500,000+ merchants

Get access to our industry-leading restaurant selection of local favorites and national chains.

Show your team you care

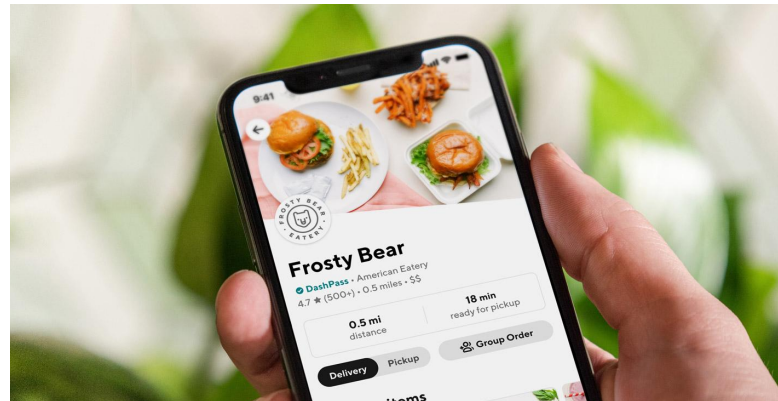

85% of employees feel more appreciated by their employer when they receive meal benefits at work.*

Set it and forget it

Enroll your employees in an expensed meals benefit program and set automatic recurring budgets.

Easy to set up, easy to use

Employees accept meal benefit perks through a sign-up link. Meals are automatically expensed to the company account, saving time and a headache tracking down receipts.

Set restrictions on eligible orders

Control the expensed meal budget down to the day, time, and even location. Encourage a return to office by limiting the location to the office address.

Attract & retain top talent

Employees receiving meal benefits report a 91% satisfaction rate, compared to 78% of those without. 79% of employees receiving meal benefits report feeling more productive.*

Here's how it works:

Designate eligible employees, ordering hours, and spending limits per employee or role.

Employees log in to DoorDash with their work email and can start placing orders that day.

Orders are auto-billed to the company account – no expense reports needed.
