Vintage Report

Listed below is a guide to the vintage, some musings, general steers and a lowdown on the wines and growers in 2022:

As good as it gets...?

After the travails of 2021, this latest vintage is a gift to both buyers and to the vigneron who have fashioned these incredible wines. After coining my vintage report 'The good the bad and the ugly' in 2021, then surely 2022 deserves to be 'As good as it gets'...

2022 is that rare thing, a Burgundian vintage that is equal parts (relatively) bountiful, consistent across both reds and whites, and most importantly, very high quality. It also heralds the return of the new normal (again), in the form of hot and dry vintage conditions, following the unique, frost damaged aberration that was 2021.

The vintage, growing season & wines.

The year started out with relatively mild temperatures. However, crucially there wasn't any repeat of unseasonably high temperatures in early spring which were the root cause of so many woes in 2021, accelerating budbreak in the vines (especially Chardonnay) ahead of the guillotining action of a cold snap and frost. That said, things did get perilously close in early April, putting the whole of the wine growing community on heightened alert. Thankfully temperatures didn't drop to the levels seen in 2021, and bar localised incidents in the Côte de Beaune and up in Chablis, the region escaped largely unscathed. However, this again articulates the razor-edged margins Burgundian vigneron exist within in their annual pursuit of greatness.

The late spring and summer was generally warm and dry, recording higher than average temperatures, albeit without the significant spikes seen in 2018-20 or even 2003. Flowering commenced towards the end of May under fine conditions and signalled initially towards a healthy crop. Significantly, the region then saw generous rainfall in June (circa a month's worth in an hour!), which in turn helped consolidate the water reserves for many vineyards and set the vines up until harvest. Jean-Michel Chartron even remarked to us that the rain 'saved the vintage'...It should be noted though that Gevrey Chambertin and the northern end of the Côte de Nuits took the brunt and were overly replenished! Many vineyards were left literally swamped, resulted in standing water, and even mud slides in the village itself. By and large though, this was the only real 'gulp' moment, and didn't dramatically affect the overall picture.

As harvest approached, many vigneron remarked to us how healthy the vines and fruit were. Most commenced picking relatively early, around the end of August in the Côte de Beaune and slightly later (late August/early September) in the Côte de Nuits and up in Chablis. The conditions for picking were practically perfect throughout the harvest, which had the knock-on effect of helping planning by providing the largest possible window for picking. This is highly conducive to a relaxed and measured plot-by-plot picking schedule (no scrambling to beat the rain this year!). The fruit once picked and inspected was indeed some of the healthiest seen in recent years – in both quantity and quality. The yields were in modern day terms comparatively generous, with most reporting figures of circa 40-45 hl/ha.

Even at this early juncture, hopes were high for both precious volume and quality in 2022.

To capitalise on the bounty of the vintage, many vigneron talked of practising subtlety in the winery, with the aim of seeking out elegance in the finished wines. Gentle extractions, or infusions, being the order of the day again. Equally, in stark comparison to 2021, growers had the confidence to increase levels of whole bunch fermentation, whereas others, including the likes of Etienne Grivot, were staunch de-stemmers. It is, as ever, a divisive subject, both with vigneron themselves and among those of us tasting. It has to be said we came across fine examples in both camps, and for those that did there was great balance and terroir definition apparent. Ultimately, 2022 is a year where both approaches have in the main worked, and surely what makes Burgundy special is that growers have different approaches and produce different styles of wines. We love Burgundy wines for this precise reason – they are not homogenised!

Is 2022 comparable to another? We often find it awkward asking, and growers seem to find it awkward answering...

It's fair to say that 2022 is hard to pin down. However, there is general feeling now that the region, growers and even vines have become more adept at dealing with the increased range of extremes in the growing season than at any point in their shared recent history. Across examples we tasted, the 2022 vintage has aided locking in such freshness and balance across both reds and whites. You almost need to pinch yourself when you consider that it was such a warm year! Furthermore, in comparison to the recent 'solar' vintages (2018, 2019 & 2020) the alcohol levels are reassuringly lower, with the vast majority hovering between 12.5-13.5%.

I'd venture 2022 is quite possibly the greatest success seen across the board since the outset of the solar vintages in 2018. Interestingly, I'd also find it hard to choose between reds or whites this year.

Stylistically, these are some of the most outright pleasurable young red and whites we have come across in recent years. These will be a joy to uncork. In many cases, the wines are both accessible and pleasing to the purists amongst you: freshness, balance and polish are three words that sum up many of these young wines.

The reds are textbook Pinot Noir, with beautiful dancing red fruits dominating the tasting spectrum. The whites meanwhile show off classical orchard and stone fruit characteristics, generally without veering into the baked and tropical. Both colours will prove to be tantalising in their youth, but equally, many have the bones to cellar for a significant time, and in the finest cases will become benchmark wines for the region.

Yet, most pleasingly of all - these are wines that sing of their ancient terroir, and thus could be nothing else but Burgundian.

Conclusion

As to the market, it is no secret that Burgundy prices have ratcheted up over the past decade. The good news is that in 2022, producers have largely maintained their 2021 prices. Just bear in mind, this is Burgundy! This means that even in a relatively bumper harvest such as 2022, the quantities produced are still, in many respects, miniscule. Then add to the equation global demand from the established markets (such as us in the UK & the US), and rampant thirst from the new (South America, Asia etc.) – and you have a situation where demand far outstrips supply. Thus, I'd strongly urge you take the opportunity to purchase whilst the wines are available. This is not hyperbolic, just the new reality.

What about the quality? As has been underlined, there is huge potential across the board when considering the wines and the stories they will undoubtedly tell over the coming decade, or even decades. Equally, across the appellations there is great consistency and furthermore, we are noticing that the quality gulf between the established order and those 'off the beaten track' is narrowing. There is great wine to be had even at the Bourgogne or village level, making this an excellent vintage to discover a new grower or new wines.

In many ways, these wines are a dream and are everything that one looks for in Burgundy. They are most timely, in tune, and in very much in balance.

Personally, I'll be buying across the board this year, and highly recommend you do the same.

Vintage Tips & Recommendations

Appellation & producers to consider:

Chablis

A special mention firstly for Chablis. In my view, there is nowhere producing wines with such good price versus quality in Burgundy.

We were smitten with the wines when we visited, and in 2022 they have achieved a great alchemy of rounded, balanced wines, all whilst maintaining that special steely Chablis character. Is it Chablis like it used to be? This is the question often asked, and one that is hard to answer. If pushed, it has probably evolved somewhat into a slightly riper, rounded style. However, be in no doubt that these are sensational in 2022.

Producers to look out for:

Samuel Billaud
William Fèvre
Domaine des Malandes
Domaine Servin

The Mâconnais

We visited the Mâconnais for the first time on an en primeur buying trip. After a tip off from Marc Buffet in Volnay, we headed to see The Bret Bros, who have forged a serious reputation over the past twenty years and are now one of the leading lights of the region with their Domaine offerings under the La Soufrandière label. These are angular, taut and highly terroir focussed. Equally, they benefit from some superb old vines, which add great depth and complexity. Highly recommended.

