CHAIRMAN'S LETTER

Dear Securityholder,

Since the earliest days of the COVID-19 crisis, Sydney Airport has put a premium on protecting the business and making sure we are strongly positioned to get to the other side. In that regard, we moved quickly and proactively to cut costs and put in place extra liquidity.

Now that we are six months into this crisis, it is apparent that there is ongoing uncertainty regarding both how long it will last and the shape and pace of the recovery.

That is why, on Tuesday, 11 August 2020, we took the decisive action to announce a fully underwritten pro rata accelerated renounceable entitlement offer (with retail entitlements trading) of new Securities (New Securities) to raise approximately $2.0 billion (Entitlement Offer).

The Entitlement Offer will substantially reduce Sydney Airport's net debt, enhance our financial resilience, support our commitment to maintaining a strong investment grade credit rating, and further increases the liquidity available to Sydney Airport. It will ensure that we are strongly positioned to take advantage of opportunities that arise as the recovery emerges.

Importantly, the Entitlement Offer presents the fairest structure for all securityholders. Securities will be offered on a pro-rata basis which includes a fully renounceable entitlement structure with rights trading for retail securityholders. The Boards of Sydney Airport believe the structure of the Entitlement Offer presents the best way to recognise the support of our existing securityholders, many of whom are long-term investors.

All Eligible Retail Securityholders are invited to participate in the Entitlement Offer, under which 1 New Security is being offered for every 5.15 existing Sydney Airport Securities registered on the relevant Sydney Airport security register (Register) as at 7.00pm (AEST) on Friday, 14 August 2020 (Entitlement) at an issue price of $4.56 per New Security.

This Retail Offer Booklet relates to the retail component of the Entitlement Offer (Retail Entitlement Offer). Your Retail Entitlements may be valuable and you have a number of options available to you to realise their value which are outlined in the next section. Please read this Retail Offer Booklet carefully before deciding what to do. For further detail regarding Sydney Airport's financial performance, you can review our half-year 2020 results materials, which are available at www.asx.com.au.

The impact of COVID-19 has been severe, but it will pass, and the underlying fundamentals of the business – a business which has distributed more than $4 billion to securityholders since 2014 - will remain.

On behalf of the Boards of Sydney Airport, I invite you to consider this investment opportunity and thank you for your continued support.

Trevor Gerber
Chairman

- attempt to sell or transfer any of your Retail Entitlements that you have elected to take up before the Initial Retail Closing Date; or
- trade your Retail Entitlements before the Retail Entitlements are allotted, or before you receive your personalised Entitlement and Acceptance Form, whether on the basis of confirmation of the allocation provided by Sydney Airport or the Registry or failure to maintain your updated details on the Sydney Airport security register or otherwise.

RETAIL ENTITLEMENTS PURCHASED ON-MARKET OR OTHERWISE CANNOT BE TAKEN UP BEFORE THE INITIAL RETAIL CLOSING DATE (BEING 5.00PM (AEST) ON THURSDAY, 20 AUGUST 2020).

1.3 What options do Ineligible Retail Securityholders have?

1.5 How many Retail Entitlements do I have?

If you are an Eligible Retail Securityholder, the number of Retail Entitlements you have been granted is set out in your personalised Entitlement and Acceptance Form. The Retail Entitlements you have been granted were calculated based on the Offer Ratio and the number of Securities shown on the Register as being held by you as at the Record Date (being 7.00pm (AEST) on Friday, 14 August 2020).

Where fractions arose in the calculation of your Retail Entitlements, they were rounded up to the next whole number.

The Retail Entitlements stated on your personalised Entitlement and Acceptance Form may be in excess of the actual Retail Entitlements you are permitted to take up where, for example, you are holding Securities on behalf of a person in the United States.

OPTION

KEY CONSIDERATIONS

Option 3:

Sell or transfer all or some of your Retail Entitlements

For more information about this option see SECTION 4

- If you do not wish to take up all or some of your Retail Entitlements, you may be able to sell all or some of your Retail Entitlements on ASX through your broker or transfer your Retail Entitlements directly to another person.
- Retail Entitlements may be traded on ASX from Friday, 14 August 2020 (on a deferred settlement basis) and Wednesday, 19 August 2020 (on a normal settlement basis) to Wednesday, 26 August 2020 (ASX code: SYDR) (Retail Entitlement Trading Period). You may incur brokerage costs if you sell all or some of your Retail Entitlements on ASX. Depending on the number of Retail Entitlements you have, brokerage costs may have a material impact on the net proceeds you receive.
- If you sell your Retail Entitlements during the Retail Entitlement Trading Period, you may receive a higher or lower amount than an Eligible Retail Securityholder who sells their Retail Entitlements at a different time during the Retail Entitlement Trading Period or through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild.
- If you only sell or transfer some of your Retail Entitlements, you may choose to take up the remainder (see Options 1 and 2 on the previous page) or you may do nothing and let your remaining Retail Entitlements be sold in the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild (see Option 4 below).
- If you take up all or some of your Retail Entitlements before 5.00pm (AEST) on Thursday, 20 August 2020 (see Option 1 on the previous page), you will not be able to sell or transfer those Retail Entitlements. Sydney Airport will not be liable for any losses you incur if you attempt to sell or transfer any Retail Entitlements that you take up before 5.00pm (AEST) on Thursday, 20 August 2020.
- It is your responsibility to confirm the number of Retail Entitlements you have for the purposes of ASX on-market trades and off-market transfers.
- There is no guarantee that there will be a liquid market in traded Retail Entitlements.

Option 4:

Do nothing and let all or some of your Retail Entitlements be sold through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild

For more information about this option see SECTION 5

- To the extent you do not take up all of your Retail Entitlements or you do not sell them on ASX (or via direct transfer), your Retail Entitlements will be sold through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild on Monday, 7 September 2020 and you will receive the Retail Premium (if any) in respect of those Retail Entitlements. There is no guarantee that there will be any Retail Premium.
- The ability to sell Retail Entitlements under the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild and the ability to obtain any Retail Premium will depend on various factors, including market conditions. Further, the bookbuild price may not be the highest price available, but will be determined having regard to a number of factors, including having binding and bona fide offers which, in the reasonable opinion of the Underwriter, will, if accepted, result in all Retail Entitlements participating in the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild being sold.
- It is expected that the Retail Premium (if any) will be paid to you on or about Tuesday, 15 September 2020 in the same way in which distributions on your Existing Securities have previously been paid to you and in all other instances by a cheque in Australian dollars.
- We recommend you check, and if necessary amend, your direct payment instructions for distributions online at www.investorcentre.com/au by following the prompts. To use this facility you will need internet access and your HIN or SRN to pass the security features on the website. Your HIN or SRN can be found on the top right hand corner of your holding statements and other securityholder communications and identifies you as the owner of your Existing Securities. If you are a broker-sponsored securityholder you will have a HIN which will start with the letter 'X' followed by 10 digits. If you are an issuer-sponsored securityholder, you will have an SRN which will start with the letter 'I' and be followed by 10 digits.
- You will not incur brokerage costs on any Retail Premium received from the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild.
- By letting your Retail Entitlements be sold through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild, you will forgo any exposure to increases or decreases in the value of New Securities had you taken up your Retail Entitlements (or any value for those Retail Entitlements that may have been achieved through their sale on ASX or otherwise). Your percentage security holding in Sydney Airport will also be diluted.

IF YOU HAVE ANY DOUBT ABOUT HOW YOU SHOULD DEAL WITH YOUR RETAIL ENTITLEMENTS, YOU SHOULD SEEK PROFESSIONAL ADVICE FROM AN ADVISER WHO IS LICENSED BY ASIC TO GIVE THAT ADVICE BEFORE MAKING ANY INVESTMENT DECISION. YOU SHOULD ALSO CAREFULLY READ:

- APPENDIX B: KEY RISKS OF THE INVESTOR PRESENTATION INCLUDED IN SECTION 6 OF THIS RETAIL OFFER BOOKLET; AND

Sydney Airport Retail Entitlement Offer

- For the convenience of Eligible Retail Securityholders in Australia, an Australian reply paid envelope with the appropriate address has been included with this Retail Offer Booklet. Securityholders outside of Australia will need to affix the appropriate postage.

3.2 Factors to take into account if you want to choose Option 1 and participate early

There are a number of matters that you should consider if you wish to take up your Retail Entitlements under Option 1:

- As with any application, you should carefully read this Retail Offer Booklet in full, together with Sydney Airport's announcements lodged on ASX.
- You can obtain your personalised BPAY® payment details from your personalised Entitlement and Acceptance Form or online at www.sydooffer.com.au from Tuesday, 18 August 2020.
- As the period between the date of this Retail Offer Booklet and the Initial Retail Closing Date (being 5.00pm (AEST) on Thursday, 20 August 2020) is relatively short, if you have any doubt about how to deal with your Retail Entitlements you should seek professional advice from an adviser licensed by ASIC to give that advice as soon as possible.
- There is no obligation to take up all or some of your Retail Entitlements under Option 1. If you require further time to assess how to deal with your Retail Entitlements, or would prefer to make an Application later in the Retail Entitlement Offer Period, you can accept at any time provided your payment is received before 5.00pm (AEST) on Wednesday, 2 September 2020, which is the Retail Closing Date. Alternatively, you can elect to do nothing.
- If you take up all or some of your Retail Entitlements under Option 1, it is expected that you will be allotted New Securities in respect of that Application on Monday, 24 August 2020 (at the same time New Securities are allotted under the Institutional Entitlement Offer). This may enable you to trade your New Securities on-market (if you wish) earlier than would be the case if you take up your Retail Entitlements under Option 2. However, there is no guarantee as to the price at which New Securities may trade.

4. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION – OPTION 3

Under Option 3 you can sell or transfer all or some of your Retail Entitlements.

4.1 Ways to sell or transfer your Retail Entitlements

If you do not wish to take up all or some of your Retail Entitlements, you may be able to sell all or some of your Retail Entitlements on ASX through your broker or transfer all or some of your Retail Entitlements directly to another person.

Selling all or some of your Retail Entitlements on ASX

You can only do this through your broker. If you are an issuer sponsored holder, you will need to set up an account with a broker before being able to sell your Retail Entitlements on ASX

- You should ensure that you allow sufficient time for your broker to carry out your instructions. Please note that brokerage costs may be incurred if you sell all or some of your Retail Entitlements on ASX, which depending on the number of your Retail Entitlements, may have a material impact on the net proceeds you receive.
- Retail Entitlements trading on ASX starts on a deferred settlement basis on Friday, 14 August 2020 (ASX code: SYDR) and on a normal settlement basis on Wednesday, 19 August 2020. Retail Entitlements trading on ASX ceases on Wednesday, 26 August 2020.

Selling or transferring all or some of your Retail Entitlements off-market (i.e. other than on ASX)

You can only do this if you are an issuer sponsored holder

- You must forward a completed Renunciation and Acceptance Form to the Registry in relation to the Retail Entitlements that you wish to transfer. If the transferee wishes to take up all or part of the Retail Entitlements transferred to them, they must send their Application Monies together with the Entitlement and Acceptance Form related to those Retail Entitlements transferred to them to the Registry. Both you and the transferee must be issuer sponsored. If either party is CHES sponsored, you will need to contact your broker.
- You may only sell or transfer your Retail Entitlements in this way to a transferee whose address is in Australia or New Zealand or who otherwise qualifies as an 'Eligible Person'², who is not in the United States and who is not acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States (to the extent such transferee is acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States). Persons that are in the United States or that are acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States (to the extent such persons are acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States) will not be eligible to purchase, trade, take up or exercise Retail Entitlements. You should inform any proposed transferee of these restrictions before you complete any transfer to them.
- You can obtain a Renunciation and Acceptance Form through the Sydney Airport Securityholder Information Line on 1800 102 368 (within Australia) or +61 3 9415 4195 (outside Australia) or from your broker. The Renunciation and Acceptance Form as well as the transferee's Application Monies and the Entitlement and Acceptance Form related to the Retail Entitlements transferred to them must be received by the Registry at the mail delivery address set out below no later than the Retail Closing Date (being 5.00pm (AEST) on Wednesday, 2 September 2020):

Sydney Airport Retail Entitlement Offer

C/- Computershare Investor Services Pty Limited
GPO Box 505
Melbourne Victoria Australia 3001

- If the Registry receives both a completed Renunciation and Acceptance Form and an Application for New Securities in respect of the same Retail Entitlements, the transfer will take priority over the Application.

