

CATHEDRAL of the INCARNATION

A House of Prayer for Long Island Since 1885

Worship and Programs
AUTUMN 2019

Dear Cathedral Friends,

I hope this summer has provided some time for refreshment and renewal in the beauty of God's creation here on Long Island. As the seasons change, I invite you to consider what spiritual gifts from summertime you wish to take with you into the fall.

One of the gifts of summer for me has been the opportunity to read books that have been gathering dust on my shelf through the busyness of the past year. One that I am carrying with me into the fall is Carlo Rovelli's The Order of Time. In it, Rovelli engages ideas from philosophy, science and literature about the human perception of time. He does so as a theoretical physicist and expert in quantum gravity (things I know very little about!). Rovelli's principle insight is that the flow of time is a matter of perspective which comes from the structure of our brains and our emotions rather than from the physical universe. He argues that at the most fundamental level of the universe, time disappears.

For many of us, time feels limited and it seems to go faster and faster. Is it possible that this is an illusion? Rovelli connects with an important spiritual teaching about time in our Christian tradition. The Gospels speak of chronological time (chronos) and God's time (kairos). The first is quantitative and the second is qualitative. We tend to measure our lives in quantitative time, but Jesus invites us again and again to live in God's qualitative time (the Kingdom of God). Our understanding of time can cause us to feel restricted or liberated — and God's clear preference is humanity's liberation.

I hope that this fall is an occasion for us to lose time together as we move more deeply into the mystery of God's presence. When we explore ways of losing time together in the presence of God, we discover a timeless peace that passes understanding. We experience the truth of our mortality as encompassed in God's immortality. We are freed from the relentless rushing that our pre-occupation with clock-time so often causes.

Jesus shares a parable in the fifteenth chapter of Luke's gospel about things lost and found. He shares it in response to a critic who grumbles about him wasting time with outcasts and sinners. Throughout the parable, the refrain, "rejoice with me" returns whenever something lost is found. A sheep. A coin. A sinner. The parable reveals that in God's time, nothing is lost or wasted. So why not let go of our time and enter God's time for a while, where all that has been lost is found.

Rejoice with me as we enter a new season in the Kingdom of God here at the cathedral.

SPECIAL LITURGIES

SEPT 14 Ordination of Adam Bucko
 Saturday, September 14 at 11am
 The cathedral's new Minor Canon, the Rev. Adam Bucko, will be ordained to the priesthood by the Rt. Rev. Lawrence Provenzano. All are welcome to attend!

Begins
OCT 22 Practicing the Presence of God: The Way of Christian Meditation and Contemplative Prayer
 Tuesdays at 7:30pm beginning October 22
 The Christian tradition of contemplative prayer can be traced back to Jesus, who went to the desert to pray in solitude before many of the most significant events in his life. Following in that tradition, we will meet once per week to enter the desert of our hearts, emptying ourselves so we can welcome what Catherine Doherty called "the whisperings and light of the Holy Spirit". We will utilize ancient monastic practices of prayer and receptive silence, such as Centering Prayer (rooted in the 14th century English spiritual classic The Cloud of Unknowing and more recently updated and popularized by Fr. Thomas Keating, the Jesus Prayer (rooted in the ancient monastic tradition of the desert fathers and mothers of Egypt and Palestine), a monastic version of Lectio Divina (developed by St. Benedict in the 6th century and later formalized by Guigo II), and Memoria Dei or Practicing the Presence of God (inspired by Br. Lawrence of the Resurrection, a 17th century French Carmelite lay brother).

Our aim will be to make these practices relevant to our lives, here and now, by co-creating an environment in which it is safe to show up as we are: with our heartbreaks, fears, anxieties, as well as our joys, successes, aspirations and hopes. We will learn to sit with it all until we can be stirred by a sense of the Divine breaking into our midst, stirring us with direction and guidance. Our hope will be that through this experience we will be guided into a "remembrance" of who we are in God and how our lives can, as one monastic writer said, "manifest God through our own uniqueness" and "reflect God rather than the false self".

The Rev. Adam Bucko
Minor Canon
 abucko@incarnationgc.org

I am deeply excited to be here and am looking forward to serving you as a part of the cathedral team. I will be involved in the daily life of worship and pastoral ministry, however my primary role will be collaborating to develop and launch The Center for Spiritual Imagination. The center will take the spiritual heritage of cathedrals as sites of spiritual renewal and reimagine it for the 21st century. It is our intention to create a place of holy hospitality and support for spiritual seekers from all walks of life, in which the longings of contemporary seekers can be welcomed and held in Christ's transforming care. Together we can re-envision what it means to be a spiritual home for the many who no longer feel at home in the church, and where old Christian practices like contemplative prayer, liturgy, spiritual guidance, and the practice of seeing and responding to Christ in the face of the suffering world, are offered in a way that speaks to our culture anew. I look forward to getting to know everyone and extend an invitation to stop by my office and say hello.