Côte de Beaune – red and white

2022 is a superb year to dive into the great whites on offer, but equally so the reds. I'd heartily recommend the very impressive Meursault producer Domaine Matrot. Their whites have gathered a huge reputation in recent years amongst the critics. However, from a value standpoint, and those looking for pure, tender examples of Pinot Noir, their reds are a no brainer. On the same front, Volnay's wonderful Domaine Joseph Voillot has pleasingly produced some of the best reds we came across.

Producers to look out for:

Domaine Jean Chartron (white)
Domaine Antoine Jobard (white)
Domaine Alain Chavy (White)

Domaine Matrot (red & white)

Côte de Nuits

We are incredibly lucky to get access to some of the top names of the rarefied postcodes that dot the Côte de Nuits. Of particular note, my tip would be both the Domaine and Négociant offerings from Drouhin-Laroze. This was one of the best tastings we had. Equally, I'm delighted to be able to offer a comprehensive selection (including all the Grands Crus) from the revered name that is Domaine Faiveley. Last but not least, our great friend in Chambolle-Musigny – Dominique Leguen (Domaine Hudelot-Baillet) has produced another vintage offering that surely now pits him amongst the very best in this exclusive village. Owing to our long-term support we now have one of the largest allocations in the world of this special producer – these are sensational wines.

Producers to look out for:

Domaine Faiveley (red & white)
Domaine Drouhin-Laroze (red & white)
Domaine Hudelot-Baillet (red & white)

Domaine Heresztyn-Mazzini (Red)
Domaine Jean Grivot (Red)
Domaine Lamarche (Red)
Domaine Henri Gouges (Red)
Domaine Bertagna (Red)

Beaujolais

Finally, a special recommendation, coming from a little further south in the ascending, and still criminally undervalued Beaujolais.

When visiting Domaine des Malandes in Chablis, we also took the opportunity to taste with the revered Moulin-à-Vent vigneron Richard Rottiers. For those that don't know Richard, he is also the winemaker at Malandes (his family's original property). His fabulous Moulin-à-Vent wines are becoming some of the most sought after in the region, and I wouldn't hesitate to recommend to all levels and budgets of buyers. Tip - buy the village wines for earlier drinking, but the single vineyards have a decade of cellaring potential.

What the critics say...

“I believe that the 2022s belong in any serious Burgundy collector’s cellar.”
Allen Meadows, Burghound

“I cannot remember a Burgundy vintage that elicited so much joy from barrel.”
Neal Martin, Vinous.com

“All other things being equal, I would recommend going large in 2022, large in the sense of a broad range because there are so many really good wines at all levels.”
Jasper Morris, InsideBurgundy.com

“They’re wines it’s hard not to love.”
William Kelley

“The wines are very easy to taste and the reds especially real charmers.”
Jancis Robinson, JancisRobinson.com

“Just how was it possible for the hottest vintage on record to produce such fresh and balanced wines? While it’s an overused word when it comes to describing vintages, in this case ‘miraculous’ wouldn’t be an exaggeration.”
Allen Meadows, Burghound

“The 2022 vintage is Burgundy’s latest trick: a treasure trove of bright ‘n bushy-tailed whites and reds in a season that implied such wines would be impossible, wines predestined to give immense drinking pleasure.”
Neal Martin, Vinous.com

“2022 is an amazingly consistent vintage. I tasted almost no poor wines. Everything was good to very good, with occasional touches of greatness.”
Jasper Morris, InsideBurgundy.com

“The 2022s have been a pleasure to taste, given their charming, harmonious style in both colors.”
William Kelley

“A modern classic.”
Allen Meadows, Burghound

“The Burgundy 2022 vintage defies all expectations. At best, it presents life-affirming, vivacious wines that leave you grinning like Cheshire cat.”

Domaine Antoine Jobard

Rue du Leignon, Meursault

“Antoine Jobard had big shoes to fill following his father François, but this is a grower with the “touch” when it comes to Meursault.”

Neal Martin

Antoine Jobard took over from his father François on his retirement twelve years ago, becoming the fifth generation to take charge of the Domaine. The 2011 vintage was the first time we had tasted chez Jobard and the wines hugely impressed. Since then the bar has been raised higher still each year. Here is a perfect example of the trend seen in Meursault over the last few years where the archetypal sweet-fruited, buttery, highly-oaked wines that dominate popular perception of the appellation have started to give way to wines that are more lightly oaked and earlier picked, keeping a tension and focus and allowing the terroir to better express itself. Jobard now produces "some of the most long lived Meursaults" (Andrew Jefford, The New France). The flavour profile too has shifted too, from tropical fruits to citrus.

While Jobard’s wines are notable for their wonderful freshness, it is interesting to note that Antoine himself told us he prefers hot vintages like 2022 to cool ones like 2021, valuing density over acidity. He sees 2022 ageing well—historically a strong point at this address.

"Mid lemon and lime. The bouquet is not overtly weighty. The hillside vineyards and those below complement each other. There is certainly excellent energy beneath here, a fine thread to freshen the weight of white orchard fruit. Impeccable village Meursault. Drink from 2027-2034. Tasted: October 2023."

86-88 Pts Jasper Morris, InsideBurgundy.com, January 2024

"The 2022 Meursault Village, a blend of Jobard's lieux-dits, which has been the case for three vintages now, has a classic nose of orchard fruit, walnut and a touch of crushed stone. The palate is very well-balanced with a lime and citrus peel opening, crisp acidity and a little fatness towards the finish. Very fine."

"Light green tint to the lemon yellow. The nose is quite crisp though perhaps with a floral top note. An unexpected sucrosity in the middle of the palate, and a light oakiness to finish. Some precision in evidence despite the weight. Drink from 2027-2031. Tasted: October 2023."

"The 2022 Puligny-Montrachet Le Trézín has an almost clinical, granite-scented bouquet, strict and slightly austere. The well-balanced palate has a taut entry, very pure and tensile, with flecks of tropical fruit decorating the persistent finish. What a lovely Puligny."

"Clear fresh colour. Some white fruit in the vineyard's more foursquare style. Then some sucrosity on the palate, as the fruit fills the mouth, all white fruit, a good broad base to make a wine of substance. A wine which can stand up to a richer sauce base cuisine. Drink from 2029-2036. Tasted: October 2023."

92-94 Pts Jasper Morris, InsideBurgundy.com, January 2024

"The 2022 Meursault Poruzots 1er Cru has a more candied bouquet than the Blagny, well-defined, hints of quince and lemon thyme merging with each swirl of the glass. The palate is beautifully balanced with a keen thread of acidity, quite tensile but discrete, with a touch of curry leaf on the finish prolonging the aftertaste. Superb."

