

RVSHARE ANNOUNCES TOP FALL TRAVEL DESTINATIONS AND BOOKING TRENDS While national parks remain popular attractions, two-thirds of top destinations are driven by festivals & events

RVshare, the largest peer-to-peer RV rental platform, finds that top travel destinations and trends for fall 2021 continue to be driven by the desire for memorable trips and experiences. Looking at recent data, RVshare finds that national parks continue to be popular attractions, with Yellowstone National Park, Zion National Park and the Grand Canyon still among the top ten destinations for September-November RV travel.

RVshare data also proves that out of the most frequently booked destinations for the next few weeks, nine out of the top 15 destinations are driven by major events & festivals.

Concerts, tailgates and NASCAR races are all drawing waves of bookings, including the Rocklahoma music festival in Pryor, OK; Gorge Amphitheater in Washington, which plans to host outdoor concerts like Dave Matthews; Talladega Superspeedway in Alabama and State College, in Pennsylvania home to the Pennsylvania State Nittany Lions.

RV renters are seeking vehicles for more than just road trips, as RVs prove to be the most comfortable and turn-key options for camping events and hosting family and friends for memorable tailgating and festival weekends.
