Before your chat

Once you get started, the conversation usually flows but sometimes breaking the ice is the trickiest part.

Think about what you want to get from your conversation. Is it...

- getting to know more about your fellow campaigners?
- learning some top tips?
- chatting about politics and the current campaign activity?

I want to get to know more about other campaigners

- Why did you become a Campaigns Ambassador?
- What campaigns have you been involved with so far?
- Do you do any other volunteering for Cancer Research UK?
- Are you involved with any other charities?
- What do you like to do in your free time?

I want to share some top tips for campaigning

- I'm struggling with [x], how would you do it?
- Do you have any top tips for getting a tricky MP on side?
- How do you use social media for campaigning?
- What has been your campaigning highlight so far?
- I want to share my personal story and experience, how do you do it?

I want to chat about politics and campaigning

Of course, politics is a natural conversation for Campaigns Ambassadors but please remember to be respectful of individual views and opinions.

- Did you see [x] recently. What do you think it means for [x] campaign?
- What policy issues do you feel strongly about?
- Do you have any top tips for political news sites?