“Marc Bachelet (...) and his brother Alexandre have set the standard not just in Maranges, but perhaps in the Côte de Beaune, their wines triumphing in many a blind “Burgfest” tasting. Bachelet-Monnot is on fire at the moment.”

Neal Martin

Based in picturesque Dezize-Lès-Maranges, but with several parcels of Meursault, Chassagne- and Puligny-Montrachet village and Premier Cru vineyards, Domaine Bachelet-Monnot are one of the most exciting additions to our range over the last decade and have already got quite a following. The estate is run by brothers Marc and Alexandre and their wines, both red and white, are delicious, each seeming to get the balance between drinkability and structure just right.

The brothers' father Jean-François Bachelet told us that the secret of 2022's success was that the rains came at just the right time. He sees the vintage as combining the freshness of 2017 and the density of 2020. Not a bad place to be, and the wines backed this up by combining focus and expression. As well as a strong showing on their home turf of Maranges, a particular mention must go out to the wonderful Chassagne village, rivalling that of Alex Moreau for out and out quality this year.

“There is enough fruit to make several tanks of La Fussièrè with different levels of whole bunch vinification which are then blended. A glowing mid to deep purple. The bouquet has a depth of dark raspberry fruit, with a little strawberry as well. Quite an interesting wave of fruit through the palate, a fresher style of red berry, but nuanced and with good length. Some pepper to conclude. Drink from 2027-2032. Tasted: October 2023.”

“The 2022 Maranges Rouge La Fussièrès 1er Cru is a blend of several cuvées with different proportions of whole bunches, averaging around 30%. It has more nuance on the nose than the Vieilles Vignes; the stems are neatly incorporated. The palate is medium-bodied with a sapid entry that gets the saliva flowing. With chalky tannins, quite firm structure and a hint of licorice on the finish, this Maranges deserves 3 or 4 years in bottle.”

"This plot has always been white at the domaine, planted by their grandfather. Alex and Marc reckon that the upper part slopes at the Santenay end of Maranges is where to plant your chardonnay. Mid lemon colour. The bouquet has a certain plummy quality. Then the wine is much more refined on the palate, with character which I don't always find in white Fussière. Drink from 2026-2030. Domaine Heresztyn-Mazzini

Rue Richebourg, Gevrey-Chambertin

“This is a fine address if you are seeking an alternative to, say, Armand Rousseau. Heresztyn-Mazzini is in the same mould as their neighbour, Pierre Duroché: very hands-off winemaking, letting the vineyard speak; mineral-driven and elegant wines... Yes, I know the name is a bit of a tongue-twister, but trust me, the wines are worth seeking out .”

Neal Martin

Based right in the heart of Gevrey-Chambertin, 2020 is the sixth vintage we have offered from this Domaine and the wines were once again on top form. Run by Florence and her husband Simon, in the vineyard the operation is run organically, with full biodynamic certification due to follow imminently. This of course necessitates a painstaking level of attention to detail in the vineyards, something that is also in evidence in the winery, with every decision, for example about the percentage of whole clusters to use, being pored over and each cuvée being treated separately according to its own needs. The wines are an absolute pleasure to drink, with the silky texture of the tannins and the purity of the fruit noteworthy.

Florence wisely sidestepped the question as to comparative vintages, highlighting 2022's unique combination of red fruit charm, lifted elegance and good structure. “Very Pinot Noir” she said, which sums it up nicely.

“For my palate, the results are some of the finest white wines produced on the Côte de Beaune, and they occupy a prominent place in my personal cellar.”

William Kelley

A trip to Domaine Moreau is always a treat. The tiny winery is attached to the bustling family home and the Moreaus are always very welcoming. The winery's roots stretch back to 1809 and original owner Auguste Moreau, but it took on its current guise in 1930 under Marcel Moreau. Bernard started to look after the vineyards at the tender age of fourteen and Moreau's reputation as one of the top Chassagne producers was well established by the 1980s. Bernard's son Alex is now in charge of the estate.

Today the estate is much reduced in size, with a combination of a split with brother Benoît and the end of fermage contracts meaning Alex has barely a quarter of the liquid he once used to have access to. That's a shame, but quality is as sky-high as ever and in a vintage that arguably put Chassagne as the best appellation, there's even more reason to grab these wines when you can.

“This was a good set of wines from Gouges, capped by two wondrous Nuits Saint-Georges from Les Vaucrains and Les Saint-Georges... Those who appreciate the Gouges style of winemaking, which I feel has been fine-tuned in the last five or six years, will find much to like in 2022.”

Neal Martin

Domaine Gouges is one of Nuits-Saint-Georges’s most famous Domaines and one of the appellation’s best – “the doyen of Nuits-Saint-Georges with magnificent wines” says Clive Coates MW. The Gouges family have been owners of this Domaine since 1919 and founder Henri is something of a Burgundian revolutionary. He was a key player in the battle against fraud and was the first Burgundian to bottle his own wine because it guarantees provenance and therefore quality. Domaine bottling is now practised throughout Burgundy. Young Antoine Gouges today runs the Domaine with the same drive and passion for quality as his legendary forefathers.

The Domaine’s wines were renowned under Henri as some of the most structured and long-lived of Nuits-Saint-Georges. However, Antoine (and Gregory before him) has been working towards a more approachable style. That said, these are still wines very much built for ageing.

“Racked, and thus fully blended, to be bottled by the end of November. Mid purple, with a perfumed dark red fruit. Vigorous, well-balanced tannins, and good but not trenchant acidity. A fine long finish which remains fresh even though the fruit is clearly ripe. Very persistent. Drink from 2029-2037. Tasted: November 2023.”

“The 2022 Nuits Saint-Georges Village is aged in 25% new oak. There’s bright red berry fruit, light sous-bois and a hint of potpourri blossom on the well-defined nose. The palate is medium-bodied with powdery tannins. Modest depth, cohesive with a gradual crescendo on the finish; this is definitely a level up from the previous vintage.”

“Racked, to bottle in December. 35 hl/ha. A darker purple, just a little oak showing on the nose alongside the dark raspberry fruit. The grain of tannin is very good, and ideally integrated, with just the right acidity as well. Drink from 2030-2038. Tasted: November 2023.”
91-94 Pts, Jasper Morris, InsideBurgundy.com, January 2024

“The 2022 Nuits Saint-Georges Clos des Porrets-Saint-Georges 1er Cru had been racked the previous week, but it was essentially the final wine I tasted as it was just about to be bottled. It has a stricter and more backward bouquet than the Chênes Carteaux: blackberry and wild strawberry fruit, the 20% new oak neatly folded in. The palate is medium-bodied with quite firm tannins, leaning more towards black fruit laced with tar and tobacco. Quite Morey-like towards the finish with impressive persistence. Give this two or three years in bottle to shave the edges. Very fine.”

"Still in barrel. An intense deep purple. A little wood alongside the relatively heady fruit. Quite ripe, super succulent, plenty of plums, yet with some mineral tannins at the back which require longer elevage. The tannins are on the firmer side. Drink from 2031-2038. Tasted: November 2023."

