profit on your money and are not obliged to share it with you unless agreed otherwise in writing. Terms regarding interest accrual, third-party transfers, and dormant account handling will be clearly communicated as part of our client money policy.

46.5 Your funds may be deposited with a depositary who may have a security interest, lien, or right of set-off, subject to FSRA Regulations. Client money will not be misused, pledged, or re-hypothecated unless expressly permitted under a contractual arrangement and adequately disclosed to you in advance. Your funds may be deposited with a depositary that may have a security interest, lien, or right of set-off, in accordance with FSRA Regulations. We will ensure that such arrangements are permitted and disclosed to you in advance where required.

47. Ceasing to Treat Money as Client Money

47.1 When Obligations owed by you become due and payable, we may cease treating the equivalent amount as client money and apply it toward satisfaction of those Obligations without prior notice, in accordance with FSRA Regulations.

47.2 If your account remains inactive for three (3) years and we are unable to contact you despite reasonable efforts, we may treat the funds as unclaimed and handle them in accordance with FSRA Regulations, which may include transferring them to a segregated suspense account or to a designated authority.

48. Transfer of Business

You agree that we may transfer client money to another entity as part of a business transfer or corporate restructuring, provided that the recipient is authorised and subject to equivalent regulatory protections for client funds.

51.11 Crypto deposit/withdrawal instructions must originate from or go to a Supported Address. Instructions are irrevocable.

51.12 If a deposit/withdrawal error occurs, we may recover overpaid funds without notice.

51.13 Free Margin can be withdrawn unless market movement reduces its availability during processing.

51.14 To withdraw total Equity, all Positions must be closed. Requests can be made through the Portal or by contacting Support.

51.15 We may return money to you even if you haven't submitted a withdrawal request.

51.16 Requests may be rejected if we cannot verify the payment method or suspect inaccuracies or non-compliance. Funds will be returned to source if a deposit is rejected.

51.17 If suspicious or irregular activity is detected, we may:

(a) Investigate or hold the request; (b) Reject it; (c) Set off amounts owed; (d) Terminate these Terms; and (e) Take any necessary regulatory or policy-driven action.

51.18 If you initiate a chargeback or cancellation, and we suspect dishonesty, we may:

54.3 We reserve the right to vary conversion costs and fees.

54.4 Currency exchange is based on bid/offer rates and subject to fluctuations. You bear all related risks.

55. Calculations

Unless otherwise specified, we will act in good faith to determine appropriate calculation methods under these Terms.

SECTION 11 – REGULATORY REPORTING

56. Regulatory Reporting

56.1 You consent to us disclosing information relating to you, your transactions, or these Terms to FSRA, Markets, or other regulatory bodies, as required or permitted under Applicable Regulations. We may also be obligated to make certain public disclosures. You agree that we may do so and that such information remains our property.

56.2 You agree to provide any information we reasonably request to comply with regulatory obligations. You also consent to us sharing your information with third parties as necessary to comply with legal or contractual obligations.

57. No Reporting on Your Behalf

57.1 Unless otherwise agreed in writing, we are not responsible for making regulatory reports on your behalf.

57.2 You are solely responsible for your regulatory reporting obligations. We may charge a fee if we agree to assist or report on your behalf.

SECTION 12 – CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

SECTION 14 – MISUSE OF THE ACCOUNT, EVENTS OF DEFAULT, TERMINATION & DEATH

SCHEDULE A – TRADING CONTRACTS FOR DIFFERENCE

This Schedule A outlines the additional terms applicable when you engage in Trading Contracts for Difference (CFDs) with us. Capitalised terms used in this Schedule have the meanings ascribed to them in Clause 89, unless otherwise defined in this Schedule or required by context. In the event of a conflict between this Schedule and any other part of the Terms, this Schedule shall prevail to the extent necessary.

1. What is CFD Trading?

1.1 CFD Trading involves transactions designed to profit from or hedge against fluctuations in the value or price of an underlying instrument. Types of CFDs include, but are not limited to: foreign exchange CFDs, futures CFDs, options CFDs, share CFDs, stock index CFDs, and cryptoasset CFDs. The range of CFDs available for Trading is listed on our Website and may change over time.

1.2 All CFDs are cash-settled and cannot result in the physical delivery of the underlying instrument.

2. Key Risks of CFD Trading

2.1 CFDs are complex, high-risk financial instruments that involve leverage, which can amplify both gains and losses. As a result, minor price changes in the underlying instrument may result in substantial losses, potentially exceeding your initial deposit.

