Engage More With Social

Social media plays a major role in helping you reach a larger audience. By producing various kinds of social content, you can reach more people and achieve your business goals. Incorporating each content type into your social feed allows you to maintain an engaged audience. Below are some ideas to help you get started.

Drive Awareness

Increases familiarity with your business, product, or service and grows your social media following.

Goal: Educate and boost public awareness

- Q&A interviews
- Questions
- Fill-in-the-blanks
- Behind-the-scenes photos/videos
- Tips and tricks
- Content promotion
- News/trending topics
- Company info
- Giveaways
- Contests
 - Enter-to-win
 - Share-to-win

Grow Contacts

Invites customers/prospects to connect with you via email through sign-up forms or other lead-generation pieces.

Goal: Educate and boost public awareness

- Contests
- Enter-to-win
- Downloadable content
- Email opt-in
- Event RSVPs

Promote Product/Service

Alerts customers and prospects to a product launch, service expansion, brand initiative, or promotion.

Goal: Increase revenue or acquire new customers

- Ads
- Promotions and sales
- Product features (images/video)
- Customer testimonials
- Product teasers/previews
- Tutorials
- Fundraising kickoff

Customer Advocacy

The digital version of word-of-mouth advertising.

Goal: Establish long-lasting customer relationships, boost brand awareness, and increase sales by amplifying positive customer experiences.

- Customer stories/quotes
- Polls/voting
- User-generated content
- Product reviews

YouTube

How Often Should You Post on Social?

Social media is a great way to share important news, products, and updates with your followers, but how often should you be posting? Here are some guidelines to help you create a consistent and effective social schedule.

Facebook

Three to seven times a week

LinkedIn

Three to five posts a week

Pinterest

One to five posts per day

Instagram

Feed: No more than one time per day (treat Reels as part of your feed).

Stories: Three to 10 stories per day.

YouTube

Two to three videos per week

Content Mix Guidelines

Social media is a great way to share content with your followers, but how often should you be posting? Here are some guidelines to help you create a consistent and effective social schedule.

4-1-1 Approach

For every six postings you publish, four should be non-promotional content, one should be a soft sell (think event invite), and one a hard sell (buy now).

The Rule of Thirds

Not to be confused with photography composition rules, the rule of third says 1/3 of your posts should be promotional, 1/3 should be non-promotional and useful, and 1/3 should engage your audience.

80/20 Rule

Out of all the posts you publish, 80% of posts should contain non-promotional and useful content and 20% should contain promotional content.

5-3-2 Approach

For every ten posts you publish, five should be posts from other relevant sources, three should be content you've created (promotional or non), and two should engage your audience and humanize your brand.

Stand out of the crowd with emails that pop!

Asking yourself these three questions and adhering to email best practices will allow you to create and send emails that resonate with your subscribers.

1. What are you trying to accomplish? — Headline
2. Why should the reader care? — Message body
3. How can the reader get involved and what action do they need to take? — Call to action

Subject Lines

Creating subject lines that are eye-catching is the key to great email engagement. After all, before someone reads your email, they'll need to open it. Here is some subject line inspiration sure to stand out in cluttered inboxes.

Want to create standout subject lines of your own?

- ☐ Use personalization when it makes sense. Personalization can help create a stronger connection with your customers and help increase open rates when used properly. Personalize by name, location, etc.
- ☐ Stay short and sweet. Subject line: 4 to 7 words (or 40 characters). Preheader text: 5 to 8 words.
- ☐ Be strategic with formatting. Use ALL CAPS, punctuation, and emojis thoughtfully.
- ☐ Subject line and preheader text should work together. The subject line gives readers a reason to open, the preheader provides context.
- ☐ Ask a question. Questions can pique your reader's interest.
- ☐ Include a deadline. Create a sense of urgency by showing your message is timely
- ☐ A/B Test. Test different subject lines to discover what subject lines work best for your audience.

Best Way to Design an Email for Conversions + Personalization

Want to create an email that has an immediate impact? Here are some tips to help you write and design an email that's eye-catching, easy to read, and informative.

1. From Name (the sender)

This is the first thing your subscribers see; use a recognizable from-name as the sender – whether your business name or a personal name. Note: Your audience gets used to the sender, so make sure to stick to the same one.

2. Subject Line

The subject line determines if your customer will open your email, so it should be enticing, engaging, and relevant to the content. Keep it to 4-7 words (or under 50 characters).

3. Helpful Preheader

The preheader is an extension of the subject line and provides additional context. Be sure to keep it short and sweet, between 5 and 8 words.

