

Mount Laurel | (856) 429-4394
2051 Briggs Road,
Mount Laurel, NJ 08054

Connect with us!

NOTES

OPHTHALMOLOGY

OPHTHALMOLOGY AVAILABILITY

Our ophthalmologist is available Monday-Thursday for appointments. If your family veterinarian refers you to one of our specialists, be sure to call ahead and make an appointment for your pets' consultation.

(856) 429-4394

RedBankVet.com

THE OPHTHALMOLOGY SERVICE AT RED BANK VETERINARY HOSPITAL MOUNT LAUREL

Like humans, animals can experience a range of eye diseases that cause pain or discomfort-some of which can have a major impact on their lives. Fortunately, continued advancements in both human and veterinary medicine have increased our ability to diagnose and treat many of these diseases in our pets.

At Red Bank Veterinary Hospital Mount Laurel, our ophthalmology team is trained in the latest therapies and treatments and is fully equipped to treat a wide range of ophthalmic disorders. From comprehensive eye exams to glaucoma testing and cataract surgical evaluation, our ophthalmologist is ready to evaluate your pet and develop a treatment plan that works for your family.

Please call us with any questions and for appointment availability:

(856) 429-4394

OUR OPHTHALMOLOGY SERVICES INCLUDE, BUT ARE NOT LIMITED TO:

- ▼ Comprehensive Eye Exams:
 - Vision testing
 - Tonometry
 - Fluorescein stain testing
 - Schirmer tear testing
 - Slit-lamp biomicroscopy
 - Indirect and direct ophthalmoscopy
- ▼ Electroretinography
- ▼ Ocular ultrasound
- ▼ Medical Management for Glaucoma, KCS (Dry Eye), Uveitis, Corneal Ulcers, Retinal Disease
- ▼ Surgical Intervention for Ocular Conditions Including:
 - Phacoemulsification (cataract surgery)
 - Anterior lens luxation removal
 - Corneal reconstruction & grafting procedures
 - Keratectomy
 - Repair of prolapsed gland of the third eyelid (cherry eye surgery)
 - Entropion & ectropion correction
 - Cryosurgery
 - Eyelid mass removal & reconstruction

We will work with your pets primary team to treat chronic conditions that some pets are more prone to like glaucoma, cataracts, and predisposed inherited eye diseases.

MEET OUR SPECIALIST:

LAUREN PAGE

MPH, DVM (Practice Limited to Diseases of the Animal Eye)

Dr. Lauren Page is originally from Northern Virginia, where she grew up playing classical piano, participating in Guild and Sonata Festivals, as well as dancing in the Fairfax Ballet Junior Company. She received her Bachelor of Science in Microbiology from Virginia Tech, as well as a Minor in English Literature. She was awarded Virginia Tech's Undergraduate Prize in Poetry Writing in 2015. She continued on at Virginia Tech for her Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree, combining it with a Master of Public Health— concentrating in infectious disease and parasitology.

Dr. Page then moved to Ames, Iowa to complete her Small Animal Rotating Internship at Iowa State University, and stayed on for her Residency in Ophthalmology. She served as the Chief Resident over both small and large animal hospitals, and on the Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee. She was honored with the award of Resident of the Year in 2023.

Dr. Page enjoys spending time with her partner (Dr. DiBenedetto, also a veterinarian with Red Bank) and orange tabby cat, Chicken. Her hobbies include poetry writing, gardening, and fish keeping. She's always ready for a night out dancing and enjoying great food with even better company.