4.2 Implications of selling or transferring your Retail Entitlements

- There is no guarantee that there will be a liquid market for Retail Entitlements on ASX or otherwise. A lack of liquidity may impact your ability to sell your Retail Entitlements on ASX or to transfer your Retail Entitlements and the price you may be able to obtain for them.
- If you sell or transfer all or some of your Retail Entitlements, you will forgo any exposure to increases or decreases in the value of the New Securities had you taken up those Retail Entitlements. Your percentage security holding in Sydney Airport will also be diluted.
- Prices obtainable for Retail Entitlements may rise and fall over the Retail Entitlement Trading Period and will depend on many factors including the demand for and supply of Retail Entitlements on ASX and the value of Existing Securities relative to the Offer Price. If you sell your Retail Entitlements during the Retail Entitlement Trading Period, you may receive a higher or lower amount than a Securityholder who sells their Retail Entitlements at a different time during the Retail Entitlement Trading Period or through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild.
- If you take up all or some of your Retail Entitlements before 5.00pm (AEST) on Thursday, 20 August 2020 (see Option 1 described in Sections 2 and 3), you will not be able to sell or transfer those Retail Entitlements. Sydney Airport will not be liable for any losses you incur if you attempt to sell or transfer any Retail Entitlements that you take up before 5.00pm (AEST) on Thursday, 20 August 2020.
- If you decide to sell or transfer some of your Retail Entitlements, you may choose to take up the remainder (see Options 1 and 2 described in Sections 2 and 3). Alternatively, you may do nothing and let the remainder of your Retail Entitlements be sold in the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild (see Option 4 described in Sections 2 and 5).

² Certain investors in a limited number of foreign jurisdictions (other than the United States) may be Eligible Persons if they satisfy the requirements of that expression as set out in the Entitlement and Acceptance Form.

5. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION – OPTION 4

5.1 Sale of Retail Entitlements through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild

Retail Entitlements which are not taken up by the Retail Closing Date (being 5.00pm (AEST) on Wednesday, 2 September 2020), and Retail Entitlements of Ineligible Retail Securityholders, will be sold through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild. Any Retail Premium will be remitted proportionally to those Securityholders on or about Tuesday, 15 September 2020, net of any applicable withholding tax and expenses. The Retail Premium will be the excess of the price at which New Securities are sold through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild over the Offer Price (if any), less expenses.

5.2 There may be no Retail Premium

The Retail Premium may be zero, in which case no payment will be made to holders of those Retail Entitlements sold into the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild. The outcome of the Institutional Shortfall Bookbuild (including the Institutional Premium) is not an indication as to whether there will be a Retail Premium or what any Retail Premium may be.

The ability to sell Retail Entitlements through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild and the ability to obtain any Retail Premium will depend on various factors, including market conditions. If there is a Retail Premium, it may be less than, more than, or equal to the Institutional Premium or less than, more than or equal to any price or prices for which Retail Entitlements may be able to be sold on ASX or otherwise transferred. To the maximum extent permitted by law, Sydney Airport and the Underwriter and each of their respective related bodies corporate and affiliates, and each of their respective directors, officers, partners, employees, representatives, consultants, advisers and agents, disclaim any duty and liability, including for fault or negligence, for any failure to procure a Retail Premium through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild and for any difference between the Retail Premium and the Institutional Premium. Sydney Airport reserves the right to sell Retail Entitlements through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild in any manner it determines.

You should note that if you allow all or some of your Retail Entitlements to be sold through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild, then you will forgo any exposure to increases or decreases in the value of New Securities (or any value for those Retail Entitlements which may have been achieved through a sale of those Retail Entitlements on ASX or otherwise) and your percentage security holding in Sydney Airport will be diluted as a result of your non-participation in the Retail Entitlement Offer.

6. ANNOUNCEMENTS

The enclosed ASX Announcement and Investor Presentation are current as at Tuesday, 11 August 2020 and the Institutional Entitlement Offer Results is current as at Friday, 14 August 2020. There may be other announcements that have been made by Sydney Airport after Tuesday, 11 August 2020 and throughout the Retail Entitlement Offer Period that may be relevant in your consideration of whether to take up, sell or transfer all or some of your Retail Entitlements. Sydney Airport $2 Billion Equity Raising and 2020 Half Year Results

Today, Sydney Airport announces a fully underwritten pro rata accelerated renounceable entitlement offer, with retail rights trading, to raise $2.0 billion (Entitlement Offer), and its interim results for the half year ended 30 June 2020.

Equity raising rationale

Sydney Airport Chief Executive Officer, Geoff Culbert said, "The equity raising will position Sydney Airport for the future. Sydney Airport took pre-emptive action at the start of the COVID-19 pandemic, putting in place significant liquidity which gave us the flexibility to monitor how the situation evolved. Six months into the pandemic, there remains uncertainty as to how long it will take for aviation markets to return to pre-COVID-19 levels."

"Accordingly, Sydney Airport is taking further decisive action to strengthen its balance sheet and to help ensure it remains well capitalised to meet the challenges presented by an uncertain COVID-19 operating environment, and to ensure it is positioned for growth in the future."

"It is important to note that we chose to raise equity via a renounceable entitlement offer as that is the fairest structure for all securityholders, particularly retail securityholders. Securities will be offered on a pro-rata basis and securityholders who participate will not be diluted, which is important to us given many have been long term investors in Sydney Airport."

The Entitlement Offer announced today:

- Substantially reduces Sydney Airport's net debt;
- Is expected to enhance the financial resilience of Sydney Airport;
- Supports our commitment to maintaining a strong investment grade credit rating; and
- Further increases the liquidity available to Sydney Airport.

Combined with existing liquidity sources (cash and undrawn bank facilities), the Entitlement Offer proceeds will cover debt maturities, as well as be used for general corporate purposes, including but not limited to capital expenditure. It provides Sydney Airport with flexibility to respond to a range of recovery scenarios and pursue sensible growth opportunities as the recovery unfolds.

Sydney Airport Limited ACN 165 036 380 (SAL) and The Trust Company (Sydney Airport) Limited (ACN 115 967 087) (AFLS 30/162) (TTC3AL) as responsible entity for Sydney Airport Trust 1 (ARSN 099 597 921) (SAT1) (together "SYD")

Following the Entitlement Offer, Sydney Airport's pro forma net debt position will be significantly reduced from $9.1 billion to $7.1 billion as at 30 June 2020. This pro forma net debt to FY19 EBITDA will be reduced from 6.8x to 5.3x. Combined with existing cash on hand and undrawn debt facilities, the Entitlement Offer will provide pro forma adjusted liquidity of $4.6 billion as at 30 June 2020.

"We have been advised by corporate advisory firm Adara Partners. Profits made by Adara Partners are donated to Adara Development, a non-profit organisation supporting people and communities living in extreme poverty. At a time when so many people are struggling through the COVID-19 crisis, it's satisfying to know that some of the benefits of this equity raising will find its way to people in need."

2020 interim results

- Loss after income tax expense was $53.6 million for the half year
- Passenger volumes for the half year were materially impacted by the COVID-19 related traffic restrictions, implemented progressively from February 2020
- Sydney Airport welcomed 9.4 million passengers for the half year, a 56.6% decline on the prior corresponding period (pcp). Total passengers in 1Q 2020 was 9.0 million, down 18.0% on pcp. Total passengers in 2Q 2020 was 0.4 million, down 96.6% on pcp.
- International passengers declined by 57.3% and domestic by 56.1% on the pcp
- Earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA) was $300.4 million, down 35.4% on the pcp
- Net operating receipts (NOR) were $90.4 million, down 79% on the pcp
- Operating costs for the first half decreased 20.5%¹, with savings tracking in line with the cost reduction plan
- Capital investment was $152.8 million, delivering critical projects targeting asset resilience, safety and security
- Strong balance sheet, credit ratings at BBB-/Baa1 (negative outlook) and financial flexibility with over $2.6 billion of liquidity. This will be increased to $4.6 billion following the Entitlement Offer announced today

Sydney Airport Chief Executive Officer, Geoff Culbert said, "We announce our half year results today in a challenging environment. Whilst we delivered a solid start to 2020, the subsequent spread of COVID-19 saw the aviation industry deteriorate dramatically from late February."

"As an organisation we have adapted rapidly to a new environment and worked hard to tightly manage our costs, strengthen our balance sheet, reach fair and equitable outcomes with our tenants and aviation partners, and implement COVID-safe protocols to protect our passengers and staff."

Financial results

Total revenue of $511.0 million, a decrease of 35.9% compared to the pcp, driven by the COVID-19 crisis.

- Aeronautical revenue: on an adjusted basis, down 58.0%² reflecting 56.6% passenger decline across international and domestic, and inclusive of provisions for doubtful debts

² Excluding security recoverable revenue.

Sydney Airport

- Retail revenue: on an adjusted basis, down 44.0% inclusive of abatements and provisions for doubtful debts, reflective of fair and equitable sharing of the pain with our tenants
- Property and car rental revenue: on an adjusted basis, down 31.3% inclusive of abatements and provisions for doubtful debts, reflecting decreased hotel occupancy, as well as fair and equitable sharing of the pain with property tenants
- Car parking and ground transport revenue: down 50.9% reflecting over three months of material disruption to passenger volumes

The COVID-19 pandemic has impacted the interim results in a number of ways including:

- Expected credit loss: $40.9 million doubtful debt provision has been recognised as at 30 June 2020, including the full impairment of pre-administration Virgin Group debts
- Capital projects impairment: impairment charge of $22.2 million, recognised in respect of certain capital projects in progress that are expected to be significantly impacted or delayed
- Abatements: temporary concessions (between the period of April 2020 to June 2020) in the form of rental abatements of $52.9 million and rent deferrals of $6.0 million, in aggregate across the retail and property portfolio

COVID-19 impact

The consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic for aviation and the airport community have been severe. In response, Sydney Airport has rapidly adapted to the current environment and has taken a number of steps that are designed to allow Sydney Airport to manage through a range of potential recovery scenarios.

- A focus on cash collection: A strong focus on collecting outstanding receivables has yielded positive results in the first half of 2020 and will continue to remain a focus
- Tightly controlled costs: Operating expenditure for the first half was $80.5 million³, a decrease of 20.5% on the pcp
- Re-prioritisation of capital expenditure: A modular capex program has provided significant flexibility and enabled Sydney Airport to rapidly and sensibly scale back investment, with a focus on essential projects targeting resilience, safety and security
- A fair and equitable sharing of pain with Airport tenants: Sydney Airport has worked closely with all tenants to provide fair and equitable concessions to reflect the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. Each concession offered was assessed on a case-by-case basis and the level of relief offered was dependent upon each tenant's individual circumstance. Sydney Airport believes that an equitable sharing of the pain with tenants at a time when they needed it the most will deliver the best long-term outcome for security holders
- Creation of a recovery taskforce: Sydney Airport's recovery taskforce is committed to collaborating with our airline partners, overseas airports, and Government agencies both in Australia and internationally, to develop a safe and sustainable pathway for the resumption of domestic and international travel

Balance sheet

Sydney Airport had a robust balance sheet heading into 2020. In the year to date, Sydney Airport has taken proactive steps to continue to strengthen its liquidity position. Available liquidity at 30 June 2020 was $2.6 billion, comprising of $1.0 billion in available cash and ³ Excluding the impact of expected credit loss provision, and security recoverable expenditure.

Sydney Airport

6. ANNOUNCEMENTS

Guarantee will regrettably not be extended beyond 30 September 2020, and a review is currently underway to restructure the organisation.

Capital project expenditure will be further reduced, with a target range of $100 to $125 million for the calendar year 2021 predominantly relating to critical projects. In addition to this, Sydney Airport continues to evaluate commercial investment opportunities, with decisions subject to business case assessment.

At this time, no distribution is expected to be declared for 2020. The Boards will update the market on the outlook for the business, and future distributions, as more clarity emerges around the timing and strength of recovery from the COVID-19 pandemic.

Entitlement Offer overview

The Entitlement Offer will take the form of a fully underwritten pro rata accelerated renounceable entitlement offer, with retail rights trading, under which eligible securityholders will be entitled to acquire one new Sydney Airport stapled security (New Security) for every 5.15 securities held on the Record Date, at a price of $4.56 per New Security (Offer Price). The offer price is the same for both institutional and retail securityholders.

The Offer Price represents a 13.2% discount to the theoretical ex-entitlement price of $5.26 based on the $5.39 closing price of Sydney Airport securities on the ASX on 10 August 2020.

New Securities issued under the Entitlement Offer will rank equally with existing Sydney Airport stapled securities.

The Entitlement Offer will raise $2.0 billion and comprise

- An Institutional Entitlement Offer: eligible institutional securityholders will be invited to purchase a pro-rata number of New Securities. The Institutional Entitlement Offer will open on Tuesday, 11 August 2020 and close on Wednesday, 12 August 2020. Institutional entitlements not taken up, along with entitlements of ineligible institutional securityholders, will be sold under an institutional shortfall bookbuild, with any proceeds in excess of the Offer Price (net of any withholding tax and expenses) being paid to the relevant securityholders
- A Retail Entitlement Offer: eligible retail securityholders in Australia and New Zealand will be invited to purchase a pro-rata number of New Securities. Eligible retail securityholders who wish to participate in the Retail Entitlement Offer must do so by 5.00pm (AEST) on Wednesday, 2 September 2020. Eligible retail securityholders may also sell their entitlements on the ASX, with trading to commence on Friday, 14 August 2020 (on a deferred settlement basis), on Wednesday, 19 August 2020 (on a normal settlement basis), and conclude on Wednesday, 26 August 2020. Entitlements not taken up, along with entitlements of ineligible retail securityholders, will be sold under a retail shortfall bookbuild and any proceeds in excess of the Offer Price (net of any withholding tax and expenses) will be paid to the relevant securityholders

A Retail Offer Booklet containing information in respect of the Retail Entitlement Offer will be sent to eligible retail securityholders in Australia and New Zealand by Tuesday, 18 August 2020 and will be made available on the Entitlement Offer website www.sydneyairport.com.au. The contents of Sydney Airport's website do not form part of the offer documents for the Entitlement Offer.

