

RSA 'pragmatic' on product review as NIG acquisition completes

By Harry Curtis

01 May 2024

Indicative reading time: 5 minutes

RSA intends to “move at pace” and make strides towards going to market with a single set of products by the end of this year following its acquisition with NIG and FarmWeb, Sonya Bryson has told Insurance Post.

Bryson, pictured, formerly managing director at NIG, officially assumes the role of commercial lines managing director at RSA today (1 May) as the combination of the two businesses comes to fruition.

D

---

Copyright Infopro Digital Limited. All rights reserved.

You may share this content using our article tools. Printing this content is for the sole use of the Authorised User (named subscriber), as outlined in our terms and conditions - <https://www.infopro-insight.com/terms-conditions/insight-subscriptions/>

If you would like to purchase additional rights please email info@postonline.co.uk

Registration form with fields for First name, Surname, Job title, Business email, Password, and a checkbox for terms and conditions. Includes a SUBMIT button.

First name

Surname

Job title

Business email

This address will be used to create your account

Password

Show password

By submitting my information, I agree to the Infopro Digital Privacy Policy and Terms and Conditions.

SUBMIT