"The 2022 Nuits Saint-Georges Les Pruliers 1er Cru was cropped at 22hL/ha due to the hail and matured in 25% new oak. It is quite concentrated on the nose with dense red fruit, although it lacks the amplitude of Gouges's other cuvées, I suspect hail denuded complexity. The palate is well-balanced with a rounded texture, no hard edges here. It is smooth and quite sensual, with licorice tinge and mainly black fruit towards the finish. Afford it 4-5 years in bottle, but don't set expectations to "max," and you'll enjoy this wine."

"30% new wood. Fresh mid purple. The bouquet is wonderfully lifted, Antoine explains they use a particularly light hand with this cuvee to avoid the potential austerity. The acidity is fine and the tannins are ripe, while there is still that clear backbone to the fruit which Vaucrains should have. Very persistent, and such high-class fruit. Drink from 2032-2040. "The 2022 Nuits Saint-Georges Les Vaucrains 1er Cru was picked towards the beginning of the harvest and is matured in 30% new oak. This is blessed with some of the best aromatics from Gouges: detailed and mineral-driven, a real and tangible sense of Pinoté here with a palpable sense of energy. The medium-bodied palate has filigree tannins, joyous red berry fruit and wonderful tension, fanning out with joie-de-vivre on the finish. The infusion/low sulfur regime plus fewer punch downs for this wine has really seen this achieve new heights."

"Mid purple. This is almost quite raisiny but just keeps on the fresher side. At first more in supe ripe cherries, but the characteristic darker plum fruit comes up behind. Still some resolution of the tannins required but this is a substantial wine which is still sleeping. This should work out well unless the degree of ripeness dominates in later life. This seems to "grow" in the glass. The palate is medium-bodied with silky smooth tannins. It's very pure, so pure that it almost disguises the backbone of this Les Saint-Georges, gaining depth towards the finish with touches of pain d'épice and white pepper. “In keeping with Grivot’s style, these are more fruit-forward and richer wines, which is no surprise given the later picking... The cluster of wines from around Vosne is exemplary.”
Neal Martin

One of the Côte d’Or’s greatest and longest-established Domaines, Grivot is now predominantly in the hands of Mathilde, who in the last few years has been gradually taking over from her father Etienne.

The house style remains the same, with late harvesting and extended periods of barrel ageing resulting in a muscular, structured style that can be difficult to taste when young, but which after a few years in the cellar open up to reveal beautiful black-fruit driven wines. The quality of the Domaine’s holdings helps in no small part, however the Grivot magic is evident across the range, even on the Gamay-based Coteaux Bourguignons.

Grivot’s 2022s were absolutely stunning, even by their standards. Holding their nerve and harvesting later than other, the gamble paid off. Perhaps it was the green harvest performed when others didn’t? In any case, quality is sky high across the range, from the lip smacking Coteaux Bourguignon through to the towering Richebourg.

Méo-Camuzet is always one of the highlights of our Burgundy primeur offerings. If you have not had the pleasure of encountering the wines before, they are one of the biggest names not only in their home town of Vosne-Romanée, but in all of Burgundy. Stylistically they produce very polished, but exotic, rich wines which take oak well. They are very ageworthy, yet show well in their relative youth. Individual vineyard expression is very strong, so it is worth reading the individual notes in detail. Some stems (rather than whole bunches) are added, but no more than about 10%.

As well as some of the most heavily oversubscribed Premiers Crus of all, Méo-Camuzet’s line up includes a noteworthy, affordable, white—the ever-popular Hautes-Côtes de Nuits ‘Clos Saint Philibert’ from a plot situated 300 yards above the Grand Cru Echezeaux.

“The 2022s are perhaps the best that I have tasted to date. I was blown away by their Meursault Les Perrières, but don’t ignore their Blagny La Pièce Sous la Bois, whose higher elevation was an advantage in the warm summer, their very useful Meursault Rouge or over-achieving Maranges Villages. This is a domaine going place. Hitch a ride.”

Neal Martin

Domaine Matrot was established in 1909 by Joseph Matrot and had been run solely by his understated but talented grandson Thierry since 1976, with 2015 his last vintage before handing over the reins to his daughters Elsa and Adèle. They are now renowned as “a top-class Meursault producer” (Wine International) and own some of the best plots in Meursault’s finest vineyards.

The sisters, like their father before them, believe in using oak only very sparingly. They are firm believers that quality comes from the vineyard, so let the fruit do the talking.

Neal Martin’s comment about 2022 being “perhaps the best that I have tasted” here rings true with our 12 years of tasting at the estate too. The balance and precision on the wines was standout, with things really kicking up a gear or two when we tasted the Premiers Crus. The sisters are taking this Domaine into the top tier of Meursault producers.

None of Burgundy's important houses have undergone a more radical evolution in recent years than Faiveley."

William Kelley

While Faiveley's vineyard holdings are extensive by Burgundian standards, quality reflects the fact that this is a family Domaine, making wine from parcels under its own ownership. In fact, they care for their wines so much, this is the only cellar I have ever seen where the most precious wine is kept in a barrel closed with a lockable bung!

The number of decades-old examples of Faiveley's wines that are pulled out for retrospective tastings underlines the fact that these wines are likely to appeal greatly to the traditionalist who is looking for more structure and for wines to cellar rather than for instant gratification. Some of the most impressive Burgundies we have tasted are from this Domaine, but all of them have been at the peak of maturity, so patience is certainly rewarded here.

The first 2022s to cross our lips was Faiveley's range, and what a great impression they made. An enviable line up of Grands Crus is on offer here and some deft-touch winemaking has maximised the potential of these great sites.

"A brilliant intense purple. Immediately on the nose there is a nobility over and above anything else in the cellar. The fruit swells across the palate without losing its sense of identity. There is an equilibrium from perfect structure backing this intensity of fruit. Harmonious structure, well integrated oak and impressive length. Drink from 2030-2040. Tasted: October 2023."

94-96 Pts Jasper Morris, InsideBurgundy.com, January 2024

"The 2022 Corton Clos des Cortons Faiveley Grand Cru has a potent nose: think of grandmother's potpourri you smelled in her old house. It almost overwhelms that red fruit behind it. The palate is well-balanced with pure red cherry, wild strawberry, and finely-knit tannins. It's one of the more elegant Cortons tasted with a touch of piquancy on the finish. Delightful. Drink after 8-10 years if you can resist temptation."

"30% whole bunch vinification. The colour is more purple than crimson. The bouquet is extremely elegant and shows some concentration. A slightly firm finish at the moment but the élevage is not finished yet, and this should be resolved with extra time. Drink from 2030-2038. Tasted: October 2023."

93-96 Pts Jasper Morris, InsideBurgundy.com, January 2024

"An exuberantly spicy nose features notes of clove, anise, sandalwood and jasmine tea on the nose of mostly black cherry, all of which is framed in moderately generous wood. There is outstandingly intensity to the utterly delicious flavors that culminate in a strikingly persistent and balanced finish where a touch of wood eventually reappears. This could use better depth but a few years of keeping should prove helpful."

