Trailer Towing Tips

Trailer sway is one of the biggest risks when towing. It often happens if your trailer is poorly loaded or has too much weight behind the axle. High-sided or enclosed trailers are more prone, especially in crosswinds or when passing large vehicles.

If sway starts:

- Ease off the accelerator
- Use trailer brakes (if fitted)
- Keep steering straight
- Apply vehicle brakes gently until stable
- Pull over and check your load and tyre pressures

Balance matters. Aim for about 10% of the total trailer weight on the coupling. Load heavy items slightly forward of the axle and keep them low. Always recheck if carrying loose material like firewood or sand.

TRAILER BRAKES MAINTENANCE

Brakes are a critical and often neglected part of any trailer set-up, giving you safe and reliable stopping power. Like anything mechanical, they need regular maintenance. Over time, brake fluid absorbs moisture, especially in humid New Zealand conditions or when a trailer is used around water. Boat trailers are particularly at risk.

Moisture in the fluid can lead to corrosion inside the braking system. Even more dangerous, when contaminated fluid heats up under heavy braking, the water turns to steam, creating air bubbles that reduce braking power. That can easily cause brake fade, or worse, total failure.

That's why hydraulic brake fluid should be replaced every couple of years to keep your system safe and effective.

TRAILER KITS

TK8KNOTT

KNOTT 3.5 Ton TANDEM Trailer Braking

- Robust braking solution
- Widely used in Europe. Designed and manufactured in Germany.

Simple & Cost Effective:

This system is fully approved by the NZTA and is an excellent, simple, cost effective alternative to the commonly used electronic over hydraulic braking system for 3.5 ton trailers. The simplicity of the system sees no requirement for in-cab controllers, electrics or separate battery to operate it.

The heavy duty cast coupling has a gas strut attached to a lug which is in turn attached to a M10 threaded rod. This threaded rod is attached to a balance bar assembly on the front axle which the brake cables are attached to. When the tow vehicle brakes, a proportionate amount of the braking energy is transferred through the coupling gas strut which pulls the threaded rod forward engaging the drum brakes.

Kit Includes:

- 1x Coupler KFG35-3500kg (cast) with 1-7/8 head
- 1x Cable bracket
- 1x Balance bar assembly
- 2x 900kg hub & stub (left) 5 studs on 114.3mm PCD
- 2x 900kg hub & stub (right) 5 studs on 4.5" PCD
- 20x Wheel bolts
- 2x Brake cable - front
- 2x Brake cable - rear
- 5x Wheels - 14" 5 Stud x 4.5" PCD with 35mm offset, 195 x 14" tyres

*Excludes M10 threaded rod
