

Lilly insulin is $35 or less per month

Lilly Insulin Affordability Solutions

Lilly is paving the way to make it even easier for people with diabetes to access Lilly insulin by cutting insulin prices and expanding its Insulin Value Program.

Automatic Discounts at Pharmacies

Lilly will automatically cap patient insulin out-of-pocket costs at $35 per month at participating retail pharmacies for people with commercial insurance using Lilly insulin.

$35 Savings Card

People who don't have insurance can continue to visit InsulinAffordability.com and immediately download the Lilly Insulin Value Program savings card to receive Lilly insulin for $35 per month.

List Price Reduction & Non-Branded Options

Lilly is further reducing the list prices of its most commonly prescribed insulins by 70% and launching an interchangeable Lilly basal insulin at a 78% discount to its branded counterpart.

Learn More:

InsulinAffordability.com

Terms and conditions apply. At the majority of retail pharmacies. Government restrictions exclude people enrolled in federal government insurance programs from Lilly's $35 solutions. But federal law provides that Medicare Part D beneficiaries also pay no more than $35 per month for insulin.