$1.6 billion of undrawn debt facilities. This will be increased to $4.6 billion following the Entitlement Offer announced today. Sydney Airport continues to expect to remain compliant with its covenant requirements.

Prior to the Entitlement Offer, both S&P and Moody's had reaffirmed Sydney Airport's credit ratings of BBB+ and Baa1 respectively, each with a negative outlook.

Proactive capital management saw the successful issuance of a market leading sustainability linked $A600 million US private placement bond. This bond included the first two-way sustainability linked bond in any market globally, a continuation of our commitment to a sustainable future for Sydney Airport. In addition, two and three-year bilateral bank facilities totalling $A850 million were established in April 2020, providing significantly more liquidity.

Airline agreements

Sydney Airport has been working through numerous expiring or expired aeronautical agreements and has reached the following agreements:

- An extension of current aeronautical arrangements for Jetstar domestic and Qantas Group domestic runway and international operations until 30 June 2021
- New twelve-month agreements until 30 June 2021 extending Qantas' use of the Jet Base and associated infrastructure, while providing for hand back of land specific to the development of Sydney Gateway.
- The Board of Airline Representatives Australia (BARA) have endorsed Sydney Airport's proposal to its member airlines for international services. This extends the material pricing and contractual provisions under the previous five-year agreement for another twelve months.

It was deemed prudent to extend these agreements until such time as we have greater clarity on our shared future.

Jet fuel business

Sydney Airport has reached agreement with the incumbent Joint User Hydrant Infrastructure (JUHI) owners to purchase the jet fuel infrastructure in October 2020 for $85.0 million. Skytanking, a global leader in aviation fuelling services, has been selected to operate the facilities following a competitive process.

The acquisition increases Sydney Airport's strategic flexibility, with greater control over infrastructure investment decisions to support future airport growth, with an improved open access regime to increase competition amongst existing and new fuel suppliers, and an enhanced ability to influence the use of sustainable aviation fuels.

Outlook

It remains unclear how long the domestic and international travel restrictions will continue for, however while they are in place, Sydney Airport's operations are likely to remain adversely impacted. As a result, it is anticipated that Sydney Airport's financial performance will continue to be affected.

In relation to both operating costs and capital expenditure, Sydney Airport will maintain tight discipline and is currently pursuing additional reductions. Sydney Airport is targeting at least a 35% reduction in operating costs⁴ for the 12 months from 1 April 2020. The staff Job

Decisive action

Positioning Sydney Airport for the future

Decisive action being taken	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - SYD took pre-emptive action early in the COVID-19 pandemic to put in place significant extra liquidity which gave us the flexibility to monitor how the situation evolved - After six months of pandemic impact, significant ongoing uncertainty continues as to how long aviation markets will take to recover to pre-COVID-19 levels - Accordingly, SYD is taking further decisive action to strengthen its balance sheet and ensure it remains well capitalised to meet the challenges presented by the uncertain operating environment - The equity raising is in addition to already announced measures to improve SYD's financial resilience including significant reductions in both capital expenditure and operating costs, and the cancellation of the 1H20 distribution
Strengthen the balance sheet and liquidity position	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Following the raising, SYD's pro forma net debt position will be substantially reduced from $9.1bn to $7.1bn as at 30 June 2020¹ <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o Pro forma net debt / FY19 EBITDA will be reduced from 6.8x to 5.3x as at 30 June 2020² - In addition to existing available cash, the equity raising proceeds will cover debt maturities, as well as be used for general corporate purposes, including but not limited to capital expenditure - It also provides SYD with flexibility to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o Respond to a range of recovery scenarios o Pursue sensible growth opportunities as the recovery unfolds

1. The pro-forma cash adjustment of $1,965.0 million, reflects the $2.0 billion equity raise, net of an estimated $35.0 million in transaction costs. This reflects the high end of estimated transaction costs, which are subject to change. A deferred tax asset of $10.5 million in relation to the future tax deductibility of these transaction costs has also been recognised for the purposes of the pro forma balance sheet. These have been reflected as a decrease to the Deferred tax liability line under 'Other non-current liabilities'.

Appendix B: Key risks

INTRODUCTION

This section describes the key business risks of investing in SYD together with the risks relating to participation in the Entitlement Offer which may affect the value of SYD securities. It does not describe all the risks of an investment. Before investing in SYD, you should be aware that an investment in SYD has a number of risks, some of which are specific to SYD and some of which relate to listed securities generally, and many of which are beyond the control of SYD.

The risks set out in this section do not constitute an exhaustive list of all risks involved in an investment in SYD. Investors should consult their own professional, financial, legal and tax advisers about those risks and the suitability of investing in light of their particular circumstances. Investors should also consider publicly available information on SYD (including information available on the ASX website) before making an investment decision.

1. KEY BUSINESS RISKS

1.1 COVID-19 uncertainty

The spread of COVID-19, its effect on the global economy and the actions taken in response by the Australian and other governments, including border controls and travel restrictions, and the effects of the pandemic on the global economy have had, and are likely to continue to have, a material adverse effect on SYD, its financial performance and position, liquidity, financial condition and results of operations. It is also likely that there will be further unforeseen negative impacts as COVID-19 continues to spread of an as-yet unknown magnitude and duration. It is not currently clear when these negative impacts will begin to abate. SYD will continue to respond to the challenges facing it, but there is no certainty as to the severity or likelihood of such unforeseen impacts arising nor whether any mitigating action will be effective or can be taken.

1.2 Pandemic risk

The airport and aviation industries have been severely impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, which has caused decreased passenger numbers, decreased aircraft movements, airline bankruptcies, changes to airfares and decreased commercial revenues, among other impacts. It is unclear how long these impacts will continue, but an extended and broad continuation of these impacts may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance. Any subsequent future local or global pandemic may also adversely impact SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.3 Passenger and aircraft movements

The principal factor affecting SYD's financial performance and business prospects is the number of passengers, particularly international passengers (who contribute approximately 70% of revenues), that use the airport. Passenger numbers directly determine the majority of revenues SYD derives, and may be adversely impacted by a number of factors, including adverse economic conditions in Australia and globally, significant events (such as financial crises, acts of terrorism, war and civil unrest, public-health related pandemics or natural disasters), currency exchange rate fluctuations, an increase in airfares, an increase in competition from other airports over time, aircraft accidents or incidents.

SYD

Appendix B: Key risks

The number of passengers using airports has been impacted significantly by the COVID-19 pandemic, the reduction in routes offered by aircraft carriers to and from Sydney Airport and the measures taken by the Australian Commonwealth and State governments and governments in other countries to address the outbreak. If government restrictions on domestic and/or international travel continue for longer than expected, or if demand for domestic and/or international travel takes longer than anticipated to recover to pre-COVID-19 levels, this may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.4 General economic conditions

SYD's results of operations and financial condition are affected by the general economic conditions existing in Australia, in those countries that are serviced by airlines at Sydney Airport and in its growth markets in Asia, particularly China and India. A deterioration in general economic conditions is likely to impact on the propensity of passengers to fly, as well as their retail spending behaviour. As SYD's revenues are generally derived on the basis of per passenger fees and passenger spending, this may have a material adverse effect on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.5 Airline fee risk

SYD derives a significant proportion of its revenues from aeronautical services, through fees charged to its international and domestic airline customers as set through commercial agreements between SYD and the airlines. Fees received by SYD are dependent on the outcome of commercial negotiations with the airlines. Any unfavourable negotiations may adversely affect SYD's aeronautical revenues.

The fees charged by SYD are subject to annual ACCC monitoring and intermittent Productivity Commission reviews, the last of which was in 2019 and did not lead to any material change. A reduction in the fees SYD charges its airline customers may have a material adverse effect on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

Furthermore, although the fees charged by SYD to its airline customers are not currently subject to regulation by the Australian government, the government may decide at any time to undertake a review of Australian airports or Sydney Airport specifically and reintroduce price controls if it believes such controls are warranted. Any such regulation, if introduced, may have a material adverse effect on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.6 Access to capital

SYD has significant debt obligations and relies on access to debt and equity financing to conduct its business. There is a risk that SYD may not be able to access equity or debt capital markets to support its business objectives, or successfully refinance this indebtedness on commercially favourable terms or at all. Continued and future disruptions in the global financial marketplace, including the bankruptcy or restructuring of financial institutions, could make debt markets less accessible and materially adversely affect the availability of credit already arranged and the availability and cost of credit in the future, adversely affecting SYD's ability to refinance maturing indebtedness.

Appendix B: Key risks

Inability to obtain additional financing to meet maturing debt obligations could force SYD to reduce or delay capital expenditure or forgo strategic business opportunities, sell assets, raise additional equity, restructure or refinance existing debt on disadvantageous terms or take other protective measures. Inability to repay indebtedness, or a negative change in SYD's credit ratings that has a material adverse effect on its ability to borrow or its cost of funds, may have a material adverse effect on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.7 Financing covenants

SYD's debt facilities contain financial and operating covenants. SYD is currently in compliance with all such covenants. Failure to comply with these covenants could limit financial flexibility and enable lenders to accelerate repayment obligations. If that action were to be taken, there is no certainty that SYD would have access to sufficient cash to meet its repayment obligations or be able to refinance its existing debt on commercially acceptable terms. In those circumstances, SYD would need to seek waivers or other forms of accommodation from the relevant lenders or procure alternative financing arrangements to refinance its debt obligations, which may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

The COVID-19 pandemic and imposition of wide-ranging measures to combat it has significantly impacted SYD's earnings. While SYD does not expect that it will not be able to comply with its covenants, depending on the duration and severity of the impact on earnings, there is the potential for it to heighten the risk that SYD may breach financial covenants contained in its debt facilities in the future.

1.8 Reliance on third parties

The operation of Sydney Airport depends on the cooperation of a large number of third parties, including government agencies and business partners, to provide Sydney Airport with essential functions (including air traffic control, fuelling operations, rescue and firefighting services, utilities provision, catering, baggage security handling, car park management, quarantine, customs, border force and passport control). These service providers may experience operational disruptions and may fail to adequately perform the services they are required to provide, or to appropriately respond to accidents or incidents at Sydney Airport. Such disruptions could have a material adverse effect on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.9 Reliance on a relatively small number of airline customers

Key aeronautical customers including the Qantas and Virgin Groups accounted for 54.8% of aeronautical revenue (not including security charges) for the year ended 31 December 2019.

As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, the airline industry is being severely impacted. While some airlines have been provided with government support, others have struggled to continue to operate and have become financially distressed. This has led to airline bankruptcies, fewer airlines, fewer flights and changes to airfares. Such changes have had an adverse effect on SYD's aeronautical revenues, business and operational results. It is unclear how long these impacts will continue, but an extended and broad continuation of these impacts may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

6. ANNOUNCEMENTS

Appendix B: Key risks

1.10 Regulatory risk and changes in government policy

SYD is subject to a variety of governmental laws and regulations at the Federal, State and local level. Among other things, these laws and regulations place the following restrictions on SYD's aeronautical operations at Sydney Airport:

- Limited to 80 scheduled aircraft movements per hour
- Subject to airport curfew hours, which currently limit passenger and freight aircraft movements between 11pm and 6am
- Required to provide a certain number of aircraft "slots" to regional aircraft during peak periods
- Subject to regulatory reporting requirements as well as a requirement to notify the ACCC of proposed price increases for certain aeronautical services and facilities provided to regional air services
- Subject to a Long Term Operating Plan, which guides selection of the runway configuration and operating procedures.

These regulations have been in place since the 1990s and SYD has operated its business within these restrictions since the privatisation of Sydney Airport in 2002. However there can be no assurance that the Australian Government will not impose additional or more onerous regulatory controls on aeronautical operations at Sydney Airport, which may impact airport traffic, passenger numbers, aeronautical revenue and commercial revenue, and increase SYD's operating and capital expenditure requirements, any of which may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

Furthermore, SYD's ability to operate Sydney Airport depends on its ability to maintain the aerodrome certificate granted to SYD by the Federal government and its lease of the Sydney Airport site. Breach of the terms of the certificate or failure to comply with the conditions of the lease may result in termination or financial penalties, which may have a material adverse impact on SYD's overall operations and/or financial position and performance.