Avenue d'Oberwesel, Chablis

“The 30-hectare Domaine Servin, ably directed by François Servin and Australian-born winemaker Marc Cameron, continues to number among Chablis's under-appreciated addresses... This domaine comes warmly recommended.”

William Kelley

Documented by the monks of Saint Martin for owning vineyards as far back as the 16th century, successive generations of the Servin family have continued the tradition of winemaking in Chablis ever since.

Today the approach is very much a mixture of modern and traditional techniques. The best vineyard sites are hand harvested to ensure fruit arrives at optimum ripeness. Single plot vinification takes place in a mixture of stainless steel and oak, letting the differences in terroir shine in each wine. The vines average 40 years and most of the sites are on Kimmeridgian limestone soils. This gives the wines their power, concentration and minerality which is so typical of the Domaine's style. The Grands Crus in particular have great cellaring potential.

In reviewing Marc's 2022s, Neal Martin calls Servin “a rather under-estimated Chablis producer”, but that is not the case with us or our customers, having been loyal buyers for many years.

"The 2021 Chablis Vieilles Vignes Massale is 100% fermented and aged in used barrels for up to 24 months. It has a touch of beeswax on the nose, veering into yellow fruit. The palate is well-balanced thanks to a fine spine of acidity, with more tension than the Chablis Village and a prickle of spice on the finish. Worth seeking out - very fine."

90-92 Pts, Neal Martin, Vinous.com, July 2023

"A discreet though not imperceptible application of wood sets off airy, cool and pretty aromas of mostly white orchard fruit, lemon-lime and sea breeze character. There is again excellent volume to the intense medium-bodied flavors that also conclude in a clean, dry, long and balanced finale where a touch of youthful austerity slowly emerges. This too is very good."

"A cool and attractively perfumed nose freely offers up its array of ripe white and yellow peach, citrus confit and enough wood influence to merit pointing out. There is excellent richness to the relatively big-bodied flavors that coat the palate on the citrusy, saline-inflected and dry finish that is also sneaky long. This should age well over the mid to even longer-term."

91-93 Pts, Allen Meadows, Burghound.com, August 2023

"The 2022 Chablis Vaucoupin 1er Cru, raised in stainless steel, has a lovely bouquet with orange blossom, light nectarine scents, and just a background hint of vanilla pod. The palate is well-balanced with a touch of spice, the acidity cutting through nicely (pH is 3.2). Very textural on the powerful finish; this is a strong follow-up to the impressive 2021 last year."

There is a really lovely texture to the refined and lightly stony middleweight flavors that deliver sneaky good length on the balanced, dry and youthfully austere finish. This is a Forêts that offers a certain finesse, even delicacy, yet one that should repay up to a decade of cellaring if desired."

"The 2021 Chablis Les Fôrets 1er Cru was taken directly from tank and saw no wood. The nose offers lemon thyme and light white flower scents, open and generous, one that I feel offers immediate appeal. The palate is well-balanced with a pliant entry, slightly lower acidity than the previous vintage, and modest depth. The finish is just somewhat simplistic compared to Servin's other Premier Crus."

I'm just seeking more tension on the finish, though there is commendable length."

89 Pts, Neal Martin, Vinous.com, July 2023

"An exuberantly floral-suffused nose reflects additional notes of lemon zest, white pepper and oyster shell. The round, fleshy and caressing medium weight flavors exude a bracing salinity on the moderately dry finish that is shaped by citrus-tinged acidity. This could use better depth so a few years of keeping should prove beneficial.."

Lovely."

91-93 Pts, Allen Meadows, Burghound.com, August 2023

"The 2021 Chablis Montée de Tonnerre 1er Cru suffered some frost damage, and so was cropped at 42hl/ha; this cuvée is slightly higher in alcohol at 13.35%. It has quite an intense, energetic, menthol-tinged bouquet with plenty of citrus fruit. The palate is well-balanced and defined with a lightly spiced entry. There's a little more salinity than the Mont de Milieu, with a nice bitter twist on the finish. A level-up from the 2021."

"The 2022 Chablis Blanchot Grand Cru, taken from tank as usual, has quite a classical bouquet with sea spray/oyster shell scents percolating through the citrus fruit. The palate is well-balanced with a fine bead of acidity, one of the more elegant Grand Crus from Servin with an approachable, open finish. Very fine, though less cerebral than the Bougros."

91-93 Pts, Neal Martin, Vinous.com, July 2023

"This is aromatically similar to the Montée de Tonnerre with the important exception that there is no wood influence here. On the palate there is a certain resemblance as well as I very much like the texture of the bigger and richer, though not finer, medium-bodied flavors that display impressive power on the sappy and palate soaking and slightly firmer finish where the only nit is a touch of warmth. Some patience required."

It fans out impressively towards the finish and feels very persistent in the mouth. This will tangle with the Bougros for supremacy once in bottle."

“This was a very impressive set of wines from Felettig, perhaps the best I’ve tasted since I started visiting a few years ago .”

Neal Martin

Allen Meadows, Neal Martin and William Kelley have all earmarked siblings Gilbert and Christine Felettig’s Chambolle-Musigny Domaine as a rising star and our visits here over the last half decade or so have really reinforced this view.

Gilbert is not shy of using a little new oak where it is called for, naturally increasing in the percentage used as we go up to the Premiers and Grands Crus. Whole bunch inclusion is practiced here, but always varying according to the plot, so 0% for some and up to 45% for others, but this always varies by plot and does not follow the appellation hierarchy. In 2022, whole bunch was used to varying degrees on all of the reds.

Gilbert highlighted the vintage’s balance, freshness and texture. There was greater opulence on show here than at many other addresses, with plenty of dark fruit flavours to go with the red. They are right up our street and judging by recent reception, also up the street of many of our customers.

"Made from 70 year old vines, with 55-60% whole bunch vinification. A bright medium deep purple. More in red berry fruit, raspberry, without the iron rich notes of neighbouring Aux Echanges. Lifted and quite classy. This is really quite substantial from such a lesser known 1er cru. Vines from early 1950s could help, of course. Gilbert suggests that this could be the quintessence of Chambolle. Drink from 2030-2038. Tasted: December 2023."

It has a very expressive bouquet with pure black cherry, tayberry fruit, crushed stone, and light forest floor scents. The medium-bodied palate has good concentration with a mixture of red and black fruit. The new oak is a little dominant towards the finish - it's one cuvée where I feel that less would have revealed the elegance that is here. Let's see how this ages and absorbs the oak."

The stems play an important role on the nose, lending tertiary black pepper scents and a suggestion of pitted black olive. The palate is medium-bodied with supple tannins - quite a dense Chambolle Musigny and maybe it misses the refinement of Felettig's best cuvées on the finish. I would afford this 4 - 5 year in a bottle. Fine, but not "best in show.""

