Any Deliverable that constitutes “work made for hire” (within the meaning of United States copyright law) will be treated as such. Seller agrees to execute, without further consideration, assignments or other documents that may be necessary to establish Buyer's ownership of the Deliverables. Seller shall cooperate with Buyer or its designees and execute documents of assignment, declarations, and other documents which may be prepared by Buyer, and take other necessary actions as reasonably directed by Buyer, to effect the foregoing or to perfect or enforce any proprietary rights resulting from or related to these Terms or a Purchase Order. Such cooperation and execution shall be performed without additional compensation to Seller; provided, however, Buyer shall reimburse Seller for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred at the specific request of Buyer. Seller shall cause each of Seller's employees charged with performance of services for Buyer or granted access to confidential information to execute an agreement recognizing Buyer's ownership rights and concurring with the obligations of Seller as set forth herein. Seller hereby grants Buyer a non-exclusive, perpetual license to use, copy, and distribute all Seller property provided to Buyer as part of the Deliverables hereunder. If the Deliverable incorporates any intellectual property (including software) that Buyer has purchased or licensed from Seller pursuant to another written agreement, then such other agreement or provision shall control each party's rights with respect to such intellectual property.

Despite the preceding clauses, if the Deliverables incorporate any Intellectual Property owned or controlled by a third party, then Seller hereby grants to Buyer and its affiliates, or shall acquire on behalf of Buyer and its affiliates, a perpetual, royalty-free, world-wide, non-exclusive license or sublicense sufficient to allow full lawful use of the Deliverables that incorporate it, including the use of the Deliverables by Buyer's agents and independent contractors solely to furnish services to Buyer or its affiliates. Seller hereby represents and warrants to Buyer that it has or will have the right to grant such license or sublicense and to incorporate such intellectual property into the Deliverable.

THIRD PARTY HOSTS: The Subcontractor requirements of Section 39, including the consent requirements, shall also apply to any third parties Seller may desire to utilize to host the Software Services (a “Third Party Host”). Seller shall ensure that Buyer has the right to inspect the security and privacy policies and procedures of each Third Party Host. Seller shall ensure that any contract with a Third Party Host remains in effect at all times unless the hosting of the Software Service is to be transitioned to another Third Party Host, in which case Seller shall provide prompt (but at least sixty (60) days’) prior written notice to Buyer of such transition and Seller shall use commercially reasonable efforts to avoid any interruption to the Software Service while transitioning the Third Party Hosts. Seller represents and warrants that it will be responsible for any Third Party Host's compliance with these Terms, as well as Buyer's Supplier Privacy Standard and Information Security Standard in these Terms. Unless otherwise agreed upon in writing, the Third Party Host's operations and facilities (as they relate to hosting the Lilly Data) shall at all times remain within the continental United States. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing sentence shall not prohibit the Third Party Host from maintaining facilities or operations outside of the United States, but no operation related to the Software Service to be provided to Buyer shall be conducted outside of the United States. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Buyer acknowledges that the Software Services may be hosted and delivered from a data center operated by Amazon or another provider that is subject to industry-standard external auditing. Such data center will maintain a written information security program incorporating reasonable administrative, physical and technical safeguards, and compliant with all applicable privacy and data security laws and regulations, to protect any non-public Personal Information stored through the Software Services from unauthorized disclosure, use, access, alteration or loss. In the event that Seller wishes to change Third Party Hosts, Seller shall provide sixty (60) days' advanced notice of such change. If Buyer determines that the new Third Party Host does not meet its security requirements, it shall have the right, within thirty (30) days of notice by Seller of its intent to change Third Party Hosts, to terminate any applicable Purchase Order and, upon termination, receive a prorated refund for any Software Services paid for but unused.
- 45. AVAILABILITY. Seller shall host, provide, and make the Software Service available via a secure web portal hosted by Seller. Seller shall use its best efforts to ensure that the Software Service is available to Lilly, with full functionality, 24 hours per day, 7 days per week. "Force Majeure Event" means an event that a party could not reasonably control, could not reasonably anticipate when the obligation was undertaken, and could not avoid through the exercise of due diligence, including, without limitation, fire, pandemic, epidemic, act of God, war or other violence, or any law, order or requirement of any governmental agency or authority. An event that merely increases the cost or difficulty of providing the Equipment shall not alone constitute a Force Majeure Event.
 - d. "Spare" means a duplicate part, component or sub-assembly of the Equipment to replace one which has failed prematurely or exceeded the period of time for which it was intended to be operational or functional;
3. VARIATIONS TO TERMS, SCOPE AND SCHEDULE
 - a. No variations unless agreed in writing. No variation of the scope, schedule, place of manufacture of the Equipment, these Additional Equipment Terms, or any other material item in the Purchase Order, shall be applicable unless agreed in writing by Buyer.
 - b. Process for implementing changes. Buyer may at any time direct changes to the quantities, design, drawings and/or schedule that the Purchase Order requires, subject to the right of Buyer or Seller to request an appropriate adjustment to compensation and/or schedule to the extent appropriate. If such change causes an increase in the cost of the Equipment, necessitates an extension of the schedule or otherwise affects Seller's ability to fulfill the Purchase Order, then Seller shall give written notice to Buyer seeking an equitable adjustment as soon as practicable but in no event later than 14 days following receipt of a change request from Buyer or when the change first becomes known, whichever is earlier. Buyer will accept, amend or reject Seller's proposed adjustment within a reasonable time. Seller's failure to give such notice shall be deemed a waiver of its right to request increased compensation or an extension of the schedule. In the event the parties cannot agree upon a compensation or schedule adjustment, Buyer's proposed adjustment or decision not to make an adjustment, if any, shall apply, subject to the right of Seller to seek dispute resolution to the extent otherwise authorized. In no event will Seller have the right to suspend its work under the Purchase Order due to an inability to agree on a change or otherwise.
 - c. Excused delays. A party will be excused from performing its obligations under the Purchase Order to the extent its performance is delayed or prevented by the other party or a Force Majeure Event. Under no circumstances shall any event to the extent caused or contributed to by the negligence of an affected party or its suppliers be a Force Majeure Event for such party. To be excused, the party claiming a delay caused by the other party or a Force Majeure Event must (i) as soon as possible, but in any event within three (3) business days, notify the other that a delay caused by the other party or a Force Majeure Event has occurred and its anticipated effect on performance, including its expected duration, (ii) exercise due diligence to avoid, remove or overcome the delay and (iii) recommence performance as soon as possible.

