Current performance may be lower or higher than the data quoted. Investors cannot directly invest in an index, and unmanaged index returns do not reflect any fees, expenses, or sales charges. The volatility of an index may be materially different than that of the Fund, and investors should not expect the Fund to achieve the same results as a listed index. 1. The range shows the highest and lowest turnover ratio reported in the Annual Report during the last three fiscal years, ending 06/30/2025. Portfolio turnover is the percentage of the portfolio that was bought or sold (lessor) during a fiscal year. A higher portfolio turnover may indicate higher transaction costs for the Fund, and may result in higher taxes for investors.
2. The yield of a fixed income security that will solve for the price when valuing the security to maturity.
3. Measures the security's price/yield sensitivity calculated by shifting the entire yield curve.
4. The Bloomberg Mid Cap/Intermediate U.S. Aggregate 50/50 TR Index is equally weighted between the Bloomberg Mid Cap Intermediate Index and the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Total Return Index. The Bloomberg US Mid Cap Index is a float market-cap-weighted benchmark of the lower 800 in capitalization of the Bloomberg US 1000 Index, which is a float market-cap-weighted benchmark of the 1000 most highly capitalized US companies. The Bloomberg U.S. Intermediate Aggregate Bond Index is a broad-based flagship benchmark that measures the investment grade, US dollar-denominated, fixed-rate taxable bond market with less than 10 years to maturity. The securitized sector is wholly included. The index includes Treasuries, government-related and corporate securities, MBS (mortgage-backed securities), ABS (asset-backed securities), and CMBS (commercial mortgage-backed securities).
5. Does not include cash/money market funds/equivalents. Based on percentage of net assets. Holdings can change at any time, are subject to risks discussed in the Funds prospectus, and should not be considered investment advice.
6. This chart is for illustrative purposes and assumes that a $10,000 investment was made on the Fund's inception date of 07/15/2015 and that all dividends and capital gains were reinvested. Hypothetical performance often shows markedly better results than actual management and should not be the basis for an investment decision. A variety of factors could impact investment decision making or otherwise cause differences between the hypothetical performance and actual investor returns.
7. Compares the Eventide Balanced Fund Class I's performance to index performance over the periods shown. Performance will differ for other fund classes, based upon fees and commissions.
8. The returns shown do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or on the redemption of fund shares. Because of ongoing market volatility, fund performance may be subject to substantial short-term changes.
9. Performance figures for periods greater than 1 year are annualized. Annualized since inception figures use an inception date of 07/15/2015.
10. Represents the sum of all distributions from the period indicated. Distributions consist of dividend and interest income, capital gains, and/or return of capital. Shareholders should not assume that Fund distributions represent net profit. Income may be distributed regardless of whether such income will be treated as return of capital.
11. 12-Month Yield is the sum of a fund's total trailing 12-month interest and dividend payments divided by the last month's ending share price (NAV) plus any capital gains distributed over the same period.
12. SEC Yield is based on a 30-day (or one-month) period ending 06/30/2026 and is calculated by dividing the net investment income per share earned during the period by the maximum offering price per share on the last day of the period. The SEC yield is a standardized measure of a mutual fund's yield, showing the annualized income earned by the fund over the past 30 days after expenses. The subsidized SEC yield displayed reflects uses net expenses in the calculation while the unsubsidized SEC yield uses gross expenses. For more information see SEC Form N-1A. When applicable, subsidized includes waiver and unsubsidized is without waiver.
13. Class A is Front-Loaded. Class A and Class C are also subject to a maximum deferred sales charge of 1.00%. This and other expenses that apply to a continued investment in the Fund are described in the Fund's prospectus.
14. Refer to the Fund's SAI for definition of Other Expenses.
15. Allocation percentages are subject to change at any time, and should not be considered investment advice. Due to rounding, numbers may not add up to 100.

17. Includes cash, cash equivalents, money market funds, impact bonds and options. Impact bonds fund business models that strive to have significant social or environmental effects.
18. The performance and risk factor comparisons are against the Bloomberg Mid Cap/Intermediate US Aggregate 50/50 TR Index. Alpha is a measure of performance on a risk-adjusted basis. It takes the volatility (price risk) of a fund and compares its risk-adjusted performance to the Index. Any excess return of a fund relative to the return of the Index is a fund's alpha. Beta is a measure of the volatility of a fund relative to the Index. A beta greater than 1 is more volatile than the Index. R-Squared is a measure of how a fund's performance correlates with the Index's performance and it can help assess how likely it is that beta is statistically significant. Standard Deviation of return measures the amount of variation in historical performance from period to period.

Mutual funds involve risk including the possible loss of principal. Past performance does not guarantee future results. The Fund's ethical values screening criteria could cause it to under-perform similar funds that do not have such screening criteria. The Fund can have risk related to option investing. Investors in the Fund should be aware that interest rates may change at any time based on government policy. In general, the price of a fixed income security falls when interest rates rise. Longer term securities may be more sensitive to changes in interest rates. The intermediate-term bond portion of the Fund's portfolio may represent 0% to 100% of the Fund's portfolio with an average duration of between two and eight years. The Fund may invest, directly or indirectly, in "junk bonds." Such securities are speculative investments that carry greater risks than higher quality debt securities. The Fund can invest in smaller-sized companies which may experience higher failure rates than larger companies and normally have a lower trading volume than larger companies. There are unique risks associated with asset-backed securities, convertible securities, credit, foreign securities, hedging, income, LIBOR, MLPs, mortgage-backed securities, preferred stocks, prepayment, REITs, securities, U.S. Agency securities, and yieldcos that are covered in the Fund's prospectus and SAI. Investors should consider a fund's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses carefully before investing or sending money.