2.2 Trading CFDs may expose you to losses greater than the margin required to establish or maintain a Position. If the market moves against your Position, you may be required to provide additional funds at short notice to maintain sufficient Margin. Failure to do so may result in the liquidation of your Position, leaving you responsible for any resulting deficit.

2.3 Before Trading CFDs, you must understand the associated risks. We strongly recommend obtaining independent investment, legal, tax, or financial advice. Our Risk Warning Notice, available on our Website and updated from time to time, provides further details regarding these risks. You should read it carefully before entering into these Terms.

3. Product Pricing

3.1 Prices we quote for CFDs are based on rates received from our Liquidity Providers and are subject to our Order execution policy. Our prices include a spread between the buy and sell price, which may vary depending on market conditions and the timing of your Order. It is your responsibility to determine whether to accept a quoted price, except when we are authorised under these Terms to close your Position or do so automatically.

3.2 Detailed pricing information for our Products can be found on our Website or via other means we make available at our sole discretion.

4. Charges and Fees

4.1 We charge a fee for each Order you place, which may be reflected in the spread for that Product.

4.2 We may also charge a separate commission on executed Orders, either in addition to or in place of the aforementioned fee.

4.3 Additional fees and charges may apply to our Services and Products, including CFDs. You are responsible for reviewing and understanding the current fee structure published on our Website. Charges are subject to change and may impact your Account.

4.4 All amounts owed to us may be deducted directly from your Account.

5. Conflicts of Interest

5.1 In addition to Clause 58, conflicts of interest may arise when Trading CFDs, including conflicts between your interests and ours, or those of other clients.

5.2 For more details, please refer to our Conflicts of Interest Policy, available on our Website.

6. Leverage and Margin

6.1 You may trade CFDs on a non-leveraged basis through Fully-Paid Positions or on a leveraged basis, as outlined in Section 6 of the Terms.

6.2 Leverage limits vary by Product and underlying instrument. The current maximum leverage applicable to each Product is published on our Website.

6.3 Only cash can be used to meet Margin requirements for leveraged CFD Positions. Collateral is not accepted as Margin for these purposes.

7. Rights in the Underlying Instrument

7.1 Trading a CFD provides economic exposure to the underlying security or instrument, but does not confer legal ownership or associated rights. For example, you do not receive voting rights or direct dividend payments.

7.2 We will not transfer any voting rights to you, nor will you be permitted to influence voting decisions on underlying securities or instruments.

7.3 Where the underlying security pays a dividend, we may make cash adjustments to your Account for Positions held over the ex-dividend date: credits for long Positions and debits for short Positions. Such adjustments may incur tax liabilities, and we may deduct applicable taxes as permitted under Clause 68.2.

7.4 Some CFDs with expiry dates include a forecasted dividend component in the quoted price. Dividend adjustments do not apply to these CFDs.

8. CFDs on Crypto Assets

8.1 We may offer CFDs that derive value from underlying Crypto Assets ("Crypto CFDs"). These are highly volatile virtual assets and carry a significant risk of rapid and total capital loss.

8.2 Our Crypto CFD prices are aggregated from multiple exchanges and Trading venues. Prices may differ from those quoted on individual platforms due to normalisation and aggregation. In some cases, price quotes may be unavailable.

8.3 Risks specific to Crypto CFDs include:

(a) Crypto Assets are decentralised and lack government or commodity backing, meaning no central authority can intervene in a crisis or issue additional currency.

(b) Price volatility in Crypto Assets can be extreme and rapid. Trading interruptions may prevent you from closing a Position during adverse market moves, exposing you to 'gap risk.'

(c) Crypto Assets may be delisted from exchanges or become unsupported, resulting in them becoming worthless. In such cases, we may close affected Positions with minimal notice.

(d) Blockchain and third-party technology platforms supporting Crypto Assets are subject to system changes and regulatory developments that may affect Trading.

(e) Software protocol changes ("forks") can significantly impact the value of Crypto Assets:

i. Hard forks create two distinct blockchains. We may support both resulting assets or, if not feasible, issue a cash adjustment reflecting the new asset's value.

ii. Soft forks upgrade the existing blockchain without splitting it. Price impacts will be reflected in the updated CFD price, and we may issue discretionary cash adjustments.

Before Trading Crypto CFDs, you must ensure you fully understand the associated risks and confirm that you possess sufficient experience, financial capacity to bear losses, and a high tolerance for risk.
