

Stay secure and connected with TELUS Audio Conferencing.

The trusted solution for superior confidentiality, privacy and reliability.

Collaboration you can rely on Whether you're hosting an investor meeting, managing a crisis or collaborating with your team, TELUS Audio Conferencing gives you security, privacy and carrier-grade reliability you can depend on.

Ensure your security, privacy and data sovereignty

Unlike web-based conferencing, all Audio Conference network components and staff are located solely within Canada, safeguarding your information from foreign surveillance and unwanted intrusion.

You maintain complete privacy, oversight and security

- Easily manage your meetings and participants with a secure web-based console.
- Choose how participants enter and exit the meeting.
- Prevent anyone else entering your meeting with a lock-out option.
- Keep participants on hold until the moderator joins the meeting.
- A post-conference report provides call details, including participants' phone numbers.

Pay only for what you use

Account setup is free, with no monthly or recurring charges. You are only billed for exactly what you use.

Choose from a range of options to suit your needs

- On demand: Reservationless conferencing allows for instant ad-hoc collaboration.
- Customer-handled event: Facilitate a large meeting and Q&A for 1000+ participants, with web-based management tools at your fingertips.
- Special event: Host an event and Q&A for 1000+ participants, facilitated by a TELUS Operator.
- Meet me secure: Add an additional layer of security with unique access codes for each participant.
- Crisis management: Provide instant blast-dial access to a predefined list of participants.

A fail-safe connection

Because TELUS Audio is hosted on a geographically dispersed network with built-in redundancies, your meetings remain uninterrupted – even in the event of a local network outage. And you'll enjoy 24/7 assistance from an Audio Conference representative whenever you need it.

Add a layer of security and continuity to your business.
