

And one day the BID became sustainable...

Reuse of training materials by LAC nodes

Anabela Plos

NM GBIF Argentina and LAC regional representative

EVENT | 26 - 30 NOVEMBER 2018

BID Caribbean Capacity Enhancement workshop: Data use for decision-making

ADD TO CALENDAR

26 - 30 November 2018 Suriname

Cookeina speciosa (Fr.) Dennis, Suriname. Photo by boshea via iNaturalist. Licensed under CC BY-NC 4.0

PROJECT | IN PROGRESS

Data use for decision-making workshop: an Iberoamerican community call

1 Jun 2019 - 31 May 2020 € 25,000

ABOUT

Peruvian pelican (Pelecanus thagus) observed in Valparaíso, Chile by John D Reynolds. Photo via iNaturalist (CC BY-NC 4.0)

Why reuse?

For needs to be covered in other nodes / region.

Because the materials are already tested in a workshop.

The materials are generated by professionals and experts recognized in their work areas.

Because we can add even more value to the materials, with the translations, adaptations and variations in each of the reuses.

Who we are in this reuse example...

PERÚ

Ministerio
del Ambiente

Tips (that worked for us...)

Have contact with (some) of the trainers and mentors of the workshop. And the GBIF Secretariat, off course!

Know who were the workshop participants (and who can support in the region).

Know the materials generated for the workshop and recognize (if any) points to improve.

Form a CESP coordination group, considering not only the knowledge needs for the workshop, but also technical needs (i.e. eLearning platform management).

Modifications for this reuse case

The trainers and mentors: must to speak Spanish!

eLearning Platform: Translations, adaptation of the workshop. Is not difficult, but takes a lot of time...

Use cases: it was determined that a (new) regional use case would be more useful (and also enriches the workshop toolkit).

Participant profile: each node defines it, but we built a list of "desirable" capabilities.

The best advice?

Have good and frequent communication with your peers, about the needs, problems and opportunities.

[illegible]

And one day the BID became sustainable...

Reuse of training materials by LAC nodes

Anabela Plos

NM GBIF Argentina and LAC regional representative