

FoundationOne® Liquid Mobile Phlebotomy Program

Information for Physicians

If you have opted to use FoundationOne Liquid—the next-generation blood-based genomic profiling assay from Foundation Medicine®—you may already appreciate the ease of a blood draw over a tissue biopsy. However, we recognize that getting a sample for each of your patients on-site may not be possible for all hospitals and practices. To remove this barrier, Foundation Medicine is pleased to offer in-home blood draws with mobile phlebotomy to support broader access to FoundationOne Liquid.

What can my patient expect from mobile phlebotomy?

Once Foundation Medicine receives the test requisition form indicating your request for mobile phlebotomy, we will contact your patient to schedule an appointment with one of our mobile phlebotomy partners. The licensed phlebotomist assigned to the case will visit the patient's home, procure a sample, and send the sample overnight to Foundation Medicine's laboratory in Cambridge, Massachusetts for analysis.

What patients are eligible for mobile phlebotomy?

- Your patient lives far from your hospital or practice
- Your patient does not have access to a draw site affiliated with your hospital or practice
- Your patient is too sick to travel to a draw site
- You do not have an in-office phlebotomist

Is there a fee associated with mobile phlebotomy services provided by Foundation Medicine?
