BELFAST GREAT OUTDOORS

Not just a city of ancient buildings, Belfast offers plenty of outdoors attractions for tourists. Belfast has over 40 public parks to explore, plus the Belfast Botanic Gardens where opera performances are frequently held. A great way to get active in Belfast is to take a Belfast City Bike Tour.

BELFAST SHOPPING

St George's Market is one of Belfast's oldest attractions. While Friday is the most popular market day, the market is also open on Saturdays and Sundays with fresh produce and live music. Victoria Square is one of the biggest and most popular Belfast shopping centres with over 50 stores and brand-name outlets. CARDIFF

The capital city of Wales is highly regarded for its castles, museums, beautiful nearby countryside, and a great waterfront area. There's a lot to explore for couples and families, and while there are plenty of museums and tourist centres, most enjoyment comes from exploring the city's old-standing buildings and natural wilderness.

HIGHLIGHTS

Cardiff Castles
Boasts a 2,000 year history.

CARDIFF CASTLES

Cardiff Castle is right in the city centre and boasts a 2,000 year history. The exterior looks like an average castle, but inside the luxurious interiors set it apart from the rest. You can take tours here and even attend a classic Welsh dinner. Castell Coch was also built by the owner and architect of Cardiff Castle. An 11th century medieval fortress, it is an impressive castle to add to your viewing list. Caerphilly is just north of Cardiff and is the second largest castle in the country. You'll even see a moat in true castle form. Each summer it hosts 'The Big Cheese' festival in honour of the area's cheese production.

DERRY

Officially named 'Londonderry', Derry is the second-largest city in Northern Ireland towards the north-west of Ireland. The city was named 'The UK City of Culture 2013' and offers a combination of ancient and contemporary attractions. Famous for being 'The Walled City', you'll find the preserved walls which aimed to protect the city from Irish chieftan invasions since 1618.

HIGHLIGHTS

Derry Shopping
One of the biggest centres across Northern Ireland

Historical Buildings
An interactive tourist centre.

Museums and Landmarks
A great place to get acquainted with Derry.

DERRY SHOPPING

Austin's Department Store is a Derry institution established way before popular department stores like Macy's and Harrod's! Foyleside Shopping Centre is one of the biggest centres across Northern Ireland that is worthy of a visit. Richmond Shopping Centre is one of Derry's most loved shopping centres, built in 1984 within the city's historic walls. For more of a customised, local touch, visit the renowned Craft Village to see Derry crystal and handmade jewellery.

HISTORICAL BUILDINGS

Visit the impressive St Columb's Cathedral, an iconic Derry building, first built in 1633. The Guildhall is a neo-gothic style building from 1887. A recent restoration has just been completed providing tourists with an interactive tourist centre. Built by The Honourable 'Irish Society', tourists have been queuing for years just to view the impressive architecture.

MUSEUMS AND LANDMARKS

The Peace Bridge is a famous Derry landmark, however, it's a pretty recent development compared to other Derry sites. Built in 2011, it's a modern crossing over the River Foyle. The bridge's construction was supported by the European Union's European Regional Development Fund's Peace 111 Program with the aim of connecting the west bank (largely Nationalist) to the east bank (largely Unionist).

Although, the hotel is obviously experiencing the post Christmas lull, we received exemplary service and meals and all at a very reasonable price. We would fully recommend the £35 Dine with Wine offer. Treat yourself!

Beautiful and amazing food, but ordinary service. To come & enjoy a tasting menu, or any dinner, you expect a bit of interaction and feedback. Felt ignored for most of the meal, as for example, I had to get up to ask for a cheese board and our water sat empty for half the meal. Apart from this it was beautiful food, but really to create a memory or experience the server needs to be responsible, but also empowered to make sure you enjoy the night....

GLASGOW

Glasgow is the largest city in Scotland and a culturally evolving town steeped in maritime history. Located on the River Clyde, Glasgow is one of the largest cities in the United Kingdom and is known for its sense of fun, friendly locals, and edgy attitude. Regarded as one of the best shopping destinations in the UK (excluding London), Glasgow is also a live-music haven, a quirky-bar capital, and a foodie's delight. With a bit of everything on its plate, Glasgow is in fierce rivalry with Edinburgh and believes it has the best of Scotland within its borders.

City Landmarks

Historical and modern attractions line the city streets.

Dining

A sociable city where people love to gather.

Shopping

Find upscale glamour and all the renowned British department stores.

CITY LANDMARKS

Historical and modern attractions line the city streets, and a city bus tour is one of the most economical ways to see them all. Glasgow City Chambers is a huge, magnificent structure above George Square. It has been said to signify Glasgow's strength both politically and historically. A visit here is a great start, setting the scene for a very proud and culturally rich city. Glasgow Cathedral is another historic landmark surviving the Protestant Reformation of 1560.

DINING

Glasgow is not only known as a culinary hotspot, but as a sociable city where people love to gather for lively meals and drinks. Favourite Glasgow eateries include Café Gandolfi favoured for its great coffee, seafood and local Scottish produce. Guy's Restaurant is great for couples with its romantic atmosphere and European flavours. Red Onion is the place to go for 'eclectic' and modern Scottish cuisine. Dining on a budget is also easy with the range of options in Glasgow.

SHOPPING

The three main shopping streets to focus on in Glasgow are Buchanan Street, Sauchiehall Street and Argyll Street. The area encompassing Buchanan Street, Argyll Street and Merchant City has been called The Style Mile, a conglomerate of over 200 stores. This is where you'll find upscale glamour and all the notable British department stores. But on the west side of town, places like Byres Road offer more eclectic fashions and fares.
