

Secondary Teaching Pathways Programme

Shape the Future of Teaching with NZTC's Secondary Teaching Pathways Programme

New Zealand Tertiary College invites aspiring teachers and secondary schools to join our innovative, schools-based, 1-year Postgraduate Diploma in Teaching (Secondary) Initial Teacher Education (ITE) programme. Delivered onsite within NZTC Partner Schools and designed to support future teachers to learn, grow, and thrive in real-world educational environments.

Why Partner with NZTC?

- A collaborative partnership model, with schools and NZTC working together to select and support teacher candidates
- Authentic, real-world experience, with teacher candidates embedded in your school community and engaging with the New Zealand Curriculum of Te Marautanga o Aotearoa
- Comprehensive support for Associate Teachers, including remuneration, professional learning, and ongoing guidance
- A commitment to culturally responsive practice, honouring Te Tiriti o Waitangi and supporting inclusive outcomes for all learners
- Recognition of your school's contribution, with partner schools receiving $500 per student, per term

What Schools Provide

- A qualified, fully registered Associate Teacher to mentor and guide candidates
- A safe, inclusive, and professional learning environment
- Opportunities for teacher candidates to actively participate in teaching, assessment, and reflective practice

Programme Highlights for Candidates

- A postgraduate-level qualification focused on secondary teaching
- A school-based, practice-led approach that connects theory with real-world experience
- Ongoing mentoring and support from experienced, registered teachers
- A strong emphasis on reflective practice and the Standards for the Teaching Profession
- Graduation from a respected, Teaching Council-approved Initial Teacher Education provider