Changes in government policy and regulation can also affect aircraft movements. Examples include border restrictions (such as the recent restrictions on domestic and international travel in response to the COVID-19 pandemic), international relations, immigration policy and border levies. Should the government mandate any additional health screening requirements to help reduce the transmission of COVID-19, such changes could create additional costs or lost revenues for SYD. Any of these matters may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

Furthermore, as sales transacted by the tax and duty free operators at Sydney Airport account for a significant proportion of SYD's total retail revenues, any decision by governments to restrict tax and duty-free sales of alcohol, tobacco, perfume and cosmetics or limit or prohibit the availability of tax and duty-free sales generally would materially adversely affect SYD's commercial revenues (for example, as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic the Australian Government has enforced closure of the duty free stores at Sydney Airport). Such restrictions may have a material adverse impact on SYD's financial position and performance.

Appendix B: Key risks

1.11 Aeronautical security recovery risk

Aeronautical security recovery revenue is primarily generated from contracts with airlines for the provision of government mandated security services. These include passenger and checked bag screening. Whilst passenger numbers and aircraft movements have declined recently as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, SYD has still been incurring charges for these security services. In many instances these charges have not yet been recovered from the airlines due to the decrease in passenger numbers and aircraft movements. If SYD is unable to recover the security charges incurred, this may have a material adverse impact on SYD's financial position and performance.

1.12 Operational risk

The facilities at Sydney Airport, including the passenger terminals and airfield, require significant expenditures for ongoing maintenance to ensure their safety and efficiency. Failure to carry out this maintenance in a timely and cost effective manner may cause Sydney Airport's assets to not perform efficiently and lead to periods in which Sydney Airport's assets are unavailable, creating additional costs or lost revenues, which may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

SYD may also be required to incur greater capital expenditures than expected. Although all of SYD's capital expenditures in relation to aeronautical infrastructure projects are ultimately passed through to its airline customers, inability to recover (or delayed recovery of) these additional costs from its airline customers may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.13 Competition risk

Although there are currently no major commercial airports in the Sydney region that compete with Sydney Airport, the Nancy-Bird Walton Airport (also known as the Western Sydney Airport) is currently under development in south-western Sydney. Once the Nancy-Bird Walton Airport becomes operational in late 2026, Sydney Airport may experience increased competition over time, which may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

SYD also faces competition risk from existing airports in other major Australian cities such as Melbourne or Brisbane as a result of competition for international airlines that are seeking to introduce new Australian routes from existing airports in major Australian cities.

SYD's commercial operations, including carparking, retail and property also face competition from off-airport competitors who provide competing services.

Appendix B: Key risks

1.14 Political and sovereign risk

Events of war or terrorism may result in a reduction in passenger numbers and a temporary cessation of flights to some or all destinations serviced by Sydney Airport, due to either government action or passengers deciding to postpone or cease air travel. Any such reduction in passenger numbers could have a material adverse impact on SYD's aeronautical revenues and would also be likely to affect its commercial revenues, particularly those derived from retail operations. In addition, events of war or terrorism may lead to a requirement for heightened security measures which would result in higher operational costs to SYD. Any of these events may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.15 Aircraft accidents or incidents

The risk of aircraft accidents or incidents is inherent in airline travel and airport operations. Aircraft accidents or incidents may be caused by a number of factors, including extreme weather conditions, equipment failure, bird/bat strikes, objects on or near the runway, human error and terrorist activities. An aircraft accident or incident at Sydney Airport may expose SYD to liability in connection with any resultant property damage or personal injury and any subsequent investigation or damage to facilities may cause parts of Sydney Airport to be unavailable for a period of time. Any of these events may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.16 Physical security incidents

There is a risk of physical security incident, as a result of terrorist activities or otherwise, at Sydney Airport. To the extent acts of terrorism or other physical security incident occurred at Sydney Airport, there may be significant damage to assets and/or suspension of operations throughout some or all of the airport. Although the Terrorism Insurance Act 2003 (Cth) may partially protect SYD against the losses incurred in connection with such terrorist activities, any such activity may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance and potentially affect the appeal of Sydney as a tourist destination. Such actions could also increase SYD's insurance costs and may materially adversely impact SYD's ability to obtain insurance.

1.17 Actions by airlines

Actions by airlines which affect passenger numbers could adversely affect the financial performance of airports, particularly where airlines have a major presence at an airport. Decisions on the timing of services, price of airlines' seats, the aircraft used and the detailed routings may impact on traffic levels at airports.

Appendix B: Key risks

1.18 Risks relating to commercial operations

A deterioration in SYD's commercial operations (being retail operations, Sydney Airport's property portfolio, including hotels, and ground transport and carparking facilities) may materially adversely affect SYD's revenues. Diminished passenger numbers and other economic factors may reduce the level of expenditure at Sydney Airport's retail outlets (including its main duty free contract), increase property vacancy rates, and reduce demand for ground transport services, thereby materially adversely impacting SYD's revenues from commercial operations and may have a material adverse impact on SYD's overall operations and/or financial position and performance.

SYD's commercial revenues have been materially impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic, the reduction in routes offered by aircraft carriers to and from Sydney Airport, and the measures taken by the Australian Commonwealth and State governments and governments in other countries to address the outbreak. These factors have also adversely impacted SYD through reduced duty free rentals, retail store closures, rental abatements, increasing number of bad debtors, and additional provisioning.

It is unclear how long the impact of severely reduced passenger numbers, and of the economic downturn caused by the COVID-19 outbreak, will continue to adversely affect SYD's commercial revenues and the risk of further bad debts or the need to continue to provide on-going rental abatement and other support to commercial customers of SYD.

1.19 Environmental risk

SYD is subject to environmental regulations that can impose significant costs or liabilities on SYD to remedy or abate any pollutants located on or in, or emanating from, Sydney Airport, as well as related costs of investigation and any damages. This includes known PFAS contamination, predominantly resulting from firefighting foams used by Airservices Australia during training exercises. Furthermore, SYD can incur substantial expenses if it is required to remediate currently unknown environmental contamination or other environmental damage to rectify Sydney Airport's facilities to comply with applicable environmental laws, which may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

Airports may attract opposition from environmental groups in relation to various environmental issues, who may attempt to limit the activities of an airport, its hours, etc. Changes in environmental planning regulation may also impact airport development. There is a risk that growing concerns about environmental sustainability, including "flight shaming", may impact the long-term growth trend for the global aviation industry. Air travel by its nature is energy intensive and burning jet fuel emits carbon dioxide and other "greenhouse" gases that are believed to be damaging to the environment. Longer haul air travel, which drives a significant proportion of SYD's business is potentially more susceptible to any government policy interventions designed to reduce emissions. Any such regulatory change or policy interventions may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

6. ANNOUNCEMENTS

Appendix B: Key risks

1.20 Interest rate and foreign exchange risk

SYD's financial performance is affected by fluctuations in interest rates and foreign exchange rates primarily due to increases associated with borrowing on a floating rate and in foreign currencies. Variations in interest rates and foreign currency appreciation against the Australian dollar which are not effectively hedged may increase SYD's debt funding costs. SYD manages interest rate and currency risk by using swaps but there can be no assurance that it will successfully manage its interest rate or foreign exchange risk, that a hedge provider will not default on its obligations, or that changes in interest rates or foreign exchange rate fluctuations will not have a material adverse effect on SYD's financial position, any of which may have a material adverse impact on SYD's financial position and performance.

1.21 Management and key personnel risk

SYD is dependent upon the experience of its directors, key senior management and staff generally. The loss of any key personnel could cause disruption to the conduct of SYD's business in the short term and may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial performance. In addition, any outbreak of COVID-19 within SYD's workforce or disruption caused to operations as a result of SYD's remote working arrangements may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial performance.

1.22 Tax risk

SYD's financial position and performance relies on certain existing taxation treatments. There can be no assurance that these tax rules or their interpretation in relation to SYD will not change, or that regulators will agree with the tax position SYD has adopted. Following the COVID-19 crisis, governments may need to engage in budget repair measures which may impact corporate or other taxation treatments, rates and charges, which may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.23 Information technology and cybersecurity risk

SYD's business operations rely on a number of information technology systems, applications and business processes utilised in the delivery of business functions. Any failure or interruption to these systems and processes or breach of SYD's cybersecurity measures could result in significant disruptions to SYD's operations. In addition, any unauthorised access to SYD's information technology systems (including as a result of cyberattacks, computer viruses, malicious code, phishing attacks) could result in the unauthorised release or misuse of confidential or proprietary information of SYD, its employees or customers, which may lead to reputational damage, financial penalties, litigation and compromised relationships with customers. Further, any failure or interruption to the systems of SYD's key partners (for example Australian Border Force) could also result in significant disruptions to SYD's operations. Any of these circumstances may have a material adverse impact on SYD's reputation, operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.24 Insurance risk

SYD has insurance policies in place across its business to protect against major operating and other identified risks. However, not all risks and liabilities are insurable or insured by its existing insurance coverage. There is no assurance that adequate insurance cover for all potential liabilities and losses will be available in the future on commercially viable terms. Uncovered losses or the payment of a larger deductible may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

Appendix B: Key risks

1.25 Counterparty risk

Credit risk results from the risk of default of customers and counterparties to SYD's derivative financial instruments, such as with cross-currency swaps or fixed to floating rate swaps. While this risk is mitigated by entering into such contracts with parties of high credit standing, SYD is unable to predict whether these parties will maintain such credit standing or default on their obligations. In addition, customers and counterparties have termination rights under underlying contracts if SYD defaults on its obligations or if certain other events occur. Termination of these contracts may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.26 Litigation risk

SYD may be subject to litigation in the course of its business, including commercial, contractual or customer claims, injury claims (including potential claims relating to any liability or negligence regarding transmission of COVID-19), tenant disputes, environmental claims and prosecutions, claims related to land access issues, occupational health and safety claims, employee claims, and regulatory disputes including, for example, the legacy tax litigation in relation to withholding tax in Denmark referred to at 1.27. Even if SYD is ultimately successful in defending claims against it (or in pursuing claims made by it), reputational harm may be inflicted and substantial legal and associated costs may be incurred that may not be recoverable from other parties, which may have a material adverse impact on SYD's financial position and performance.

1.27 Legacy Danish tax litigation

In 2011, the SAT1 Group sold stakes in both Copenhagen Airport and Brussels Airport to Ontario Teachers' Pension Plan Board (OTPP). As part of that sale, SAT1 provided OTPP with an indemnity that covered certain matters, including in respect of amounts that may be payable to the Danish Tax Authority relating to disputed dividend and withholding tax amounts for the years 2006 – 2011.

As disclosed in the full year account for 2019, SAT1 has determined to expense $119.1 million relating to the interest withholding tax indemnity, and to make a non-current provision for a further $63.1 million for a possible call on the indemnity in respect of the dividend withholding tax matter. The latter provision will increase by around $6 million per annum for as long as the dividend withholding tax matter remains unresolved by the Danish High Court.

Whilst SAT1 has undertaken steps to explore options available to it, there remains uncertainty as to the outcome of the litigation. In addition, while the Danish Tax Authority publicly commented in June 2020 that it had erroneously over claimed calculated interest accruals on certain tax dispute assessments, including in respect of these matters, no formal recalculation or correspondence has yet been provided by the Danish Tax Authority to the relevant taxpayer in SAT1's case. The accounting determinations referred to above may change depending on the ultimate outcome.

Appendix B: Key risks

1.28 Infrastructure development

The ongoing growth and development of Sydney Airport requires SYD to undertake capital expenditure projects in order to increase capacity in accordance with its Master Plan 2039. Although most of the planned capital expenditure projects are modular in nature, to the extent SYD is unable to execute one or more of projects on time or on budget, it may be precluded from undertaking other additional works in order to meet the requirements of the Master Plan 2039. Any delays to, or the cancellation of, any planned development projects may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic many projects have been suspended or materially deferred to realise cash flow savings during this period. SYD may need to restart some or all of these in the future, at a cost that may be higher than previously envisioned.

1.29 Acquisition of jet fuel infrastructure facilities

In 2020 SYD will acquire ownership and control of the jet fuel infrastructure facilities at Sydney Airport, including appointment of a new third party operator. The acquisition will give rise to certain risks regarding transition to the new operator, insurance risk, environmental liability risk, and commercial exposure to jet fuel volumes as they relate to the changed ownership and operation of the jet fuel infrastructure facilities. Should any of these risks materialise, it may have a material adverse impact on SYD's operations and/or financial position and performance.

1.30 Securityholder ownership risks

As an entity regulated by the Airports Act 1996 (Cth) (Airports Act), Sydney Airport Limited is subject to a 49% foreign ownership restriction, a 5% limit on ownership by airlines, and a 15% cross ownership restriction in connection with Melbourne, Brisbane and Perth airports. Breach of those restrictions may result in a breach of law and a requirement that a securityholder be divested of some or all of their securities. A failure by Sydney Airport Limited to take reasonable steps to ensure that these ownership restrictions are not exceeded may expose Sydney Airport Limited to financial penalties. Should any such financial penalties be imposed on Sydney Airport Limited, it may have a material adverse impact on SYD's financial position and performance.