Music in the Cathedral

Canon Larry Tremsky

Director of Music

ltremsky@incarnationgc.org

The Cathedral Choir returns to sing at Cathedral for Kids and the Choral Mass on Sunday, September 15. Many of our young choristers will have completed a four-day intensive music academy in August, the first we have offered. We are looking forward to welcoming new choristers to our choirs this fall, and are always accepting more throughout the year! It's an excellent (and free!) music education for children aged 7 to 17.

Our concert year begins with an organ recital on September 29 by our very own Colin MacKnight. We are also honored to host the eminent U.K. conductor and composer Bob Chilcott in October, who will conduct a program featuring choral works sung by the Cathedral Choir, the Choir of St. John's of Lattingtown Episcopal Church, and student singers from the Greenvale and Herricks Schools.

It is our hope that through this year's offerings, people from throughout the area will visit our glorious building, where they can experience wonderful music, spiritual nourishment, hospitality, and peace.

Be present, O merciful God, and protect us through the hours of this night, so that we who are wearied by the changes and chances of this life may rest in your eternal changelessness; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen. BCP p. 133

My day wouldn't be complete without taking the time to pray Compline, the night prayer of the Church. Acknowledging that God is a merciful God, always ready to protect us. That it is OK to be wearied by the changes and chances of life because we are assured that through all of our sorrows, pain, joys, wonder, and even anger, God remains the same: loving, forgiving, compassionate and understanding.

It seems this past year has been a rollercoaster of emotions. There has been illness, death, division, hate and confusion, but also joy, birth, delight, excitement and promise. What often grounds me is witnessing the love and care of this community of faith for one another, the way we personify the protection of a merciful God. The way we are able to live into the changes and chances of life. Maybe that's the eternal changelessness of God where we can find peace.

The Rev. Morgan Mercer Ladd
 Minor Canon for Family Ministry
mladd@incarnationgc.org

We're in for an exciting year here in Family Ministries at the cathedral! Our year together begins in the green, growing Sundays of the liturgical calendar called Ordinary Time, which stretches from Pentecost all the way to Advent. Ordinary Time may seem less exciting than other seasons — it is called ordinary after all! But beneath the name and the green color, Ordinary Time is all about how God loves to use the ordinary things to reveal God's extraordinary, miraculous, amazing love. Ordinary Time is an invitation to become a spiritual explorer who looks for God in unexpected places — in our homes, in our schools, our communities. At Fellowship in Faith and Cathedral for Kids this season, we will be training our eyes (and our hearts!) to spot God at work in the world. It takes a little practice to find God hiding in plain sight, but once we get the hang of it, we'll be able to see God everywhere!

Dietrich Bonhoeffer: Discipleship Come of Age
Wednesdays at 7pm,
November 6, 13, and 20

The Lutheran pastor and theologian Dietrich Bonhoeffer is perhaps best known for his role in the anti-Nazi resistance and his subsequent martyrdom. But since his death in 1945, he has been claimed by religious movements – Left, Right, and Center – that are deeply opposed to each other. This course will seek to disentangle Bonhoeffer's thought through a close reading of two of his most important texts, The Cost of Discipleship and Letters and Papers from Prison, placing his theology in its social and historical context.

Laura Nelson is a parishioner at The Cathedral of the Incarnation. She received her Ph.D. in Philosophy from Fordham University, and has taught at various colleges and universities including Hofstra, Molloy, Drew, and The New School. She has published numerous articles in Public Seminar and Medium on philosophy, theology, politics, literature, and gender.

Thank you to all our ministry friends for your support of the Mary Brennan INN. Our mission, INNcarnation, is ongoing, from monthly visits to volunteer, to fundraising events like the brunch and Twelfth Night, to special collections, such as school supplies we collected over the summer. We are happy to have you join us and help as you are able.

Our work with LI-CAN (Long Island Congregations and Neighborhoods) to combat the opioid crisis continues as well. We are working towards making Medication Assisted-Treatment (MAT) the standard of care for opioid abusers in all hospitals and treatments facilities on Long Island. If someone on your family is dealing with challenges related to substance abuse, the Center for Motivation and Change (<https://motivationandchange.com/>) will provide proven tools to help you respond in a supportive and productive way.

If you are interested in participating in either of these initiatives, you can reach out to me directly or join our groups (INNcarnation or LI-CAN) on REALM.