William Kelley

Splitting from the family estate Domaine Marc Colin in 2016, 2020 was the fourth vintage produced by Joseph under his own name and he has already established his wines as some of the most sought-after whites in our range.

We have been blown away by the quality of the whites from this estate since Joseph’s solo debut 2017 vintage. Specialising in Chassagne-Montrachet and Saint-Aubin, these are some of the most pure, mineral whites in the Côte de Beaune, rivalling Moreau’s efforts as the very best in this neck of the woods.

Now installed in a brand new winery that allows for greater flexibility in the vinification, Joseph’s 2022s showed perhaps the best freshness of any white Domaine in the vintage. Early harvesting due to his love of acid, plus a touch of CO2 in the wine made the samples we tried alive and full of energy. Saint-Aubin perhaps no longer goes under the radar as once it did, but here is one of its finest exponents.

Just delicious, nuanced wines that need but a sip to compel a purchase.”

Neal Martin

A Domaine often thought of for producing big, powerful Chambolle-Musigny has, based on our more recent tastings of their wares, produced a selection of wines we feel are perhaps more typical of the appellation; really very charming, precise and elegant. This hasn't gone unnoticed by the critics either, with William Kelley noting that “given the level of quality now being attained at this address, to say nothing of its enviable palette of appellations, readers should take notice.”

Dominique Leguen's son Tanguy is increasingly involved in the winemaking duties as the baton slowly passes from one generation to the next. The wines show admirable concentration for the vintage and give further credence to this Domaine's claim to be producing wines that put them at Chambolle's top table.

Our long-standing support gives us one of the best allocations around from this brilliant estate, yet there is still not much to go around. Do not hesitate to fill your cellar with these wonderful wines.

"The 2022 Bourgogne Rouge has a light, slightly earthy bouquet with raspberry and briar scents, well-knit and focused. The palate is medium-bodied with fine tannins. It's juicy, yet there is structure and commendable precision on the finish. One of the best Bourgogne Rouge that I tasted."

"A discreet if perceptible application of wood is present on the ripe aromas of black pinot fruit, earth and a whiff of anise. There is fine volume to the equally delicious and more concentrated flavors that conclude in a chiseled, balanced and lightly austere finish. Very good quality for the genre."

"The 2022 Bourgogne Rouge Hautes-Côtes de Nuits, picked around ten days later than other cuvées, had been bottled just before my visit. Well-defined on the nose, the fruit is slightly darker than the Bourgogne Rouge. The palate is medium-bodied with a sapid entry and fine tannins. It's juicy with a touch of spice toward the finish."

86-89 Burghound

"Here too there is just enough wood to perceive on the spicier aromas of black raspberry and soft floral wisps. I very much like the energy suffusing the more finely textured" if less concentrated flavors that flash a lovely minerality on the tension-filled and equally chiseled finale. This too is very good for the genre."

"The 2021 Chambolle-Musigny Vieilles Vignes, tasted from a one-year-old barrel (there will 20% new in the final blend) has a tightly-knit bouquet with blackberry and raspberry fruit, quite elegant after three or four minutes of aeration. The palate is medium-bodied with a lovely, confit-like entry, very well balanced with a silky texture, hints of raspberry jam and white pepper on the finish. Beautifully defined from start to finish. Excellent."

89-91 Pts Neal Martin, Vinous.com, October 2023

89-91 Burghound

"Ripe aromas are composed of plum, spice, dark currant and freshly turned earth nuances. The appealingly energetic yet exceptionally rich middleweight flavors exude noticeable minerality on the caressing and sappy finale. This is a surprisingly powerful effort for a Chambolle villages that should repay up to a decade of keeping."

"The 2022 Chambolle-Musigny Les Charmes 1er Cru comes from two barrels and is aged in 25% new oak. This is much more complex and nuanced on the nose than the Vieilles Vignes: very focused with ebullient red fruit laced with violet. The palate is medium-bodied with good density on the entry. It's quite structured for a Chambolle with some firm tannins on the finish, but sufficient fruit keeps it balanced and poised."

91-93 Pts Neal Martin, Vinous.com, October 2023

"A moderately toasty and menthol-suffused nose displays cool aromas of mostly dark berries and pretty floral wisps. The medium-bodied, rich and punchy flavors possess a gorgeous mouthfeel while flashing evident minerality on the balanced, youthfully austere and sneaky long finale. This is also sufficiently structured to easily repay up to a decade of cellaring."

"The 2022 Chambolle-Musigny Les Cras 1er Cru is more transparent and mineral-driven than the Charmes, the limestone soils flooding through the aromatics, defining them. The palate is medium-bodied with crunchy red fruit and gentle grip. It's quite energetic with a tensile finish. Once this fills out during the remainder of its barrel maturation, this will be a great Chambolle."

"This is aromatically quite similar to the Charmes though the fruit seems even fresher and brighter. Otherwise, the middleweight flavors possess an equally lovely texture with even more minerality suffusing the more youthfully austere and firmer finish that is beautifully balanced. Lovely and very Les Cras as this is a wine built on its minerality."

"The 2022 Chambolle-Musigny Les Borniques 1er Cru, one of the "up and coming" Premiers of Chambolle, has a mineraly, open nose - more black than red fruit, touches of incense emerging with time. The palate is medium-bodied with pliant tannins. It's more understated and less minerally than Les Charmes, with a succulent blueberry and cassis-tinged finish. Perhaps the most seductive of their 2022s this vintage."

"This is the first wine to possess any significant amount of reduction and here it's enough to mask the underlying fruit. There is by contrast excellent verve and freshness to the bigger-bodied flavors that exhibit focused power on the youthfully austere, dusty and stony built-to-age finale. This is a textbook Borniques."

“The 2022 Bonnes-Mares Grand Cru comprises two barrels, one new and one a year old. It has quite a backward nose, more tertiary in style, quite flinty, in fact. Blind, I would not guess this to be from this vineyard at all. The palate is medium-bodied with fleshy ripe black cherry and boysenberry fruit, fine mineralité and backbone. This is much more open, fanning out with style towards the finish that has just the right amount of edge. It’s very fine but will require bottle age to unlock the aromatics.”

93-95 Pts Neal Martin, Vinous.com, October 2023

“This is also quite firmly reduced and unreadable at present save for a dollop of wood toast. More interesting are the dense and velvet-textured broad-shouldered flavors that possess an abundance of mouthcoating sap that buffers the firm tannic spine shaping the powerful and equally well-balanced finale. Patience strongly advised.”

“Jean-Michel Chartron has gone about turning his winery into one of the finest examples of Puligny-Montrachet in recent years... Chartron’s wines remain reasonably priced in the scheme of things and are well worth seeking out.”

Neal Martin

We have spent the last few years repeating the fact that Domaine Chartron has seen a steep rise in quality over the last decade or two and that sooner or later everyone would notice... but now that time has come. William Kelley calls this estate “an excellent source of pure and precise Puligny that deserves more recognition”, while Neal Martin calls the wines “now unquestionably superior” to those produced in the late 1990s.

