

WHEN'S THE LAST TIME YOUR DOG HAD A FECAL EXAM?

-  Have you acquired a puppy recently and have not yet had a fecal exam done?
-  Has it been a while since your dog has been to the veterinarian?
-  Is your dog experiencing symptoms of intestinal parasites/worms such as diarrhea, vomiting, distended belly, or visible worms in the stool?

If you said YES to any of these, your dog may be eligible to participate in a clinical study evaluating a treatment for intestinal parasites/worms!

For participation in the study, your dog will receive study-related care at no cost to you, including physical and fecal examinations, and the assigned study treatment. You may also be eligible for compensation and full coverage protection against intestinal parasites/worms, heartworms, fleas, and ticks!

Ask your veterinarian or the clinic staff for more information, or check this website!
