The view from the top: CDP's
plans to drive the next 25 years of Earth-positive action

Disclosure

The benchmark for credible environmental leadership.

Through disclosure, you are enabling business to capture more economic opportunities.

As CDP marks its 25th anniversary, we all need to ask ourselves:

What legacy are we building through the decisions we make now?

What will still be visible, in our balance sheets and in the real economy, in 10 or 20 years' time?

Earth-positive economics

Integrating environmental data into business decision-making.

Just 15%

of corporates globally are emerging as true environmental leaders*.

US$218 billion

in environmental opportunities has been unlocked.

*CDP's 2025 Corporate Health Check

The legacy we build will depend on how consistently we align economic decision-making with planetary boundaries.

We need a framework for durable growth.

The legacy we build starts now.

Continue strengthening your strategy through disclosure.

Help build a market where transparency supports resilience and growth.

Thank you for your ongoing support