Chassagne was a particular hot spot of quality in 2022 and we are delighted to be able to offer one of the broadest ranges from Jean-Michel than we have been able to for several years, thanks to a return to a ‘normal’ sized vintage.

“Along with Pierrick Bouley, this domaine is one that I can see entering the top league of Volnay producers. At present, however, the caliber of these wines is flying under the radar, apart from those acquainted with them.”
Neal Martin

Based in a cracking spot in the heart of Volnay behind the church, Marc-Olivier Buffet has some low-roofed, charming cellars comprising not only the 2020s in their barrels, but a selection of bottled wines dating back to the Second World War, alas not available for sale! In his vineyards he is a keen exponent of re-piquage, replacing individual wines once they are dead or have stopped producing rather than ripping up large plots at one time, thus maximising the age of his vines. He has seven hectares spanning Volnay, Pommard and Savigny-Lès-Beaune.

Buffet's wines remain great value, despite the increasing quality on show here. As highlighted by Neal Martin, this is a Domaine whose wines just keep on getting better and better as Marc-Olivier fine tunes his skills. The decreasing number of bottles held in stock at the Domaine to satisfy passing customers is testament to the how this is an estate more in-demand than ever!

“Let’s cut to the chase. Samuel Billaud is one of the most exciting winemakers in Chablis. He has the “touch” that elevates wines to another level, an uncommon sense of completeness and complexity. Would I put him in the same tier as Vincent Dauvissat and Raveneau? I would.”
Neal Martin

Samuel Billaud is a producer we have backed since day one, and in recent years has been tipped to join the exalted likes of Raveneau and Dauvissat at the top table in Chablis. Our view is he has now arrived and pulled up a chair!

He was winemaker at his family winery, Domaine Billaud-Simon, before he struck out on his own in 2009. Since then he has rapidly gained a reputation as one of the finest producers in Chablis with each vintage building on the last.

His 2022s are quite possibly the finest we have yet tasted – walking the tight-rope of steely Chablis tension and ripe fruit like few others. Crucially, even at the relatively junior level there is a precision and deftness of touch that one very rarely comes across at this price point. In fact, by the time we had finished tasting our first flight of the 2022’s in Samuel’s cellar last autumn, it was remarked “how can the 1er Crus, let alone the Grand Crus improve upon these”? These are all highly recommended

"A blend of three great sites, Les Pargues (35 year old vines), Bas de Chapelot (40), and Les Quarts (90 year old), and some Fontenottes. Bright pale colour. Excellent tension, even bitterness. This definitely needs more elevage so will be bottled later than the Petit Chablis. Some riper notes before a much more saline finish. Impeccable and totally Chablis. Drink from 2025-2028. Tasted: June 2023."

"From a 35-year-old parcel in the middle of the vineyard and aged in stainless steel, the 2022 Chablis Montmains 1er Cru has a discrete bouquet gradually opening in the glass with hints of yellow plum, nectarine and beeswax. The very well-balanced palate has a keen thread of acidity, very saline in the mouth with the same verticality as the "Grands Terroirs." A real livewire on the finish sporting a very clever and subtle reduction."

"The 2022 Chablis Les Fourneaux 1er Cru is matured in stainless steel only. This is one of Billaud's most unapologetically austere wines on the nose, a touch of wet limestone and flint, quite Zen-like. Rich in a Chablis context, firm, long, a real beauty but I am not sure I would pay this much more for the grand cru when I compare it with the pleasure offered by the premiers crus."

“The style of Drouhin-Laroze’s wines is entirely different from those of Drouhin’s father, Philippe, which tended to be a little over-oaked. The change in style is perhaps not quite as 180° as Domaine Dugat’s, but it’s not far off.”

Philippe Drouhin has some of the most prestigious vineyard holdings in the entire Côte d’Or, with almost half of his vineyards boasting Grand Cru status. The sixth generation, Nicolas and Caroline, have now joined Philippe in the business, with Caroline looking after the quite excellent négociant arm of the business too - Laroze de Drouhin (also featured).

We were absolutely smitten with the wines upon tasting at the domaine in November. The wines are especially polished and precise in 2022. Pound for pound, you will struggle to find better wines made in 2022 in the Côte de Nuits. Top tip.

We visited the Mâconnais for the first time in several years on an en primeur buying trip. After a tip off from Marc Buffet in Volnay, we headed to see The Bret Bros, who have forged a serious reputation over the past twenty years, and are now are one of the leading lights of the region with their offerings under the La Soufrandière label. These are angular, taut and highly terroir focussed. Equally, they benefit from some superb old vines, which add great depth and complexity.

Highly recommended, and a top pick for those seeking energy and vibrancy in their white Burgs.

"Some of the Vaulorent may be taken out to make a separate Fourchaumes bottling, that decision has not yet been made. More lime than lemon in colour, the nose is so stylish yet with obvious concentration beneath. "From multiple plots: east facing kimmeridgian marl in Pied d'Aloue (0.50ha), one hectare in Chapelot, (more soil here, fatter wine), then the rest in Bréchain, where vines dating back to 1936, give tension. What a beautiful bouquet. This has the sensual aspect of a delightful sunny summer, yet with an entrancing freshness behind. This is quintessential right bank, yet with balance. Drink from 2027-2037."

"An elegant, pure and wonderfully airy nose more freely reflects its aromas of white flowers, prominent mineral reduction and plenty of seashore elements. There is at once more volume but, somewhat surprisingly, even better refinement to the medium weight plus flavors that retain excellent detail while also flashing an almost pungent stoniness on the driving, firm and impeccably well-balanced finale. There is admirable tension here, an electric start, more middleweight through the middle, then quite a powerful middle with decent dry extract, and good length. Keeps coming back. Drink from 2030-2040."

"The 2022 Chablis Bougros Grand Cru, matured around one-third in used barrel, sports a subtle reduction on the nose that works to its favor: white flowers commingle with Mirabelle and crushed stone. The palate is well-balanced and precise, harmonious with orange pith and nectarine, just a touch of praline. It builds nicely in the glass and then slams its foot on the accelerator right on the finish as if to say: That's all for now. One for the patient amongst you."

"This is the coolest and most restrained of this group of 2022s with its elegant aromas of prominent mineral reduction, lemon-lime, spice and oyster shell. There is almost painful intensity to the intensely stony and strikingly well-detailed larger-bodied yet still beautifully refined flavors that display huge length on the impeccably well-balanced finale. Domaine Richard Rottiers

La Sambinerie, Romanèche-Thorins

“One of the region's most dedicated organic farmers... a lighter-bodied, crunchier style of Beaujolais, making for immensely drinkable wines.”
William Kelley

Richard Rottiers is not a Beaujolais native, instead hailing from the more northerly enclave of Chablis. Like many a great winemaker he is well travelled, having learnt his trade in Chablis, Gaillac, Luberon, South Africa, New Zealand and Brouilly before finally deciding to settle in Moulin-à-Vent, recognising the huge potential of the region. He has only a fraction over 3 hectares of vines that average between 40 and 80 years old. Its poor, mineral-rich soil including seams of manganese lend Gamay something quite magical, the fruit far transcending that of the surrounding areas.

