

IELTS Life Skills terms and conditions

You must:

- provide proof of your identity (passport or National Identity Card) at registration. Contact the test centre to confirm which type of identity document is accepted. Candidates taking the test outside their own country must use a passport.
- inform the centre of any changes to your identity document before the test date. If you do not do this you will not be allowed to take the test and you will not be eligible for a refund or transfer.
- bring the same identity document on the test day as the one recorded in your application. If you do not do this you will not be allowed to take the test and you will not be eligible for a refund or transfer.
- arrive at the centre before the scheduled test start time. If you arrive late, you will not be allowed to take the test and you will not be eligible for a refund or transfer.
- leave all personal belongings in the designated belongings area. The only items you may bring into the test room are your approved identity document, and a bottle of water (label-free). All electronic devices, including watches, must be left in the belongings area and must be switched off. Centres may use metal detectors to scan for electronic devices. Any candidate who breaches these conditions will not receive an IELTS Life Skills test result or be eligible for a refund or transfer. While the centre will take all reasonable measures to secure your items in the belongings area, they cannot be held responsible for any loss.
- consent for your identity to be verified both at test registration and on test day. This may include:
 - having your photograph taken. You will be required to temporarily remove any covering from your face. Any candidate who refuses to have a photograph taken will not be allowed to sit the test and will not be entitled to a refund. The photograph taken by the centre will appear on your Test Report Form.
 - providing a sample of your signature.
 - having your finger scan taken.
- inform the test centre on the day of the test if you believe that your performance may be affected by ill health, by the way in which the test is delivered at the centre or for any other reason. If this is not possible, please refer to the IELTS Complaints Policy on ielts.org for more information on how you can submit a complaint.
- Any candidate who attempts to remove test materials from the test room will not receive an IELTS Life Skills test result.

You must not:

- eat or smoke in the test room.
- engage in any form of malpractice which may damage the integrity and security of the IELTS Life Skills test. Malpractice includes, but is not limited to:
 - attempting to cheat in any way, including using notes of any kind from any source.
 - helping another candidate to cheat.
 - impersonating another candidate or having another candidate impersonate you.
 - disrupting the test in any way.
 - reproducing any part of the test in any medium.
 - attempting to alter the data on the Test Report Form.

Candidates engaging in malpractice will not be allowed to complete the test and will not receive an IELTS Life Skills test result. Candidates engaging in malpractice may be banned from taking the test in future, and may be liable to legal action. Candidates engaging in malpractice may be reported to regulatory authorities globally.