4. Header

Use the header to encourage subscribers to read the main message of your email. Be sure to include brand elements.

5. Personalize Messages

Personalization can be helpful for building customer relationships. Gather information from your audience and personalize content for each recipient when applicable.

6. Content

Content should focus on your main message. Keep copy concise by focusing on relevant content and using a clear call to action. Utilize graphic elements for more appeal and to increase engagement.

7. Organize content into sections

Organize content into consistent sections. This simplifies the email creation process, allows you to set content expectations, and gives your subscribers something to look forward to.

8. Branding

To keep a consistent look, add your logo and use your brand colors (stick to 4 or less). Pro Tip: Customize your templates to match your brand identity and save creation time.

9. Images

Use high-quality, attention-grabbing imagery/GIFs.

10. Clear Call to Action

Be sure to include a clear, concise call to action. A good call to action should tell your subscriber exactly what you want them to do.

11. Footer

Include social icons with links to your social media pages to encourage your subscribers to stay connected with you. Your footer should also include an unsubscribe link and a mailing address as well.

Pro Tip: Optimize for Mobile. With many emails being opened on mobile, it's crucial your email is optimized for smaller screens. Utilizing responsive email templates ensures your email looks great and automatically adjusts to fit any screen size.

Meet Customers Where They Are with SMS

Your audience is on-the-go more than ever. SMS text message marketing can help you reach them where they are, even when they're out and about. Here are some examples of how you can use text messages to drive awareness, sales and even customer loyalty.

Drive Awareness:

Grow Customer Loyalty:

10:25am

All or Muffin: Thanks for your purchase! Use this coupon to get BOGO muffins at your next visit. <https://conta.cc/khjkh> Reply STOP to unsubscribe

12:00pm

3:16pm

All or Muffin: Love our goodies as much as we love our customers? Leave us a review on Google! <https://conta.cc/khjkh> Reply STOP to unsubscribe

Promote Products and Services:

All or Muffin: Only 10 days left to get 10% off specialty cakes and pastry orders. <https://conta.cc/khjkh> Reply STOP to unsubscribe

All or Muffin: To cookie or not to cookie? The answer is to cookie. Always. <https://conta.cc/khjkh> Reply STOP to unsubscribe

Best Practices

If you're sending SMS text messages, here are a few best practices to remember:

- Always include your company name in your text messages.
- Recipients must be able to opt out.
- Shortened URLs create better texts and a better experience.
- Marketing texts can only be sent between the hours of 8 a.m. and 9 p.m. (local to the recipient).
- Exclusive discounts and coupons are perfect for SMS offers.
- SMS text messages should be concise and relevant at the time received.
- Even during your busy season, don't overwhelm your customers with text messages.
- Remember that emojis can be used, but sparingly (they increase character count and some are not universal).
- SMS is a very personal channel—make your texts casual, conversational, and friendly!

Tying It All Together

Throughout this guide, you've seen how each individual digital channel can work – but what does it look like when it's all put together? Each of the efforts outlined in this guide can work independently, but each step builds on one another to boost your business throughout the year.

See how a full marketing campaign might look to your audience, from start to finish.

Social Media:

Your audience gains awareness of your business through an Instagram post and clicks through to your website and/or landing page.

Landing Pages:

Once on your landing page, they share their email and additional information and are added to your contact list for future outreach.

A landing page form for 'ALL OR MUFFIN BREADS AND BAKED GOODS'. The form has a dark green header with the brand name and logo. Below the header, it says 'Sign up to say in touch!' and 'Don't be on a "bread-to-know" basis - sign up for our mailing list to keep up on our latest products, specials and classes!'. The form fields include 'Email', 'First Name', 'Last Name', and 'Birthday'. There is a yellow 'Sign Up' button at the bottom.

Email:

You email your contact list about upcoming events, where engaged audience members register for an event.

SMS Text Messaging:

Contacts who also shared a phone number are now eligible for exclusive SMS text coupons, reminders and other info.

Events:

At your event, you are able to interact with engaged, interested customers. This event can provide great opportunities for photos and other content for future use!

From here, the campaign and contact cycle can start over again – for instance, with a social post featuring photos from your event and a link to a sign-up form where people can learn about your other upcoming events!

A marketing campaign isn't just a single moment in time or set of tactics – each touchpoint with your audience builds on the last. How and when your audience reacts to your touchpoints helps you learn more about how to best reach out to them. Build contact lists consisting of your event attendees and other active customers to customize future outreach and ensure a healthy, engaged audience.