Appendix B: Key risks

2. OFFER AND GENERAL RISKS

2.1 Investment in equity capital and COVID-19

Any investment in equity capital carries general risks. The trading price of SYD's stapled securities on the ASX may fluctuate in line with broader market movements or in response to specific circumstances, which may result in the market price being higher or lower than the offer price. Some factors which may affect the market price of SYD's stapled securities include:

- the impact of COVID-19, including with respect to travel restrictions, consumer sentiment, and global supply chains;
- the Australian and global macroeconomic outlook, including fluctuations in interest rates, currency exchange rates, inflation, commodity prices, investor sentiment, consumer demand, and employment levels;
- changes in Australian and foreign government regulation (including fiscal and monetary policies);
- force majeure events such as natural disasters, extreme weather events, pandemics (such as COVID-19), war and terrorism; and
- geopolitical instability and international hostilities.

There is considerable uncertainty as to the ongoing impact of COVID-19 on the Australian and global economy. Equity capital markets have historically been, and may in the future be, subject to significant volatility. No assurance can be given that the New Securities will trade at or above the offer price.

2.2. Underwriting risk

SYD has entered into an underwriting agreement with the Underwriter in respect of the Entitlement Offer dated 11 August 2020 (Underwriting Agreement). The Underwriting Agreement contains representations, warranties, undertakings and indemnities in favour of the Underwriter. If certain conditions are not satisfied, or certain events occur, the Underwriter may terminate the Underwriting Agreement. Termination of the Underwriting Agreement the Underwriter would have an adverse impact on the total amount of proceeds that could be raised under the Entitlement Offer. Key terms of the Underwriting Agreement, including the material termination events, are set out in Appendix D.

2.3 Renouncement risk

If you are an eligible securityholder, and you do not take up or sell your entitlements under the Entitlement Offer, then your entitlements will be treated as renounced and will be sold on your behalf in the institutional or retail bookbuild (as applicable) and any proceeds of sale of your entitlements will be paid to you. However, there is no guarantee that any value will be received for your renounced entitlements through the bookbuild process.

The ability to sell New Securities under the bookbuild and the ability to obtain any premium will depend upon various factors, including market conditions. Furthermore, the bookbuild price may not be the highest price available, but will be determined having regard to a number of factors, including having binding and bona fide offers which, in the reasonable opinion of the Underwriters, will, if accepted, result in acceptable allocations to clear the entire book.

Securityholders who do not take up their entitlements, or who are ineligible to do so, will find their percentage securityholding in SYD will be diluted by not participating fully in the Entitlement Offer.

2.4 Risk of selling or transferring entitlements

If you are an eligible retail securityholder and do not wish to take up your entitlements, you can sell them on the ASX or transfer them to another person or entity other than on the ASX during the entitlement trading period. If you sell or transfer your entitlements at one stage in the retail entitlement trading period you may receive a higher or lower price than a securityholder who sells or transfers their entitlements at a different stage in the retail entitlement trading period or through the retail shortfall bookbuild. There is no guarantee that there will be a viable market during, or on any particular day in, the retail entitlement trading period, on which to sell retail entitlements on the ASX. Eligible retail securityholders who wish to sell their entitlements may be unable to do so at an acceptable price, or at all, if insufficient liquidity exists in the market for entitlements.

If you choose to transfer your entitlements to another person or entity other than on the ASX, there is no guarantee that you will receive any value for transferred entitlements.

You should also note that if you sell or transfer all or part of your entitlements, then your percentage securityholding in SYD will be diluted by not participating to the full extent of the Entitlement Offer.

Appendix C: Foreign selling restrictions

This document does not constitute an offer of entitlements or new stapled securities ("New Securities") of SYD in any jurisdiction in which it would be unlawful. In particular, this document may not be distributed to any person, and the entitlements and New Securities may not be offered or sold, in any country outside Australia except to the extent permitted below.

Canada (British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec provinces)

This document constitutes an offering of entitlements and New Securities only in the Provinces of British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec (the "Provinces"), only to persons to whom such securities may be lawfully distributed in the Provinces, and only by persons permitted to sell such securities. This document is not, and under no circumstances is to be construed as, an advertisement or a public offering of securities in the Provinces. This document may only be distributed in the Provinces to persons that are "accredited investors" within the meaning of NI 45-106 – Prospectus Exemptions, of the Canadian Securities Administrators.

No securities commission or similar authority in the Provinces has reviewed or in any way passed upon this document, the merits of the entitlements or the New Securities or the offering of such securities and any representation to the contrary is an offence.

No prospectus has been, or will be, filed in the Provinces with respect to the offering of entitlements or New Securities or the resale of such securities. Any person in the Provinces lawfully participating in the offer will not receive the information, legal rights or protections that would be afforded had a prospectus been filed and receipted by the securities regulator in the applicable Province. Furthermore, any resale of the entitlements or the New Securities in the Provinces must be made in accordance with applicable Canadian securities laws which may require resales to be made in accordance with exemptions from dealer registration and prospectus requirements.

SYD as well as its directors and officers may be located outside Canada and, as a result, it may not be possible for purchasers to effect service of process within Canada upon SYD or its directors or officers. All or a substantial portion of the assets of SYD and such persons may be located outside Canada and, as a result, it may not be possible to satisfy a judgment against SYD or such persons in Canada or to enforce a judgment obtained in Canadian courts against SYD or such persons outside Canada.

Any financial information contained in this document has been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and also comply with International Financial Reporting Standards and interpretations issued by the International Accounting Standards Board.

Unless stated otherwise, all dollar amounts contained in this document are in Australian dollars.

Statutory rights of action for damages and rescission

Securities legislation in certain of the Provinces may provide purchasers with, in addition to any other rights they may have at law, rights of rescission or to damages, or both, when an offering memorandum that is delivered to purchasers contains a misrepresentation. These rights and remedies must be exercised within prescribed time limits and are subject to the defenses contained in applicable securities legislation. Prospective purchasers should refer to the applicable provisions of the securities legislation of their respective Province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal adviser.

The following is a summary of the statutory rights of rescission or to damages, or both, available to purchasers in Ontario. In Ontario, every purchaser of the entitlements or the New Securities purchased pursuant to this document (other than (a) a "Canadian financial institution" or a "Schedule III bank" (each as defined in NI 45-106), (b) the Business Development Bank of Canada or (c) a subsidiary of any person referred to in (a) or (b) above, if the person owns all the voting securities of the subsidiary, except the voting securities required by law to be owned by the directors of that subsidiary) shall have a statutory right of action for damages and/or rescission against SYD if this document or any amendment thereto contains a misrepresentation. If a purchaser elects to exercise the right of action for rescission, the purchaser will have no right of action for damages against SYD. This right of action for rescission or damages is in addition to and without derogation from any other right the purchaser may have at law. In particular, Section 130.1 of the Securities Act (Ontario) provides that, if this document contains a misrepresentation, a purchaser who purchases the entitlements and the New Securities during the period of distribution shall be deemed to have relied on the misrepresentation if it was a misrepresentation at the time of purchase and has a right of action for damages or, alternatively, may elect to exercise a right of rescission against SYD, provided that (a) SYD will not be liable if it proves that the purchaser purchased such securities with knowledge of the misrepresentation; (b) in an action for damages, SYD is not liable for all or any portion of the damages that SYD proves does not represent the depreciation in value of such securities as a result of the misrepresentation relied upon; and (c) in no case shall the amount recoverable exceed the price at which such securities were offered.

Section 138 of the Securities Act (Ontario) provides that no action shall be commenced to enforce these rights more than (a) in the case of any action for rescission, 180 days after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action; or (b) in the case of any action, other than an action for rescission, the earlier of (i) 180 days after the purchaser first had knowledge of the fact giving rise to the cause of action or (ii) three years after the date of the transaction that gave rise to the cause of action. These rights are in addition to and not in derogation from any other right the purchaser may have.

SYD

Appendix D: Underwriting Agreement Summary

SYD entered into an underwriting agreement with the underwriter (Underwriter) in respect of the Entitlement Offer on 11 August 2020 (Underwriting Agreement).

The Underwriter's obligations under the Underwriting Agreement, including to underwrite and manage the Entitlement Offer, are conditional on certain matters, including the timely delivery of certain due diligence materials and SYD having the benefit of all necessary ASIC modifications. If certain conditions are not satisfied, or certain events occur, the Underwriter may terminate the Underwriting Agreement. Termination of the Underwriting Agreement by the Underwriter would have an adverse impact on the total amount of proceeds that could be raised under the Entitlement Offer.

The events which may trigger termination of the Underwriting Agreement include the following:

- ASX announces that SYD will be removed from the official list or that SYD's stapled securities will be removed from official quotation or suspended from quotation by ASX for more than three ASX trading days for any reason other than in connection with the Entitlement Offer;
- SYD alters its capital structure without the Underwriter's consent (subject to certain exceptions, including the issue of securities pursuant to the Entitlement Offer or a non-underwritten dividend or distribution plan or employee incentive scheme);
- SYD or a material subsidiary of SYD is insolvent or there is an act or omission which is likely to result in SYD or a material subsidiary of SYD becoming insolvent;
- SYD or its directors engage, or have engaged, in any fraudulent conduct or activity, or criminal proceedings are brought against SYD or any of its directors in relation to any fraudulent conduct by or on behalf of SYD;
- SYD withdraws the Entitlement Offer;
- SYD does not provide a confirmatory certificate to the Underwriter in a timely manner or any confirmatory certificate is untrue, inaccurate, incomplete or misleading or deceptive in any respect;
- ASIC commences certain actions, proceedings or investigations in relation to the Entitlement Offer or certain documents published by SYD in respect of the Entitlement Offer and such action, proceedings or investigations are not withdrawn within specified time frames;
- unconditional approval (or approval conditional only on conditions that would not, in the reasonable opinion of the Underwriter, have a material adverse effect on the success or settlement of the Entitlement Offer) by ASX is refused or not granted for quotation of the New Securities or if granted, the approval is subsequently withdrawn, or ASX makes an official statement or indicates to SYD or the Underwriter that official quotation of the New Securities will not be granted;

- a general moratorium on commercial banking activities in certain countries is declared by the relevant central banking authority in those countries, or there is a material disruption in commercial banking or security settlement or clearance services in any of those countries;

- an outbreak or a material escalation of hostilities (whether war is declared or not) involving certain countries.

The ability of the Underwriter to terminate the Underwriting Agreement in respect of some of the termination events will depend on whether the Underwriter has reasonable grounds to believe, and does believe, that the event:

- has had, or is likely to have, a materially adverse effect on:
 - the marketing, outcome or success of the Entitlement Offer or on the ability of the Underwriter to promote or settle the Entitlement Offer; or
 - the willingness of investors to subscribe for New Securities; or
- will or is likely to give rise to a material contravention by the Underwriter of, or a material liability for the Underwriter under, any applicable laws, and none of those events may be triggered in relation to the impact of the COVID-19 crisis unless a material escalation of that crisis occurs in Australia.

Termination by the Underwriter will discharge SYD's obligation to pay the Underwriter any fees, costs, charges or expenses which as at termination are not yet accrued.

For details of the fees payable to the Underwriter, see the Appendix 3B released to ASX on 11 August 2020.

Sydney Airport, the underwriter and their respective Extended Parties make no representations or warranties, express or implied, as to the fairness, currency, accuracy, reliability or completeness of information, opinions and conclusions in this Presentation.

The underwriter, together with its affiliates, is a full service financial institution engaged in various activities, which may include trading, financing, financial advisory, investment management, investment research, principal investment, hedging, market making, brokerage and other financial and non-financial activities and services including for which they have received or may receive customary fees and expenses.

The underwriter and/or its affiliates is acting as the lead manager and underwriter of both the Institutional Entitlement Offer and Retail Entitlement Offer. The underwriter is acting for and providing services to Sydney Airport in relation to the Entitlement Offer and will not be acting for or providing services to Sydney Airport securityholders or creditors. The underwriter has been engaged solely as independent contractor and is acting solely in a contractual relationship on an arm's length basis with Sydney Airport. The engagement of the underwriter by Sydney Airport is not intended to create any agency or other relationship between the underwriter and the Sydney Airport securityholders or creditors.

The underwriter, in conjunction with its affiliates, is acting in the capacity as such in relation to the Entitlement Offer and will receive fees and expenses for acting in this capacity. The underwriter and/or its affiliates are or may in the future be lenders to Sydney Airport or its affiliates.

In connection with the institutional and/or retail bookbuilds, one or more institutional investors may elect to acquire an economic interest in the New Securities (Economic Interest), instead of subscribing for or acquiring the legal or beneficial interest in those securities. The underwriter (or its affiliates) may, for its own account, write derivative transactions with those investors relating to the New Securities to provide the Economic Interest, or otherwise acquire New Securities in Sydney Airport in connection with the writing of those derivative transactions in the institutional bookbuild and/or the secondary market. As a result of those transactions, the underwriter (or its affiliates) may be allocated, subscribe for or acquire New Securities or securities of Sydney Airport in the institutional bookbuild and/or retail bookbuild and/or the secondary market, including to hedge those derivative transactions, as well as hold long or short positions in those securities. These transactions may, together with other securities in Sydney Airport acquired by the underwriter or its affiliates in connection with their ordinary course sales and trading, principal investing and other activities, result in the underwriter or its affiliates disclosing a substantial holding and earning fees.

