Descending into utter gloom

He felt the darkness of His tomb

And died the death that we deserved to die

He took the thrones that demons claimed

Establishing His rightful reign

He preached to souls in prison of His name

He rose up with the morning sun

And told the devil He had won

The keys of hell and death were at his side

He took his place on David's throne

Israel's King, the nation's hope

The Lamb of God, the King of all the world
