

These 4 tips will make open enrollment way easier this year

Presented by Nationwide®

Stressed out by open enrollment? You're not alone. Nearly 1 in 4 employees would rather clean their toilets than research their benefits.¹

Don't rush. 57% of employees spend less than half an hour choosing their benefits.²

Do take your time. The benefits you choose (or don't choose) are what you'll have all year.

Don't be a passive enroller. 93% of employees choose the same benefits year after year.²

Do make conscious choices. There may be new or updated benefit options that are a better fit.

Don't ignore communications.

Only 34% of employees say they pay attention to benefits info.³

Do pay attention. 54% of employees estimate they waste up to $750 each year because of mistakes they make during open enrollment.²

Don't forget about your other family members—including the four-legged ones.
