Education and Discipleship Ministry

Rev. John M. Scholte, Pastor of Education and Discipleship

This past semester was one of the craziest times I have ever lived through. Starting with the Spring Semester, when we moved off campus to Zoom classes, and then this past Fall with classes first indoor and then only outdoor. However, God has been faithful and many wonderful things have come from these very trying circumstances. Our faithful faculty were very willing to learn the ins and outs of Zoom. Our online class offerings, on the teachable platform, have grown and many students have signed on to take independent study courses. Praise God! By the end of this semester we may see change again, and a return to residential classes. We will have to see, but one thing for sure, we are certainly living out our protestant motto, "Always reformed and reforming!"

Staying connected with our faith family can be a challenge when we follow stay at home orders and practice social distancing. I am so thankful for our LifeGroup ministry, what a powerful impact this ministry has had over these months of quarantine. It has been one of the best ways to stay connected and in touch with each other.

We don't want anyone to feel alone, or to "fall through the cracks" during this time when normal activities have been suspended. A big "Thank you!" to the LifeGroup leaders that have worked hard to keep their groups together and focused. Isn't it wonderful how the Lord prepared RB Community Church for these particular circumstances? And it's not too late to join or start a group. So, I encourage you to check out the wonderful opportunities in this Course Catalogue.

Last semester we started an Alpha course and we were very happy to see that it resonated with many people. This "basics of the faith" course continues this semester, and would be the place to be for those who want to learn about the Christian faith, or brush up on some of the basic teachings.

Ken Sheets returns teaching a delightful course "The God you may not know." If you want to take a journey, from knowing about God to really knowing God, this is your class! Ken will lead you through a look at the attributes of God using some excellent material from Dr. David Jeremiah.

The Marriage Enrichment Team is once again offering some tremendous opportunities for our congregation and the community. Scott Wood, a licensed marriage and family therapist, will be leading a Lenten Devotional Series called "The Kindness Challenge." To take on this challenge see Scott's contact information in this catalogue.

Another success we had last semester was our Book Club lead by Ken Blanchard, and we are happy to have him return for a second Book Club. This will be a five-week course on his "Parenting Book." Learn more about it, when you see the Marriage Enrichment section, in this catalogue.

What a privilege and joy it is to minister with you as we begin a new semester of discipleship. I think you will appreciate all the courses offered in this catalogue. It is my prayer that you will grow in your relationship with one another and in the Lord.

In Gratitude,

Pastor John

The writing in Ephesians is often lyrical, always deeply spiritual, yet eminently practical. We will study the book line by line in this course. Enlightenment and growth are Paul's two foundations for exploring all aspects of the Christian faith and life. He discusses enlightened views of salvation, Christian leadership, the Church, and the Christian life. He offers a deeply moving prayer for growing into wholeness in Christ.

Dates: Beginning January 12th Tuesday 10:00 – 11:30 a.m.

Room: Courtyard

Text: Various Handouts and Bible

Instructor: Ken Sheets

Some say the greatest question in life is: Does God exist? I say the greatest question is: Do I know the God who DOES exist? Do I know about Him and do I know Him personally? I want you to know the God you don't know, as well as you should. The study of God, as He reveals Himself in Scripture, is the supreme study of a lifetime. It lifts our thoughts, steadies our nerves, purifies our motives, expands our confidence, and strengthens our influences. It's the greatest subject we could ever study, for God is the apex of all reality

You can know more about God than you do, and you can be closer to Him than you are.

What are LifeGroups? The above logo illustrates the concept for our small group ministry called LifeGroups. The cluster of grapes represents a small group or LifeGroup. The many LifeGroups together are a part of the LifeGroup ministry.

While some of these groups of 4 – 12 people meet on the church campus most of them meet in homes which provides the perfect place to connect, build relationships, encourage each other and feel cared for. These groups provide a safe place to share our faith, doubts, and concerns. The topics of discussion vary with each group. Social gatherings around food or local mission projects provide time for fellowship and service that strengthens group interaction.

In addition to ongoing LifeGroups this Spring there are several opportunities to participating in a group with a defined time length. If you are new to the small group concept these groups are a great way to meet others without a long-term commitment, although it may develop into one. These groups are geared toward those with common interests.

Currently we are following local and state guidelines regarding gatherings and COVID-19. When possible, we meet on campus or in homes etc.

Kathy Wesley, LifeGroup Coordinator

“LifeGroups are a vital part of church connections, reaching out to members and keeping them in the loop, letting them know the church is still here to help.”

The Kindness Challenge is an opportunity to work on improving any relationship in your life. The group will be facilitated by Scott Wood, licensed marriage and family therapist.

During the season of Lent, this is an opportunity to adopt kindness as a spiritual discipline. The group will meet online, on Tuesday evenings from 7pm – 8:30pm from February 23, 2021 – March 23, 2021. For more information or to enroll, contact Scott Wood at scottwoodmft@gmail.com.

Adult Christian education is a very important task for the church to fulfil, due to the increase of the need to learn as people continue to grow (Downs, 1991). Barna (2001) pointed out that there has been an increased interest in spiritual matters among adults in America as one out of six adults participates in discipleship groups for spiritual growth.