 - a. Factory acceptance testing. Prior to shipping the Seller shall undertake a Factory Acceptance Test (FAT) of all Equipment at the premises of Seller or other manufacturer and shall submit a report of the results of the FAT to Buyer for its approval.
 - i. The Seller's report must establish the sufficient performance, precision and reliability of the Equipment for its intended purpose.
 - ii. The FAT may be witnessed by Buyer or such other person it may nominate to act on its behalf. The Seller shall notify Buyer twenty (20) days before the FAT to enable Buyer to appoint its representative(s) in sufficient time should Buyer decide to be present.

If Buyer conducts its own inspection and/or testing, Seller shall make available at no additional cost the necessary access and resources.
 - iv. Upon Buyer's request, Seller shall supply documentary confirmation of the origin and quality of the materials and components used in the Equipment.
 - v. Any participation by Buyer in the FAT and/or any inspection and/or testing by Buyer (or Buyer's decision not to participate in the FAT and/or conduct its own inspection and/or testing) shall not in any way affect the Seller's warranties or reduce or relieve Seller of its obligations under the Purchase Order or constitute a waiver of any of Buyer's rights.
 - b. Inspection and/or testing upon delivery. Upon the delivery of the Equipment or any part of it at its final destination Buyer shall be entitled to inspect and/or test, and to accept, reject or request adjustments to such Equipment or any part of it based upon what it finds. Buyer shall not be deemed to have accepted any Equipment until such inspection has occurred, notwithstanding any prior acknowledgement of receipt or prior payment. Buyer shall be entitled to return any rejected Equipment to the Seller at the Seller's cost. Breakages or damaged packages will not be accepted by Buyer. Buyer's inspection and/or testing upon delivery (or Buyer's decision not to conduct such inspection and/or testing) shall not in any way affect the Seller's warranties or reduce or relieve Seller of its obligations under the Purchase Order or constitute a waiver of any of Buyer's rights. Buyer may reject Goods which are not in accordance with the Agreement.

- c. Government-required inspections and testing. If required by any governmental authority, law or regulation, Seller shall, at its own cost, carry out its own testing of the Equipment.
- d. Site acceptance testing. The Seller shall undertake a Site Acceptance Test (SAT) to verify the performance of the Equipment in the plant and shall submit a report of the results of the SAT to Buyer for its approval.
 - i. The Seller's report must establish the sufficient performance, precision and reliability of the Equipment for its intended purpose.
 - ii. The SAT may be witnessed by Buyer or such other person it may nominate to act on its behalf. The Seller shall notify Buyer twenty (20) days before the SAT to enable Buyer to appoint its representative(s) in sufficient time should Buyer decide to be present.

 - iv. Any participation by Buyer in the SAT and/or any inspection and/or testing by Buyer (or Buyer's decision not to participate in the SAT and/or conduct its own inspection and/or testing) shall not in any way affect the Seller's warranties or reduce or relieve Seller of its obligations under the Purchase Order or constitute a waiver of any of Buyer's rights.
- e. Commissioning and training. Seller will complete separate commissioning of the Equipment and training of Buyer's personnel in the use of the Equipment in alignment with best practices in its industry or what is required by the Purchase Order, whichever obligations are greater.
- f. Additional testing. If further tests are judged necessary by Buyer or the Seller, these will be carried out at the advance cost of the Seller unless otherwise agreed in writing by the parties subject to the right of either party to seek an adjustment in compensation or schedule. In the interest of clarity, it is the parties' general intent that to the extent additional testing is necessary due to the failure of the Equipment to pass previous tests, Seller shall be responsible, and to the extent additional testing is outside the scope of what the parties agreed, Buyer shall be responsible.