Richard's approach is intricate, and no details are left to chance. He has converted all his vineyards to organic viticulture and everything is done by hand with incredibly strict selections made in the vineyard ensuring only the very best fruit goes into the wine. Each parcel is vinified separate to gently extract the magic of the fruit and the finesse of the region, before 6 months of élevage in traditional Burgundy barrels.

The resulting wine is incredibly vibrant and delicious now, but equally is seriously cellar worthy for upwards of a decade for the single vineyards.

“This Volnay producer is now under the control of Étienne Chaix, who is continuing the fine work of his uncle, Jean-Pierre Charlot... They're not flashy show-stoppers, but they mature beautifully in bottle. If you don't love 'em, you haven't tasted 'em. .”
Neal Martin

Joseph Voillot retired in 1995 and the estate was then run by his son-in-law, and local winemaking legend, Jean-Pierre Charlot. However, recently the Domaine has since passed hands again, onto Etienne Chaix, grandson of Joseph and nephew of Jean-Pierre Charlot.

The wines themselves are a masterclass in harmonious balance and express the delicacy of Pinot noir like few others. Neal Martin suggests these are wines that compete with the finest in all Volnay & Pommard, including the likes of de Montille or Lafarge, and yet prices, as yet, do not reflect this. This is quite simply a fabulous selection of wines, from 'real' Burgundy. The Bourgogne Rouge through to the prized Premiers Crus all come highly recommended.

Rue de Cîteaux, Savigny-lès-Beaune

Originally founded in 1529 by Jean Girard, this is one of the oldest domaines in Savigny. It's been thriving in recent vintages, and arguably is now making some of the finest wines in its illustrious history.

The reds that we are featuring are 100% destemmed and aged for 12 months in traditional 228 litre Burgundian pièces. Gentle extraction of fruit and tannin forges succulent wines that are delicious to enjoy young, but which equally have the potential to age gracefully.

Domaine Alain Chavy

Rue des Creux de Chagny, Puligny-Montrachet

“Domaine Alain Chavy is one of several strands of the Chavy family based in the Côte de Beaune. It is a small grower with good holdings and quality-focused wine-making.”
Neal Martin

The Chavy family have a long history in Puligny and the wines used to be bottled under the label 'Domaine Gerard Chavy et Fils'. In 2003, the two brothers split the vineyards to create their own domaines and Alain owns around seven hectares.

They are usually the first to start picking in Puligny and produce crisp, mineral wines that have wonderful purity of fruit and age magnificently. In 2022, the harvest started on 27th August and was completed within a week. These are classically styled, super focussed and very elegant whites.

"Cask sample. Some struck-match reduction here both on the nose and the palate. As with the Bourgogne Chardonnay, I find the acidity a little too severe for overall harmony. Maybe it will build a little more flesh/roundness in time? (JH)."

"Cask sample. Spicy oak on the nose, creamy texture around sour-citrus freshness. Much the best of the Alain Chavy wines tasted today in terms of balancing fruit and acidity. Dry, insistent tension on the finish. (JH)"

Domaine des Malandes

Rue des Creux de Chagny, Puligny-Montrachet

“The dynamic Richard Rottiers, whose Beaujolais wines are also well worth seeking out, continues to take the formerly neglected Domaine des Malandes to ever greater heights... The rate of improvement at this address has surpassed anything I thought possible, and this is now clearly an estate to watch closely.”
William Kelley

Lyne Marchive (née Tremblay) took over her family domaine in 1973 and passed on the running of her business in 2018 to her children, Richard (also of Domaine Richard Rottiers in Moulin-à-Vent) and Amadine. This domaine is a long-standing favourite of ours, and you'll be delighted to hear that the 2022 vintage was another success. As ever, the wines combine power and richness with textbook Chablis minerality and precision.

For us, the 2022 vintage from Malandes is one of the finest we have come across in recent years. Subsequently, these should be on the shopping lists of all lovers of Burgundy's most northern outpost!

"A more elegant nose combines aromas of just sliced apple, iodine, mineral reduction and a pretty floral top note. There is slightly better verve suffusing the attractively textured medium-bodied flavors that terminate in clean and slightly firmer if not especially dry finish that is shaped by lemon-tinged acidity."

Terms and Conditions

- Our En Primeur prices are the 'in bond' cost. The first instalment covers the cost of the wine itself, and when the wine is ready, you can decide whether to keep the wine in bond, or pay the Duty and VAT or other taxes or import tariffs (including but not limited to the imposition of any new or replacement duty or tariff by the WTO or any other competent authority domestic or international).
- No discount or vouchers shall apply to En Primeur wines.
- When we place your order we will send you a reservation certificate to the address provided by you. You will not receive any wine at this time. Although should you be a Premiere or Charter Plus member and order 12 or more bottles, we will send you your usual complimentary bottle(s).
- Wines ordered through our En Primeur service can only be cancelled within 14 days of placing the order. A full refund of any payment made up to this point will be given on receipt of written notification of the cancellation of the order. Due to the nature of the En Primeur sales we regret that orders cannot be cancelled after this time.
- When the wine arrives with us in the UK, we will send you the final invoice. This invoice will include the delivery cost to a UK address, duty (currently £2.67 per 0.75l bottle excl VAT for wines 15% abv and under and higher for those above), plus the VAT applicable on the day of the final invoice (currently 20%). Upon payment of the appropriate amount we will action your despatch instructions.
- If you do not contact us with instructions within 6 weeks of your wines being ready, we will place the wines into bonded storage on your behalf and at your cost. For further details please refer to our full Ts & Cs.
- All wines and spirits or other goods ordered remain the property of Laithwaite's Wine / Averys Wine until appropriate payment is received in full.
- We can store your wine (both 'duty paid' or 'in bond') in ideal, long-term cellar conditions. Please contact us for further details.
- It is your responsibility to keep us informed of any changes of address in order to maintain any reservations you may have with us.
- All wines are insured by us at the original invoice value until your delivery and/or storage instructions have been completed.
- All goods are offered subject to availability. If the wines you have selected are unavailable we will contact you to advise you of this. If the producer fails to supply us with the wine we will contact you with available alternatives or offer a refund of monies paid.
- Force Majeure – Direct Wines Ltd/Laithwaite's Wine/Averys Wine will not be liable for failure to meet agreed obligations due to prevailing circumstances including but not limited to any act of God, war, strike, lock-out, industrial accident or other event beyond its reasonable control.
- All disputes arising out of this contract shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the Courts of England and Wales.
- For our full terms and conditions, including those relating to our 100% guarantee, non-delivery and cancellations, please go to www.laithwaites.co.uk/terms or www.averys.com/terms.