Sydney Airport successfully completes institutional component of Entitlement Offer

Sydney Airport is pleased to announce the successful completion of the institutional component (Institutional Entitlement Offer) of its $2.0 billion fully underwritten pro rata accelerated renounceable 1 for 5.15 entitlement offer (with retail rights trading) (Entitlement Offer) of new Sydney Airport stapled securities (New Securities). The Entitlement Offer was announced on Tuesday, 11 August 2020.

Summary of the Institutional Entitlement Offer

- The Institutional Entitlement Offer raised gross proceeds of approximately $1.3 billion and will result in the issue of approximately 287 million New Securities.
- The Institutional Entitlement Offer attracted strong demand from Sydney Airport's institutional securityholders with approximately 93% of entitlements available to eligible institutional securityholders taken up.
- The institutional shortfall bookbuild was well supported by both existing and institutional securityholders and new institutional investors.
- Entitlements not taken up by eligible institutional securityholders and entitlements of ineligible institutional securityholders were sold and cleared in the institutional shortfall bookbuild at $5.30 per New Security which was $0.74 above the offer price of $4.56 per security (Offer Price).
- The 7% of institutional securityholders that did not take up their entitlements were rewarded by a $0.74 (16% premium) to the offer price. This bodes well for retail securityholders as the offer structure was carefully and specifically designed to treat all securityholders equally.

Sydney Airport Chief Executive Officer, Geoff Culbert said, "We are delighted by the support shown by our institutional securityholders. The fact that the take up was well over 90% and that the renounced entitlements were placed at a price above TERP supports our decision to use a renounceable offer structure. Participating securityholders haven't been diluted and those renouncing securityholders who either couldn't or chose not to participate will be compensated through the proceeds of the institutional shortfall bookbuild. We now look forward to our retail securityholders getting the same opportunity to invest on a pro-rata basis."

"The strong demand from institutional investors demonstrates belief in the long-term fundamentals of Sydney Airport. This equity raising will strengthen our balance sheet, ensure we are well-positioned to meet any future challenges presented by the COVID-19 crisis, and gives us the flexibility to make the most of opportunities that arise through the recovery. We thank our investors for their ongoing support."

The institutional shortfall bookbuild was completed on Thursday, 13 August 2020. Eligible institutional securityholders who elected not to take up their entitlements, and ineligible institutional securityholders, will receive $0.74 for each entitlement sold for their benefit in the institutional shortfall bookbuild.

The New Securities to be issued as part of the Institutional Entitlement Offer will be allotted on Monday, 24 August 2020 and trading is expected to commence on the same day. The New Securities issued as part of the Institutional Entitlement Offer will rank equally with existing Sydney Airport stapled securities.

Commencement of the Retail Entitlement Offer

The retail component of the Entitlement Offer (Retail Entitlement Offer) will open on Tuesday, 18 August 2020 and is expected to raise approximately A$0.7 billion. Eligible retail securityholders in Australia or New Zealand will have the opportunity to participate in the Entitlement Offer at the same Offer Price and offer ratio as the Institutional Entitlement Offer.

Eligible retail securityholders who wish to apply to participate in the Retail Entitlement Offer must do so by 5.00pm (AEST) on Wednesday, 2 September 2020. Eligible retail securityholders who apply under the Retail Entitlement Offer before 5.00pm (AEST) on Thursday, 20 August 2020 (Initial Retail Closing Date) using BPAY®¹ will be allotted New Securities at the same time as the New Securities are allotted under the Institutional Entitlement Offer.

Securityholders in the United States are not eligible to participate in the Retail Entitlement Offer. Similarly, securityholders (including custodians and nominees) who hold Existing Securities on behalf of persons in the United States, or are acting for the account or benefit of persons in the United States, are not eligible to participate in the Retail Entitlement Offer on behalf of those persons.

New Securities issued as part of the Retail Entitlement Offer will rank equally with existing Sydney Airport stapled securities.

Eligible retail securityholders may also sell their entitlements on the ASX from Friday, 14 August 2020 (on a deferred settlement basis) and from Wednesday, 19 August 2020 (on a normal settlement basis) until Wednesday, 26 August 2020. Retail entitlements will trade under the ASX ticker "SYDR".

Retail entitlements that are not taken up by the close of the Retail Entitlement Offer and retail entitlements that would otherwise have been offered to ineligible retail securityholders will be sold through the retail shortfall bookbuild on Monday, 7 September 2020. Any proceeds from the bookbuild, being the excess of the price (if any) at which New Securities are sold through the retail shortfall bookbuild over the Offer Price less expenses (net of any withholding tax), will be paid to renouncing and ineligible retail securityholders. There is no guarantee that there will be any proceeds. The ability to sell entitlements under the retail shortfall bookbuild process and the ability to obtain any premium will be dependent upon various factors, including market conditions.

7. TAXATION

This section is a general summary of the Australian income tax, goods and services tax (GST) and stamp duty implications of the Retail Entitlement Offer for Eligible Retail Securityholders.

This section of the Retail Offer Booklet should not be relied on by Eligible Retail Securityholders as taxation advice. The taxation implications of the Retail Entitlement Offer will vary depending upon your particular circumstances. Accordingly, you should seek and rely upon the professional advice of your own taxation or financial adviser before determining the particular taxation treatment that will apply to you.

Neither Sydney Airport nor any of its officers or employees, nor its taxation and other advisers, accept any liability or responsibility in respect of any statement concerning taxation consequences, or in respect of the taxation consequences.

The comments in this section deal only with the Australian taxation implications of the Retail Entitlement Offer if you:

- are an Eligible Retail Securityholder;
- are a resident of Australia for Australian income tax purposes; and
- hold your Securities on capital account.

The comments do not apply to you if you:

- are not a resident for Australian income tax purposes; or
- hold your Securities as revenue assets or trading stock; or
- are subject to the Taxation of Financial Arrangements (TOFA) rules in Division 230 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (Cth) in relation to your holding of New Securities or Retail Entitlements; or
- acquired the New Securities in respect of which the Retail Entitlements are issued under any employee share scheme or where the New Securities are acquired pursuant to any employee share scheme; or
- are subject to special tax rules, such as insurance companies, partnerships and tax exempt organisations; or
- acquired Retail Entitlements otherwise than because you are an Eligible Retail Securityholder (e.g. where the Retail Entitlements are acquired on ASX or from a sale or transfer).

This taxation summary is general in nature and is based on the Australian tax law, including legislation, case law and relevant administrative guidance as at the date of this Retail Offer Booklet. The Australian income tax, GST or stamp duty implications outlined in this taxation summary may alter if there is a change in the taxation law after the date of this Retail Offer Booklet.

This taxation summary does not take into account any financial objectives, tax positions, or investment needs of Eligible Retail Securityholders. It is strongly recommended that each Eligible Retail Securityholder seek their own independent professional tax advice applicable to their particular circumstances.

7.1 Australian income tax

a. Issue of Retail Entitlements

For income tax purposes, the issue of a Retail Entitlement should be treated as an issue of two separate rights to acquire a New Security, being a share in SAL and unit in SAT1. For the purposes of this summary, these rights are collectively referred to as the Retail Entitlement.

A Retail Entitlement issued to an Eligible Retail Securityholder is a capital gains tax (CGT) asset, being a right to subscribe for New Securities.

The issue of the Retail Entitlement will not of itself result in any amount being included in the assessable income of an Eligible Retail Securityholder.

b. Sale on ASX, or transfer, of Retail Entitlements

If you sell your Retail Entitlement on ASX or transfer your Retail Entitlement directly to another person, you will derive a capital gain for CGT purposes if the capital proceeds received for the sale or transfer exceed your tax cost base in the Retail Entitlements.

Your capital proceeds made on the sale or transfer of the Retail Entitlements will be equal to the sale proceeds (or deemed market value capital proceeds if Retail Entitlements are transferred in a dealing which is not considered at arm's length, for other than market value consideration). As the Retail Entitlements are granted to Eligible Retail Securityholders for nil consideration, your tax cost base of the Retail Entitlement should generally be limited to certain non-deductible incidental costs incurred in relation to the disposal of the Retail Entitlements.

Eligible Retail Securityholders who are individuals, complying superannuation entities or trustees who have held their Existing Securities for at least 12 months³ prior to the date of sale or transfer of the Retail Entitlement should be entitled to discount the amount of a capital gain resulting from the sale of the Retail Entitlements (after the application of any current year or carry forward capital losses). The capital gain is a discount capital gain.

The amount of the CGT discount is 50% for individuals and trustees and 33.3% for complying superannuation entities. This is referred to as the 'CGT discount'.

³ The ATO measures the period of 12 months for this purpose exclusive of both the acquisition date and the disposal date.

The CGT discount is not available to Eligible Retail Securityholders that are companies.

Trustees should seek specific tax advice regarding the tax consequences arising to beneficiaries arising as a result of discount capital gains.

c. Retail Entitlements sold into the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild

Any Retail Entitlements not taken up, sold or transferred by you will be sold into the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild on your behalf and any Retail Premium you receive in respect of the Retail Entitlements will be paid to you.

You will derive a capital gain for CGT purposes where the capital proceeds received for the sale exceed your tax cost base in the Retail Entitlements.

Any Retail Premium paid to you as a result of the sale (on your behalf) of your Retail Entitlements into the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild should constitute your capital proceeds. This is consistent with the views of the Commissioner of Taxation in Taxation Ruling TR 2017/4 'Income tax: taxation of rights and retail premiums under renounceable rights offers where shares held on capital account'.

As Retail Entitlements are granted to Eligible Retail Securityholders for nil consideration, your tax cost base of the Retail Entitlement should generally be limited to certain non-deductible incidental costs incurred in relation to the disposal of the Retail Entitlements.

Eligible Retail Securityholders who are individuals, complying superannuation entities or trustees that have held their Existing Securities for at least 12 months prior to the date of sale into the Retail Shortfall, should be eligible for the CGT discount in respect of any capital gain resulting from the sale of the Retail Entitlements into the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild (after the application of any current year or carry forward capital losses).

The amount of the CGT discount is 50% for individuals and trustees and 33.3% for complying superannuation entities.

The CGT discount is not available to Eligible Retail Securityholders that are companies.

Trustees should seek specific tax advice regarding the tax consequences arising to beneficiaries arising as a result of discount capital gains.

d. Exercise of Retail Entitlements

You will not make any capital gain or capital loss, or derive any assessable income, at the time that you exercise (i.e. take up) all or part of your Retail Entitlement and acquire New Securities.

Each New Security acquired upon exercising all or part of your Retail Entitlement will comprise two separate CGT assets: a share in SAL and a unit in SAT1. If you take up all or part of your Retail Entitlement, you will need to determine your tax cost base for each of these CGT assets on the basis of a reasonable apportionment of the Offer Price payable by you for those New Securities (plus a reasonable apportionment of certain non-deductible incidental costs you incur in acquiring them).

For CGT purposes, New Securities will be taken to have been acquired on the day you exercise your Retail Entitlements.

e. Distributions on New Securities as a result of Retail Entitlements taken up

Any future dividends or other distributions made in respect of New Securities will be subject to the same income taxation treatment as dividends or other distributions made on Existing Securities held in the same circumstances.

i. Distributions from SAT1

SAT1 is a "flow through" trust under Division 6 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1936 (Cth).

Eligible Retail Securityholders who have taken up New Securities will be required to include their share of the net income of SAT1 in their assessable income for income tax purposes. Eligible Retail Securityholders will be notified of this amount by the responsible entity for SAT1.

To the extent that SAT1 makes any non-assessable distributions to Eligible Retail Securityholders, such distributions will give rise to a CGT event. In these circumstances, to the extent that the non-assessable distribution exceeds your tax cost base in a SAT1 unit, a capital gain will arise. Where this happens, your tax cost base (or reduced cost base) in the SAT1 unit would be reduced to nil.

Where the sum of the non-assessable distributions is not more than your tax cost base in a SAT1 unit, your tax cost base (or reduced cost base) in the SAT1 unit would be reduced by the non-assessable distribution but no capital gain would arise.

ii. Distributions from SAL

Generally, in respect of each income year, Eligible Retail Securityholders who have taken up New Securities will be required to include dividends received from SAL in their assessable income, together with any franking credit attached to the dividend. Where the franking credit is included in your assessable income, you will generally be entitled to a corresponding tax offset.

7. TAXATION

To be eligible for the franking credit and tax offset, Eligible Retail Securityholders must have held the shares in SAL at risk for a period of at least 45 days (not including the date of acquisition or the date of disposal) and free of any related payment obligations.

An Eligible Retail Securityholder will not be taken to have held the SAL shares at risk where the Eligible Retail Securityholder or an associate holds “positions” (such as options or other hedging arrangements) which materially diminish the risks of loss or opportunities for gain in respect of those shares.

