Understanding climate risks and maximizing financial rewards:
The benefits for investor signatories

CDP's global disclosure system equips capital markets with the data needed to support their sustainable, net-zero investing or lending strategies. Whether through engagement, research, peer benchmarking, targets assessment, footprinting and much more - comparable and comprehensive reported data is the gold standard for appropriate action.

Capital market actors are better able to mitigate risks associated with climate uncertainty, water insecurity, and nature degradation. Additionally, investee companies who disclose are putting in place the people and data to build resilience and seek sustainable opportunities compared to their peers. Working together with actionable data and insights, Financial Institutions and investee companies can steer a path towards a transition that works for people and planet.

"As a sustainable asset manager, Union Investment is interested in the level of awareness and management of these topics within companies and sectors.

CDP data allows us not only to compare companies' commitments and performance but to assess whether middle-and long-term strategies are credible. Without companies' disclosures via CDP, the process to gather and analyze data, at the scale and depth that CDP dives into, would be cumbersome for Union Investment as well as for other asset managers."

Signature products

Greenhouse Gas (GHG) Modelled Emissions Dataset

CDP's full GHG modelled emissions dataset includes reported and estimated emissions for Scope 1, location-based and market-based Scope 2, Scope 3, Scope 1 + 2 revenue intensity; and fuel and steam, heat, electricity & cooling (SHEC) data.

The dataset models emissions for the Carbon Action companies, a group of the highest-emitting public companies on which the investor-led Carbon Action Initiative focuses, and constituents of the MSCI ACWI, a widely used international index covering around 85% of the investable equity universe, for a total sample of over 9,000 companies.

Net-Zero Alignment Dataset

CDP's NZAD utilizes target-based temperature alignment scores (ITR), greenhouse gas (GHG) emission metrics and transition plan data to help FIs understand which companies have 1.5°C targets and plans, and assess their credibility and recent performance. As of December 2023, the NZAD also integrates the Sectoral Decarbonization Approach (SDA) to assess the performance and ambition of high-impact companies against sector-specific intensity trajectories.

Collaborative engagement initiatives

Non-Disclosure Campaign

Our annual Non-Disclosure Campaign offers capital markets the opportunity to actively target companies that have received the CDP disclosure request on behalf of financial institutions but have not provided a response. The objective of the campaign is to drive further corporate transparency around climate change, deforestation and water security, by encouraging companies to respond to CDP's disclosure request. For more information, visit our website.

Municipal Disclosure Campaign

CDP offers municipal/sub-sovereign fixed income investors access to the world's largest standardized and centralized repository of voluntary environmental disclosure. Our Municipal Disclosure Campaign is the leading sub-sovereign disclosure engagement program worldwide. All CDP public sector data is fully aligned with the TCFD, highlighting the risks, opportunities, metrics, targets, and governance practices of thousands of issuers.

CDP's sub-sovereign data also contain disclosure on thousands of public infrastructure projects both seeking investment and reporting on use of proceeds. CDP's uniform and comparable municipal data assets decision-making to drive impact, sustainability, equity, and resiliency.