This holding period rule will not apply to an Eligible Retail Securityholder who is an individual whose tax offset entitlement (for all franked distributions received in the income year) does not exceed $5,000 for the income year in which the franked dividend is received. Where the Eligible Retail Securityholder is an individual or complying superannuation entity and satisfies the above requirements, the Eligible Retail Securityholder will generally be entitled to a refund of tax to the extent that the franking credit attached to the Eligible Retail Securityholder’s dividends exceeds the Eligible Retail Securityholder’s income tax liability for the income year.

Where the Eligible Retail Securityholder is a company, franked dividends received by the Securityholder will generally give rise to a franking credit in the Eligible Retail Securityholder’s franking account.

Eligible Retail Securityholders are advised to obtain their own tax advice based upon their specific circumstances to confirm that they are entitled to the benefit of any franking credit gross-up and tax offset in respect of franked dividends paid by SAL.

f. Disposal of New Securities

For CGT purposes, the disposal of a New Security will constitute a separate disposal of a unit in SAT1 and a share in SAL. Accordingly, the proceeds referable to the future disposal of a unit in SAT1 and a share in SAL will need to be determined by apportioning the total proceeds received for the disposal of a New Security on a reasonable basis.

On disposal of a New Security, you will make a capital gain if the capital proceeds received by you on disposal exceed the tax cost base of the New Security. You will make a capital loss if the capital proceeds are less than the reduced tax cost base of the New Security.

Eligible Retail Securityholders who are individuals, trustees or complying superannuation entities that have held New Securities for 12 months⁴ or more at the time of disposal should be entitled to discount the amount of a capital gain resulting from the disposal of New Securities (after the application of any current year or carry forward capital losses). The amount of the CGT discount is 50% for individuals and trustees and 33.3% for complying superannuation entities.

New Securities will be treated for the purposes of the CGT discount as having been acquired when you exercised your Retail Entitlement. Accordingly, in order to be eligible for the CGT discount, the New Securities must be held for at least 12 months after the date that you exercised your Retail Entitlement.

The CGT discount is not available to Eligible Retail Securityholders that are companies.

Trustees should seek specific tax advice regarding the tax consequences arising to beneficiaries arising as a result of discount capital gains.

A capital loss arising from the disposal of the New Securities can be used to offset any capital gains derived by Eligible Retail Securityholders for the relevant income year or may be carried forward to offset capital gains in future income years. Specific capital loss recoupment rules apply to companies to restrict their ability to utilise capital losses in future income years. Eligible Retail Securityholders should seek their own tax advice in relation to the operation of these rules.

7.2 Withholding tax

SAL may be required to withhold tax from you on payments of dividends that are not fully franked, at the specified rate (currently 47%), and remit such amounts to the ATO, unless you have previously provided your TFN or ABN to Sydney Airport, or you have informed us that you are exempt from quoting your TFN or ABN.

You are not required to report your TFN or ABN to Sydney Airport, however you may choose to do so. If you are an Australian tax resident Eligible Retail Securityholder, and you have not previously provided your TFN or ABN to Sydney Airport or you have not provided Sydney Airport details of any relevant exemptions, you may wish to do so. You are able to provide your TFN or ABN online with the Registry at www.investorcentre.com/au. When providing your details online, you will be required to enter your SRN or HIN as shown on your Issuer Sponsored/CHESS statements and other personal details such as your postcode.

Eligible Retail Securityholders may be entitled to claim an income tax credit/refund (as applicable) in their income tax returns in respect of any tax withheld.

7.3 Other Australian taxes

No GST or stamp duty will be payable by you in respect of the issue, sale or exercise of the Retail Entitlements or the acquisition of New Securities.

⁴ The ATO measures the period of 12 months for this purpose exclusive of both the acquisition date and the disposal date.

8. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Sydney Airport, as the issuer of the Entitlement Offer, comprises SAL and TTCSAL as responsible entity for SAT1. This Retail Offer Booklet (including the enclosed Announcements and attached personalised Entitlement and Acceptance Form) have been prepared by Sydney Airport.

This Retail Offer Booklet (other than the ASX Announcement and the Investor Presentation) is dated Friday, 14 August 2020. The ASX Announcement and Investor Presentation included in this Retail Offer Booklet are current as at Tuesday, 11 August 2020 and the Institutional Entitlement Offer Results is current as at Friday, 14 August 2020. The Retail Offer Booklet remains subject to change without notice.

There may be additional announcements that have been made by Sydney Airport after Tuesday, 11 August 2020 and throughout the Retail Entitlement Offer Period that may be relevant in your consideration of whether to take up, sell or transfer all or some of your Retail Entitlements. Therefore, it is prudent that you check whether any further announcements have been made by Sydney Airport before submitting an Application or selling or transferring your Retail Entitlements.

No party other than Sydney Airport has authorised or caused the issue of this Retail Offer Booklet, or takes any responsibility for, or makes, any statements, representations or undertakings in this Retail Offer Booklet.

For the avoidance of doubt, to the maximum extent permitted by law, the Underwriter and its related bodies corporate and affiliates, and each of their respective directors, officers, partners, employees, representatives, consultants, agents and advisers (Underwriter Parties) disclaim all duty and liability, including (without limitation) liability arising from fault or negligence, for any loss howsoever and whenever arising from the use of any of the information contained in this Retail Offer Booklet.

8.1 Not financial product advice

This Retail Offer Booklet is not a prospectus or product disclosure statement under the Corporations Act and has not been lodged with ASIC. It is also not financial product advice, investment advice or a recommendation to acquire New Securities and has been prepared without taking into account your investment objectives, financial circumstances or particular needs. This Retail Offer Booklet does not purport to contain all of the information that you may require to evaluate a possible application for New Securities. It should be read in conjunction with Sydney Airport's other periodic statements and continuous disclosure announcements lodged with ASX, which are available at www.asx.com.au.

Before deciding whether to apply for New Securities, you should consider whether they are a suitable investment for you in light of your own investment objectives and financial circumstances, and having regard to the risks and merits involved. You should also consider whether you need to seek appropriate advice, including financial, legal and taxation advice appropriate to your jurisdiction.

If, after reading this Retail Offer Booklet, you have any questions about whether you should participate in the Retail Entitlement Offer, you should seek professional advice from a professional adviser who is licensed by ASIC to give that advice before making any investment decision.

8.2 Eligible Retail Securityholders and Ineligible Retail Securityholders

This Retail Offer Booklet contains an offer of New Securities to Eligible Retail Securityholders.

Sydney Airport has decided that it is unreasonable to make offers under the Retail Entitlement Offer to retail investors who are holders of Securities and who are in the United States or are acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States (to the extent such persons hold Securities and are acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States) or who have registered addresses outside Australia and New Zealand (referred to as Ineligible Retail Securityholders), having regard to the number of such holders in those places and the number and value of the New Securities that they would be offered and the cost of complying with the relevant legal and regulatory requirements in those places.

Sydney Airport reserves the right to determine whether a Securityholder is an Eligible Retail Securityholder or an Ineligible Retail Securityholder.

Ineligible Retail Securityholders should shortly receive a letter from Sydney Airport outlining their rights in relation to the Entitlement Offer.

Sydney Airport may (in its absolute discretion) extend the Retail Entitlement Offer to any Institutional Securityholder in foreign jurisdictions which did not participate in the Institutional Entitlement Offer (excluding the United States and subject to compliance with applicable laws).

8.3 Retail Entitlements

The Retail Entitlements may not be purchased, traded, taken up or exercised by persons in the United States or by persons who are acting for the account or benefit of persons in the United States (to the extent such persons are acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States).

8. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Investors should note that if you purchase Retail Entitlements on ASX or otherwise, in order to take up or exercise those Retail Entitlements and subscribe for New Securities you:

- must be an Eligible Retail Securityholder, a resident in Australia or New Zealand, or otherwise qualify as an 'Eligible Person'⁵; and
- must not be in the United States or acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States in connection with the purchase or exercise of those Retail Entitlements.

If you do not satisfy the above conditions, you will not be entitled to take up Retail Entitlements or subscribe for New Securities.

It is the responsibility of purchasers of Retail Entitlements to inform themselves of the eligibility criteria for exercise. If holders of Retail Entitlements at the end of the Retail Entitlement Trading Period do not meet the eligibility criteria, they will not be able to exercise the Retail Entitlements. In the event that holders are not able to exercise their Retail Entitlements, they may receive no value for them.

8.4 Trading of Retail Entitlements and New Securities

Subject to approval being granted, it is expected that Retail Entitlements will trade on ASX on a deferred settlement basis from Friday, 14 August 2020 until Tuesday, 18 August 2020 and on a normal settlement basis from Wednesday, 19 August until Wednesday, 26 August 2020 (being the Retail Entitlement Trading Period). Following this, it is expected that trading on ASX of New Securities to be issued under the Final Allotment will commence on Thursday, 27 August 2020 on a deferred settlement basis and on Monday, 14 September 2020 on a normal settlement basis.

Sydney Airport and the Underwriter will have no responsibility and disclaim all duty and liability whether in fault, negligence or otherwise (to the maximum extent permitted by law) to persons who trade Retail Entitlements before they receive their personalised Entitlement and Acceptance Form, whether on the basis of confirmation of the allocation provided by Sydney Airport or the Registry or otherwise or who otherwise trade or purport to trade Retail Entitlements in error or which they do not hold or are not entitled to.

Sydney Airport and the Underwriter will have no responsibility and disclaim all duty and liability whether in fault, negligence or otherwise (to the maximum extent permitted by law) to persons who trade New Securities they believe will be issued to them before they receive their holding statements, whether on the basis of confirmation of the allocation provided by Sydney Airport or the Registry or otherwise or who otherwise trade or purport to trade New Securities in error or which they do not hold or are not entitled to.

Sydney Airport and the Underwriter will have no responsibility and disclaim all duty and liability whether in fault, negligence or otherwise (to the maximum extent permitted by law) to you if you attempt to sell or transfer any of your Retail Entitlements that you have elected to take up before the Initial Retail Closing Date (being 5.00pm (AEST) on Thursday, 20 August 2020).

If you are in any doubt as to these matters, you should seek professional advice from an adviser who is licensed by ASIC to give that advice.

While the Retail Entitlements will be tradeable on ASX, the assignment, transfer and exercise of Retail Entitlements trading on ASX will be restricted to persons meeting certain eligibility criteria. It is the responsibility of purchasers of Retail Entitlements to inform themselves of the eligibility criteria for exercise. In particular, persons in the United States and persons acting for the account or benefit of persons in the United States (to the extent such person holds Securities for the account or benefit of such person in the United States) will not be eligible to purchase or trade Retail Entitlements or to take up Retail Entitlements they acquire. If holders of Retail Entitlements at the end of the Retail Entitlement Trading Period do not meet the eligibility criteria, they will not be able to exercise the Retail Entitlements. In the event that holders are not able to exercise their Retail Entitlements, they may receive no value for them.

8.5 Reconciliation and the rights of Sydney Airport

As with any entitlement offer, investors may believe that they own more Existing Securities (being a Security on issue on the Record Date) than they ultimately do, or are otherwise entitled to more New Securities than initially offered to them. These matters may result in a need for reconciliation to ensure all Eligible Securityholders have the opportunity to receive all of their Entitlements.

If reconciliation is required, it is possible that Sydney Airport may need to issue a small quantity of additional New Securities (Top-Up Securities) to ensure all Eligible Securityholders have the opportunity to receive their appropriate allocation of New Securities. The price at which these Top-Up Securities will be issued will be the same as the Offer Price.

Sydney Airport also reserves the right to reduce the number of New Securities allocated to Eligible Securityholders or persons claiming to be Eligible Securityholders, if their Entitlement claims prove to be overstated, if they or their nominees fail to provide information requested to substantiate their claims, or if they are not Eligible Securityholders.

Investors who sell Retail Entitlements to which they are not entitled, or who do not hold sufficient Retail Entitlements at the time required to deliver those Retail Entitlements, may be required by Sydney Airport to otherwise acquire Retail Entitlements or Securities to satisfy these obligations.

⁵ Certain investors in a limited number of foreign jurisdictions (other than the United States) may be Eligible Persons if they satisfy the requirements of that expression as set out in the Entitlement and Acceptance Form.

By applying under the Entitlement Offer, including pursuant to acquisitions of Retail Entitlements, those doing so irrevocably acknowledge and agree to do the above as required by Sydney Airport in its absolute discretion. Those applying acknowledge that there is no time limit on the ability of Sydney Airport to require any of the actions set out above.

8.6 Sale of Retail Entitlements

Sydney Airport will arrange for Retail Entitlements which are not taken up by close of the Retail Entitlement Offer to be sold to eligible Institutional Investors through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild. Sydney Airport has engaged the Underwriter to assist in selling Retail Entitlements to subscribe for New Securities (including Retail Entitlements that would have been issued to Ineligible Retail Securityholders had they been eligible to participate in the Retail Entitlement Offer), through the Retail Shortfall Bookbuild. However, it is important to note that the Underwriter will be acting for and providing services to Sydney Airport in this process and will not be acting for or providing services to securityholders, creditors or any other potential investor. The engagement of the Underwriter by Sydney Airport is not intended to create any agency, fiduciary or other relationship between the Underwriter and the securityholders, any creditors or any other investor. For further details, see Section 8.13.

8.7 Receipt of excess Retail Premium

If you receive a Retail Premium payment in excess of the Retail Premium payment to which you were actually entitled based on the Retail Entitlements held by you as at close of the Retail Entitlement Offer at 5.00pm (AEST) on Wednesday, 2 September 2020 then, in the absolute discretion of Sydney Airport, you may be required to repay Sydney Airport the excess Retail Premium.

By taking up or transferring your Retail Entitlement, or accepting the payment to you of a Retail Premium, you irrevocably acknowledge and agree to repay any excess payment of the Retail Premium as set out above as required by Sydney Airport in its absolute discretion. In this case, the amount required to be repaid will be net of any applicable withholding tax and expenses. You also acknowledge that there is no time limit on the ability of Sydney Airport to require repayment as set out above and that where Sydney Airport exercises its right to correct your Retail Entitlements, you are treated as continuing to have taken up, transferred or not taken up your remaining Retail Entitlements.

8.8 New Securities

Sydney Airport has applied to ASX for official quotation of the New Securities to be issued under the Entitlement Offer. If ASX does not grant quotation of the New Securities, Sydney Airport will repay all Application Monies (without interest).

New Securities issued under the Retail Entitlement Offer will be fully paid and rank equally in all respects with Existing Securities.

8.9 Additional New Securities

All Eligible Retail Securityholders will be allocated New Securities applied and paid for, up to their Retail Entitlement.

Eligible Retail Securityholders may not apply for additional New Securities in excess of their Retail Entitlement.

Eligible Retail Securityholders who would like to apply for additional New Securities in excess of their Retail Entitlements may consider acquiring additional Retail Entitlements from any other Eligible Retail Securityholders who wish to sell their Retail Entitlements.

8.10 Information availability

NEITHER THIS RETAIL OFFER BOOKLET, THE INVESTOR PRESENTATION, NOR THE ACCOMPANYING ENTITLEMENT AND ACCEPTANCE FORM MAY BE DISTRIBUTED TO, OR RELIED UPON BY, PERSONS IN THE UNITED STATES OR PERSONS THAT ARE ACTING FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF A PERSON IN THE UNITED STATES (TO THE EXTENT SUCH PERSONS ARE ACTING FOR THE ACCOUNT OR BENEFIT OF A PERSON IN THE UNITED STATES)

8.11 Foreign jurisdictions

This Retail Offer Booklet has been prepared to comply with the requirements of the securities laws of Australia and New Zealand. To the extent that you hold Securities or Entitlements on behalf of another person resident outside Australia or New Zealand, it is your responsibility to ensure that any participation (including for your own account or when you hold Securities or Entitlements beneficially for another person) complies with all applicable laws and that each beneficial owner on whose behalf you are submitting the personalised Entitlement and Acceptance Form or trading Retail Entitlements is not in the United States, and that you are not acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States.

8. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

This Retail Offer Booklet does not constitute an offer in any jurisdiction in which, or to any person to whom, it would not be lawful to make such an offer. No action has been taken to register or qualify the Retail Entitlement Offer, the Retail Entitlements or the New Securities, or otherwise permit the public offering of the New Securities, in any jurisdiction other than Australia and New Zealand. Return of the personalised Entitlement and Acceptance Form will be taken by Sydney Airport to constitute a representation by you that there has been no breach of any such laws. Eligible Retail Securityholders who are nominees, trustees or custodians are therefore advised to seek independent advice as to how to proceed.

The distribution of this Retail Offer Booklet (including in electronic format) outside Australia and New Zealand may be restricted by law. If you come into possession of this Retail Offer Booklet, you should observe such restrictions and should seek professional advice on such restrictions. In particular, this document or any copy of it must not be taken into or distributed or released in the United States. Persons who come into possession of this document should seek advice on and observe any such restrictions. Any failure to comply with such restrictions may constitute a violation of applicable securities laws.

a. New Zealand

The Entitlements and the New Securities are not being offered to the public within New Zealand other than to existing securityholders of SYD with registered addresses in New Zealand to whom the offer of these securities is being made in reliance on the Financial Markets Conduct (Incidental Offers) Exemption Notice 2016. The offer of New Stapled Securities is renounceable in favour of members of the public.

This document has been prepared in compliance with Australian law and has not been registered, filed with or approved by any New Zealand regulatory authority under the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013. This document is not a product disclosure statement under New Zealand law and is not required to, and may not, contain all the information that a product disclosure statement under New Zealand law is required to contain.

b. United States

This Retail Offer Booklet may not be released or distributed in the United States. This Retail Offer Booklet does not constitute an offer to sell, or the solicitation of an offer to buy, any securities to any person in the United States or to any person who is acting for the account or benefit of any person in the United States (to the extent such person is acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States), or in any other jurisdiction in which such an offer would be illegal. Neither the Retail Entitlements nor the New Securities have been, or will be, registered under the Securities Act or the securities laws of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States. The Retail Entitlements may not be issued to, or taken up or exercised by, and the New Securities may not be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, to any persons in the United States or to any persons who are acting for the account or benefit of a person in the United States (to the extent such persons are acting for the account or benefit of persons in the United States). The Retail Entitlements and the New Securities to be offered and sold in the Retail Entitlement Offer may only be offered and sold outside the United States in 'offshore transactions' (as defined in Rule 902(h) under the Securities Act) in reliance on Regulation S.

8.12 Nominees and custodians

The Retail Entitlement Offer is being made to all Eligible Retail Securityholders. Nominees and custodians with registered addresses in the Eligible Jurisdictions, irrespective of whether they participate under the Institutional Entitlement Offer, may also be able to participate in the Retail Entitlement Offer in respect of some or all of the beneficiaries on whose behalf they hold Existing Securities, provided that the applicable beneficiary would satisfy the criteria for an Eligible Retail Securityholder.

Nominees and custodians which hold Securities as nominees or custodians will have received, or will shortly receive, a letter from Sydney Airport. Nominees and custodians should consider carefully the contents of that letter and note in particular that the Retail Entitlement Offer is not available to:

- beneficiaries on whose behalf they hold Existing Securities who would not satisfy the criteria for an Eligible Retail Securityholder;
- Eligible Institutional Securityholders who received an offer to participate in the Institutional Entitlement Offer (whether they accepted their Entitlement or not); or
- Ineligible Institutional Securityholders who were ineligible to participate in the Institutional Entitlement Offer.

In particular, persons acting as nominees or custodians for other persons may not take up, sell or transfer Retail Entitlements on behalf of, or send any documents relating to the Retail Entitlement Offer to, any person in the United States. If a nominee or custodian purchases or takes up Retail Entitlements for the account or benefit of a person in the United States, such person may receive no value for any such Entitlements.

Additionally, nominees and custodians may not distribute this Retail Offer Booklet (or any part of it) in the United States or in any other country outside Australia and New Zealand except (i) Australian and New Zealand nominees may send this Retail Offer Booklet and related offer documents to beneficial securityholders who are professional or Institutional Securityholders in other countries (other than the United States) listed in, and to the extent permitted under, the 'Foreign Jurisdictions' section of the Investor Presentation and (ii) to beneficial securityholders in other countries (other than the United States) where Sydney Airport may determine it is lawful and practical to make the Retail Entitlement Offer.

To the extent that you act for any Ineligible Institutional Securityholders or Ineligible Retail Securityholders, your Entitlements may be lower than indicated on your Entitlement and Acceptance Form. The Registry may need to reduce the number of Entitlements allotted to you once it receives advice regarding participation in the Institutional Entitlement Offer.

Sydney Airport is not required to determine whether or not any registered holder is acting as a nominee or the identity or residence of any beneficial owners of Securities. Where any holder is acting as a nominee for a foreign person, that holder, in dealing with its beneficiary, will need to assess whether indirect participation by the beneficiary in the Retail Entitlement Offer is compatible with applicable foreign laws.

Sydney Airport is not able to advise on foreign laws.

8.13 Underwriting

Sydney Airport has entered into the Underwriting Agreement under which the Underwriter has agreed to fully underwrite the Entitlement Offer, subject to the terms and conditions of the Underwriting Agreement.

The obligation on the Underwriter to underwrite the Entitlement Offer is conditional on certain customary matters, including the timely delivery of certain due diligence materials and Sydney Airport having the benefit of all necessary ASIC modifications.

Additionally, the Underwriter may (in certain circumstances having regard to the materiality of the relevant event) terminate the Underwriting Agreement and be released from its obligations under it on the occurrence of certain events. For further details, see the summary of the Underwriting agreement which is set out in Appendix D of the Investor Presentation (see Section 6 of this Retail Offer Booklet).

The Underwriter will be paid:

- a. an underwriting fee of:
 - i. up to 1.05%, inclusive of any discretionary fee, of the proceeds of the Institutional Entitlement Offer (Institutional Offer Proceeds); and
 - ii. up to 1.70%, inclusive of any discretionary fee, of the proceeds of the Retail Entitlement Offer (Retail Offer Proceeds); and
- b. a management fee of:
 - i. 0.30% of the proceeds of the Institutional Offer Proceeds; and
 - ii. 0.30% of the proceeds of the Retail Offer Proceeds.

The Underwriter will also be reimbursed for certain expenses.

Neither the Underwriter nor any of its Underwriter Parties have authorised or caused the issue or lodgement, submission, despatch or provision of this Retail Offer Booklet and there is no statement in this Retail Offer Booklet which is based on a statement made by an Underwriter Party. To the maximum extent permitted by law, each Underwriter Party expressly disclaims all duties and liabilities (including for fault or negligence) in respect of, and makes no representations regarding, takes no responsibility for any part of this Retail Offer Booklet or any action taken by you on the basis of the information in this Retail Offer Booklet, and makes no representation or warranty as to the fairness, currency, accuracy, reliability or completeness of this Retail Offer Booklet. To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Underwriter Parties exclude and disclaim all duty and liability (including for fault or negligence) for any expenses, losses, damages or costs incurred by you as a result of your participation in, or failure to participate in, the Entitlement Offer and for this Retail Offer Booklet being inaccurate or incomplete in any way for any reason, whether by fault, negligence or otherwise. To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Underwriter Parties also exclude and disclaim all duty and liability (including for fault or negligence) for any direct, indirect, consequential or contingent loss or damage whatsoever arising from the use of any part of this Retail Offer Booklet or otherwise arising in connection with it, whether by fault, negligence or otherwise. None of the Underwriter Parties makes any recommendations as to whether you or your related parties should participate in the Entitlement Offer nor do they make any representations or warranties to you concerning this Entitlement Offer, or any such information and you represent, warrant and agree that you have not relied on any statements made by any of the Underwriter Parties in relation to the New Securities or the Entitlement Offer generally.

The Underwriter, together with its affiliates, is a full service financial institution engaged in various activities, which may include trading, financing, financial advisory, investment management, investment research, principal investment, hedging, market making, brokerage and other financial and non-financial activities including for which they have received or may receive customary fees and expenses.

The Underwriter is acting for and providing services to Sydney Airport in relation to the Entitlement Offer and will not be acting for, or providing services to, securityholders, creditors or any other potential investor. The Underwriter has been engaged solely as an independent contractor and is acting solely in a contractual relationship on an arm's length basis with Sydney Airport. The engagement of the Underwriter is not intended to create any fiduciary obligations, agency or other relationship between the Underwriter and any securityholder, creditor or potential investor and you expressly disclaim any fiduciary relationship with the Underwriter.

In addition to the fees under the Underwriting Agreement, the Underwriter Parties may, from time to time, hold interests in the securities of, or earn brokerage, fees or other benefits from Sydney Airport and may in the future be lenders to Sydney Airport or its affiliates.

8.14 Governing law

This Retail Offer Booklet, the Retail Entitlement Offer and the contracts formed on acceptance of Applications made pursuant to the Retail Entitlement Offer are governed by the law applicable in New South Wales, Australia. Each Securityholder who applies for New Securities submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of New South Wales, Australia.

8.16 Withdrawal of the Entitlement Offer

Sydney Airport reserves the right to withdraw all or part of the Entitlement Offer and the information in this Retail Offer Booklet at any time, subject to applicable laws, in which case Sydney Airport will refund Application Monies in relation to New Securities not already issued in accordance with the Corporations Act and without payment of interest. In circumstances where allotment under the Institutional Entitlement Offer has occurred, Sydney Airport may only be able to withdraw the Entitlement Offer with respect to New Securities to be issued under the Retail Entitlement Offer.

To the fullest extent permitted by law, you agree that any Application Monies paid by you to Sydney Airport will not entitle you to receive any interest and that any interest earned in respect of Application Monies will belong to Sydney Airport.
